GEN. DENHARDT SLAIN IN FEUD

INDIANAN CALLS BLACK SILENCE A MORAL FRAUD

Rep. Pettengill Vows Ouster Vote.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Charging that Justice Hugo L. Black won his senate confirmation by "moral fraud" in remaining silent on the allegations that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan, Representative Samuel B. Pettengill [D., Ind.] said today he would vote to impeach the Alabaman.

"From what I know of the feeling of other members of congress I am sure that this movement will not be allowed to die out, and congressmen will have to face it next session," Mr. Pettengill declared.

Reflects Rising Sentiment.

The statement of the Indiana legislator reflected increasing demands of house members for the impeachment of Justice Black unless he voluntarily resigns or can prove that he was never a member of the klan.

Representative John J. O'Connor [D., N. Y.], chairman of the powerful rules committee, has been canvassing members of the house and the responses so far received are said to be overwhelmingly in favor of impeachment. O'Connor may make public the results of his poll tomorrow, his office stated.

Representative Pettengill said that members of the senate voted for the confirmation of Justice Black despite the klan allegations at the time only because Senator John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.] assured them privately that his colleague was not a member of the hooded order.

"If he did not correctly state the facts," said Mr. Pettengill, "Mr. Black, in remaining silent, won confirmation by a sort of moral fraud which, in my judgment, disqualifies him for the Supreme court. Senator Bankhead's statement was relied upon by many senators, such as Clark of Missouri, Van Nuys of Indiana, Wagner of New York, and others, and I know that none of these men would have voted for him except for this assurance.

Quit or Disprove.

"Mr. Black owes a duty to these men, as well as the nation, either to admit or show beyond question that he is not a member of the klan and does not believe in its racial and religious intolerance. If he does not clear himself of these charges others should clear the court of him.

"I do not wish to prejudge the case, and Mr. Black is entitled to be heard. But if it is true that he is a member of the klan I do not see how he can be faithful to the oath of that organization and at the same time do equal justice to every American, irrespective of creed, race, or color."

Since the publication a week ago of evidence showing that he accepted a lifetime membership in the klan in September, 1926, after "resigning" for political reasons when he was running for the senate earlier that year, Black has secluded himself from reporters in London and refused to affirm or deny the charges.

Hughes Returns Today.

Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes will return from his vacation tomorrow in preparation for the annual judicial conference with the presiding judges of the United States Circuit Courts of Appeals, beginning Thursday, and it is possible that he and other justices arriving during the week will discuss the Black case. Albert Levitt, former special assistant attorney general under the Roosevelt administration, has filed a plea to challenge Black's appointment and confirmation on the ground that the passage of the voluntary retirement act made him constitutionally ineligible.

The court is not expected to rule on the Levitt motion, challenging Black's right to sit on the bench, until Oct. 11, since the first day is customarily given over to oral motions and the admission of young lawyers to the bar. During the week of Oct. 4 the justices will hold conferences on the accumulation of petitions for review in some 350 cases.

There is widespread speculation in Washington as to whether Black will take his seat on the bench on the opening day or await the court's disposition of the Levitt suit. A high administration official has declared that President Roosevelt will demand Black's resignation, unless he steps aside voluntarily, but the President will be away from Washington on his western trip when Black returns from Europe and when the court convenes.

3 BROTHERS OF DEAD FIANCEE TAKE REVENGE

Shelbyville, Ky., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Brig. Gen. Henry Denhardt, whose trial for the murder of his fiancée, Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor, resulted in a mistrial last May, was shot and killed on the steps of the Armstrong hotel here tonight. The killers were three brothers of Mrs. Taylor—Roy, Jack and Dr. E. S. Garr, all of La Grange, Ky.

Denhardt, who was free on bond, and his attorney, Rodes K. Myers, had been conferring in the hotel during the evening about the retrial, which was to have started in New Castle tomorrow morning. Shortly before 10 p. m. they left and went to a nearby restaurant for beer.

On their return, just as they reached the steps of the hotel, the three Garrs stepped from the shadows at the east side of the building and ran close to the general.

Two Brothers Do Firing.

Two of them carried pistols. Without hesitation they pumped seven bullets into the body of the general. He fell dead. Attorney Myers fled across the street with his hands in the air.

As the spectators along Main street closed in toward the scene the Garrs lowered their pistols, first making sure they had finished the man they hated. They made no resistance when Policemen Jep Tracy and Clode Hammond, who had seen the dramatic affair from a short distance, demanded their weapons and announced they were under arrest.

Although the policemen said that two pistols had been used in the shooting, Roy Garr informed Tracy calmly that he alone was the killer. The three brothers were locked up in the county jail.

Attorney Myers said the shooting started as the Garrs approached him and the general. He said he heard Roy Garr shout as Denhardt fell: "You are the —— —— who killed my sister and I am going to kill you." He added that Roy continued to fire, as though in a frenzy, even after the general fell.

General Warned by Lawyer.

Howard Flood, assistant manager of the Armstrong hotel, and son of Harry Flood, the owner, gave a graphic description of the shooting. He was standing inside the hotel entrance when he saw Gen. Denhardt and Attorney Myers walk across the street to the hotel. Then he saw the lawyer point down the street.

"The lawyer shouted to Gen. Denhardt: 'There's the Garr brothers!'" said Flood. "Then he ran down the street away from them. Gen. Denhardt came running toward the hotel. I ran toward the door which he was approaching.

"Just as he reached the hotel steps, not more than five feet from the door, the Garr boys came upon him. They commenced firing. The general fell down in a heap, and I presume some one still kept firing at him. He was shot six or seven times. One shot entered his heart."

Wealthy Military Leader.

The Denhardt case has been for months a cause célèbre in Kentucky. The general, wealthy possessor of an 800 acre estate in Oldham county, was a former adjutant general of Kentucky. Tall, bald, and of commanding figure, he was noted for his quarrelsome disposition.

At La Grange, county seat of Oldham county, he met the beautiful Mrs. Taylor in June, 1936. She was the owner of a laundry business. A romance developed between the widow, who was in her 40s, and the general, who was 61 last March.

On Nov. 6, 1936, Mrs. Taylor was shot to death on a lonely road in Henry county, which is north of Shelby county and east of Oldham county. The circumstances were peculiar. She and the general had left La Grange in his car and ridden out into the lonelier country several miles from New Castle, county seat of Henry.

Story Told by General.

The general asserted a belief his fiancée had committed suicide. She had left his car, he said, which had stalled, and had walked back along the road to see if she could find a

3 Chicagoans Shot at Target Practice in Day

Two policemen and a son of the clerk of the Illinois Supreme court were shot in three separate target practice accidents yesterday. Earlier in the day a coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death in a similar shooting which occurred Sunday.

The policemen are Martin Larsen, 33 years old, 7300 Lafayette avenue, an instructor at the Central police station pistol range, and Thomas J. Murray, 59, 5631 North Kimball avenue, attached to the Sheffield avenue station. The youth who was wounded is Darrel Bloch, 16, of 9525 Oakley avenue, son of Adam F. Bloch, Supreme court clerk.

Wounded in Eye.

Policeman Larsen was wounded in the right eye when a fragment of a bullet ricocheted from a target in the Central station at 11th and State streets. The injury was treated by Dr. Benjamin Feinstein, police surgeon. He said the policeman's sight is not endangered.

Policeman Murray was shot in the right side and one of his ribs was chipped by a bullet which ricocheted from the ceiling in the pistol range in the basement of the Summerdale police station. He was placing his gun to its holster when the bullet was discharged. He was taken to Swedish Covenant hospital.

Youth Shot in Thigh.

Young Bloch shot himself in the right thigh with a .22 caliber rifle as he was engaged in target practice with two companions in a yard at 9600 South Hoyne avenue. He was taken to the Englewood hospital.

The accidental death verdict was returned at an inquest into the fatal shooting of Herbert Nevins, 17, of 1375 East 57th street. Nevins, a pressman for the University of Chicago press, was shot by Miss Esther Lewis, 19, of 1548 East 65th street when he suddenly arose from a kneeling position as the two were practicing near 110th street and the Willow Springs road.

38 Million in Income Tax Paid in 3 Weeks

Income tax collections for 26 northern Illinois counties, including Cook, between Sept. 1 and Sept. 20 totaled $38,598,153.85, in contrast to $20,636,273.62 for the corresponding period last year, according to final figures for the third quarterly instalment sent to Washington yesterday by Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue.

A FOX TERRIER IS TOO FOXY, SO HIS MASTER IS IN JOLIET LOCKUP

Boots, a wriggling but honest fox terrier, was in deep disgrace last night. He betrayed his master. And all because he could not tell a lie.

Boots was minding his own business near his home at 503½ South Des Plaines street in Joliet yesterday when John Maxwell, city dog tax collector, came along. Mr. Maxwell noticed Boots was wearing a license tag that had been reported stolen.

"Where do you live?" he asked, and Boots surprised Mr. Maxwell by leading him right to Edward Murphy's door. And that's why Mr. Murphy who owns Boots, was in the Joliet lockup and why Boots was in disgrace.

POLICE (THE OLD MEANIES) TAKE PAUL'S TOY GUN

Paul Chasteen, 32 years old, a hospital chef, is 6 feet 5 inches tall and weighs 230 pounds. He's fond of toy pistols, but he's serious about them.

Last night he stopped Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jones, 3846 Ellis avenue, in their car at Oakenwald avenue and 46th street. His size was enough to awe them, but when he waved a toy pistol at them [they didn't know it was a toy] they tumbled out of their car.

Chasteen drove their car to 47th street and Cottage Grove avenue, where he was stopped by Sergt. Louis Schilling and a Hyde Park police squad, who carried real pistols. They took his toy pistol, then went to his room at 4460 Oakenwald avenue and found another one. Paul was told that for a time, at least, he probably will have different playthings. In 1930 he was sentenced to five years in the Wisconsin state prison at Waupun for robbery.

Four Shot as Soviet Purge Hits Grain Elevator Stafs

MOSCOW, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Four persons were executed by firing squads and six imprisoned today in the drive against anti-soviet "wreckers" which caught grain elevator crews at Ordjonikidze, in the Caucasus. Nine men faced similar charges in trials opened at Moscow. The new cases involve thefts of grain and the "wilful infection" of stored grain by mixing spoiled with good and moist with dry, particularly damaging to seed grain.

Dam Built by WPA Caves In; Cost 1½ Million

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Miscalculations were blamed today for the collapse of a section of the huge Wyandotte county lake dam, built under the Works Progress administration program at a cost of $1,500,000.

It was believed the project may be a total loss, for the damage was so great the rebuilding cost, it was estimated, will approach the original outlay for the entire dam.

With its completion expected next week, an 800 foot strip in the center of the 1,445 foot wall gave way last night. The section, about 80 feet wide at the top, dropped 50 feet at its lowest point.

The back side of the vast structure, which was weighted with more than 300,000 cubic yards of rock, squashed outward and let the top section fall. It was apparent the stone on the rear slopes was too heavy for the base underneath.

Warning Last Year.

A warning of the present slide was given in May, 1936, when engineers discovered that what they had believed was a blue shale ledge under the dam was merely blue mud which would be slippery under water.

Until that time borings taken to sound the base that was to carry a load estimated at 2⅓ million tons had been made only to a shallow depth.

In an effort to correct this oversight, sheet piling was driven to bed rock at an extra cost of $75,000. With this virtual steel wall stretching almost the full length of the dam it was hoped the structure would remain upright and hold back enough water to fill the 333 acre lake it was designed to create.

Suggest Different Style.

But even with this help the load was too heavy and today engineers stood around dismally gazing at the destruction. Many of them agreed it would be inadvisable to attempt to rebuild the dam on the same site.

However, some opinions were advanced that the type of structure could be changed and a horseshoe dam built, using a part of the present wreckage as it stands.

H. L. Reppart, chief engineer for the WPA in Kansas, reached the scene this afternoon. He concurred in the belief the collapse was caused by "just too much weight for the base beneath."

Hull Advocates Middle Path in World Affairs

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—To avoid another world war such as the great conflagration of twenty years ago the United States must steer a middle course of enlightened nationalism between the shoals of utter isolation on the one hand and foreign entanglement on the other, Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared tonight in bringing a message from President Roosevelt to the annual convention of the American Legion.

Secretary Hull spoke of his fears for world peace and included a veiled criticism of Nazi propagandists in this country. He spoke before Legion officials, governors of several states, senators, mayors and other dignitaries at a banquet given by Harry W. Colmery, retiring national commander of the Legion.

Recalls Blighted Hopes.

Hull recalled the bright hopes of the Legionnaires at the time of the armistice when they believed the world was entering upon a new era and that the old discords, creeds and bigotries had been destroyed for all time. But these hopes have turned to ashes, he said.

"We see that in all too many sections of the world the standard of living is being lowered, democracy is being supplanted by other types of government, trade is being stifled, fears and suspicions are rampant, and even treaties—the most solemn interchanges of nations' promises—are being torn to shreds," Hull declared.

In this dark world he painted, the secretary asserted peace is the only goal for this country. Peace, he said, is not only the goal of the idealist but is the corner stone of international self-preservation.

Discusses Future Policy.

Then Secretary Hull turned to a consideration of the future policy of the United States.

"One extreme would be utter isolation, which would mean closing our eyes to the realities of the world today and assuming, like the courtiers of King Canute, that the rising tide of international anarchy can be stopped before it reaches us," he asserted. "The other extreme would be a kind of internationalism, which would mean abdicating our independence of judgment, abandoning our traditional policy of nonentanglement and being drawn into the rivalries and disputes of other nations.

"Neither of these extremes offers us a solution. We must draw the best from each and follow a middle course. This I have termed enlightened nationalism."

Secretary Hull pointed out that this nation has taken part in every effort for disarmament and is negotiating treaties designed to break down trade barriers.

Praises Americanism Program.

He cited these as examples of how the United States is seeking normal international intercourse "when nations are forgetting their pledged word in the pursuit of contrary policies."

Hull's reference to Nazi propaganda

21 JAP PLANES BOMB CANTON; NANKING RAIDED

U. S. Embassy Staf Quits Capital.

BULLETIN.

HONGKONG, Sept. 21 (Tuesday).—(AP)—Twenty-one Japanese planes showered bombs on Canton, China's southern metropolis, in a raid early today. The bombardment lasted an hour and a half. Reports from Canton said Chinese pursuit planes took the air to fight the raiders and "shot down eight Japanese ships." Many civilians were killed by the bombs.

BULLETIN.

NANKING, Sept. 21 (Tuesday).—(AP)—The Japanese ultimatum to foreigners to flee the city or face death at the hands of air raiders expired at noon today. Chinese tuned up fast fighting craft, and human and mechanical observers scanned the sky with eyes and ears for the first approach of bombing squadrons.

NANKING, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Nelson T. Johnson, United States ambassador to China, and his staf evacuated the embassy tonight to take refuge from Japanese air bombs aboard an American gunboat in the Yangtze river.

Johnson reluctantly transferred the embassy to temporary quarters aboard the U. S. S. Luzon after Japan's navy had warned that Japan intends to devastate the Chinese capital. All other foreign embassies remained, at least temporarily.

Evacuation of the United States embassy staf began after the third Japanese air raid on this city of more than 1,000,000 population within two days.

40 Civilians Killed.

The raid, in which 40 homes were demolished and at least 40 civilians were killed, beat Japan's own deadline of noon Tuesday, set in a warning to Americans and other foreigners to flee Nanking.

Vice Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commander in chief of the Japanese third fleet in Chinese waters, had advised foreigners that Japan would launch a large scale bombardment of Nanking at that time.

Hasegawa's warning urged that United States and other foreign warships move "at least 11 miles upstream." Japanese officials said Japan would not accept responsibility for loss of foreign life.

Johnson supervised hurried packing of embassy documents and material preparatory to moving up the Yangtze to Wuhu, about fifty miles from Nanking.

"Not Deserting," Envoy Says.

"I am too unhappy to speak," he said. "For the first time in thirty years of service I am forced to leave my post, but I am doing it under instructions from Washington. I cannot risk the lives of the members of my loyal staf.

"I am not deserting. I hope to return to Nanking by automobile during my enforced absence.

"Furthermore, the U. S. S. Luzon or U. S. S. Guam [another American patrol boat at Nanking], which also is going to Wuhu, can reach Nanking within a few hours if an emergency requires."

18 Americans Remain.

Of Nanking's peacetime American population of about 230, only eighteen will have remained, none of them children and only four women. All others will have been moved to safety up the river by the time Japan's deadline arrives.

The decision to move the United States embassy staf from danger came after Ambassador Johnson conferred lengthily this morning with his subordinates while the roar of Japanese air bombs dinned across the city. The final decision was deferred until the last moment.

The embassy staf includes six United States foreign service officers, an American clerk and 13 Chinese employés. The main embassy is maintained at Peiping, the former capital of China.

[State department officials at Washington, D. C., emphasized that the staf's removal did not mean that the embassy was abandoned but only that it was temporarily transferred afloat.]

Other Evacuations Recalled.

In the only similar incidents in recent United States history the American minister to Ethiopia withdrew temporarily from his Addis Ababa legation during the Italian campaign in Ethiopia, and at present the United States embassy in Spain is at Valencia because of the peril at Madrid. Ambassador Claude G. Bowers left Madrid for France in August, 1936.

Some Nanking officials expressed resentment at Johnson's decision, contending that he should have remained as a gesture of loyalty and sympathy for China's cause in the conflict with Japan.

The United States embassy acted alone. British, Russian, German and Italian officials stayed. British and French naval commanders warned the Japanese that they would be held to strict account for any loss of life or property damage suffered by their nationals. Neither Germany nor Russia has warships here.

U. S. Admiral Warns Japan.

Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander-in-chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, advised the Japanese that the Luzon and Guam would protect American lives and property. In a note to Hasegawa, he requested the Japanese admiral to instruct his raiders to "avoid" United States vessels at Nanking, declaring it was "necessary for American warcraft to be there."

French and British naval commanders also said their warships would stay in the Yangtze off Nanking so long as their embassies remained open or their national needed protection.

For three hours, droves of Japanese planes came over Nanking in relays, bombing the city almost continuously and inflicting the heaviest damage of any bombardment of the capital in the undeclared war.

Flyers Miss Target.

The systematic daylight raid began when a squadron of six Japanese bombers, flying in a close wedge, dove to about 3,500 feet over the center of the city and loosed a rain of explosives.

Apparently, their objective was the headquarters of the central Chinese government. But they missed. Five bombs demolished 40 dwellings, killing 40 civilians and wounding an unknown number of others. The ruins of the flimsy homes burst into flame.

When the first airmen disappeared others arrived in greater numbers, fast pursuit ships darting among massive bombers which dropped projectiles on the approaches to the capital. Its defense suffered a terific pounding.

BOY'S PARACHUTE WORKS ALL RIGHT UNTIL HE LANDS

A couple of serious youngsters, Theodore Flood, 6 years old, 519 West 59th street, and Danny Coffman, also 6, of 5907 Parnell avenue, decided yesterday they would not be soldiers, nor cowboys, nor even policemen.

"We'll be parachute jumpers," they agreed.

They went to Danny's Home and borrowed a blanket. They tied guy ropes to it, and pretty soon had fashioned what they considered a mighty fine parachute. They tested it with bricks from the 10 foot high front porch of the Coffman home.

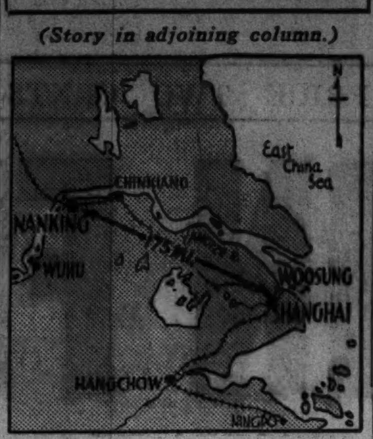
The bricks floated down nicely. Thereupon Danny leaped from the 10 foot porch. The parachute worked. He tried it successfully again. Then Theodore tried. It worked the first time. The second time it didn't. Theodore is now in the German Deaconess hospital suffering from a fracture of the right thigh. "But I'll be a parachute jumper yet," he vowed as he entered the hospital.

Osgood Perkins, Actor, Dies After Play Opens

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Osgood Perkins, stage and screen actor, died early today a few hours after the opening performance of "Susan and God," in which he was featured with Gertrude Lawrence. He was 45 years old. The play was starting a week's run here before being taken to Broadway. Perkins was found dead in the bathroom of his hotel suite. Physicians said he apparently died of heart disease.

Nanking Bombed Again

(Story in adjoining column.)



Japanese planes yesterday bombed Nanking for the third time in two days, killing 40 civilians. United States embassy evacuates China's capital and staf boards gunboat for Wuhu, 50 miles upstream. Heavy line indicates airline distance between Shanghai and Nanking, which the Japanese have threatened to destroy. Huge aerial offensive is due to start today.

U. S. TO ATTEND LEAGUE PARLEY ON ORIENT WAR

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The state department announced today that the United States would be represented by Leland Harrison, minister to Switzerland, on the league of nations' advisory committee which convenes at Geneva tomorrow to consider the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Mr. Harrison will participate in the deliberations of the advisory committee without a vote, and in the same capacity in which Hugh Wilson, former minister to Switzerland, represented the United States when the league's committee investigated the Japanese seizure of Manchuria in March, 1933, according to the announcement.

The state department's announcement said this government felt constrained, lest there be any misunderstanding of its position, to observe "that it cannot take upon itself those responsibilities which devolve, from the fact of their membership, upon members of the league."

FIGHTING DRIVES A CHINESE PUPIL BACK TO CHICAGO

Jack Wong.

Jack Wong, 12 years old, son of a Chinese father and an American mother, returned to Chicago yesterday after a year of schooling in war-torn China His mother, Mrs. Thomas Wong, is proprietor of a restaurant at 105 East 111th street. Jack was sent to Canton under the care of a nephew of his mother, so that he could spend several years learning the Chinese language. Then the war began, and three weeks ago the boy left Canton alone. Soon afterward the school was bombed. On his way to Hongkong, Jack watched the maneuvers of Japanese airplanes. After leaving Hongkong aboard the steamship President McKinley, he landed at Seattle.

Mikado Promotes Spirits of 2 Officers to Generals

TOKIO, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Emperor Hirohito has promoted the spirits of two officers killed in action in North China to be major generals. The rank was awarded posthumously to Col. Hatsuji Kuranaga and Col. Danjo Ohbu.

JAPANESE TANKS NEAR NORTHERN BASE OF CHINESE

Invaders Take Two Towns on Peiping Front.

PEIPING, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Japanese troops in tanks and armored trains advanced tonight to within 15 miles of Paotingfu, important Chinese stronghold in North China.

Steadily driving detachments of stubborn Chinese defenders down the Peiping-Hankow railway, Japanese occupied the towns of Kiucheng and Ansuhsien in Hopei province.

One of the major engagements of the North China war, probably determining the outcome of that conflict, appeared shaping up at Paotingfu where large numbers of Chinese soldiers are entrenched.

Japanese military authorities indicated that those entrenchments and a vast part of central China would be subjected to extensive air bombing attacks to shatter Chinese resistance.

Hasten Defense Works.

Most of the Chinese actions so far have been skirmishes to stay the Japanese advance and give time for the completion of the defense works.

On behalf of the army, the Japanese embassy notified the British and other foreign embassies that all foreign residents north of the Lunghai railroad should display flags prominently on their property. The United States embassy had not yet received such a warning.

The Lunghai railroad is the important east-west trunk line through central China. It runs from Haichow on the coast, south of Paotingfu, deep into the interior, paralleling the Chinese-Japanese battlefront.

The Japanese warned that any property owned by foreigners, but used by Chinese for military purposes, would be in danger of attack as though it were Chinese.

Planes Raid Jap Airport.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Chinese bombing planes dodged anti-air craft shells tonight in a new raid on the Japanese military airfield in Shanghai's Yangtzepoo sector. Several Chinese flyers dived to low altitudes to drop their explosives but no planes, apparently, were shot down.

Health officials reported cholera was spreading in the foreign areas, with 1,015 cases and 120 deaths thus far.

DEMAND DEATH BE PENALTY FOR 5 IN PRISON BREAK

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Death in California's lethal gas chamber will be demanded for five Folsom convicts who tried an abortive prison break in which a guard and two convicts were killed and eight men wounded Sunday.

District Attorney Otis D. Babcock issued a call today for the Sacramento county grand jury to meet Wednesday. He said he would ask the jurors to indict the five on first degree murder charges.

The condition of Warden Clarence Larkin, slashed twelve times by the convicts, was described as critical. Hospital attendants said the condition of W. J. Ryan, captain of the guard, wounded six times by convicts' knives, was fair.

J. HALL PAXTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 21 [Tuesday].—J. Hall Paxton of Galesburg, Ill., decided to remain at Nanking and keep the American flag flying while members of the United States embassy at China's capital evacuated and boarded gunboats to escape Japanese air raids, it was disclosed today.

Paxton, who is 36 years old, is second secretary of the embassy and a graduate of Yale university. He remained at Nanking in 1927 when the United States consulate and the American community were attacked by alleged communist troops. At that time he lived four months aboard a gunboat after the consulate was wrecked.

COAST IS CLEAR! CITY'S HAY FEVER REFUGEES TOLD

"All is forgiven—come home." This comforting message went yesterday to hay fever victims who have sought refuge in the north woods while ragweed pollen, principal cause of the sneezing affliction, sifted over the city.

O. C. Durham, botanist of the Abbott laboratories of North Chicago, reported the pollen count Sunday fell off to two grains per cubic yard of air It was 100 on Saturday—because of the worst pollen-disturbing wind of the season—and 40 on Friday.

Although real Indian summer weather doesn't set in until October, Forecaster J. R. Lloyd said the city would enjoy a touch of it today. The temperature, he said, should remain in the low seventies. Tommorrow will be somewhat cooler.

BERLIN 'AIR RAID' STARTS WEEK OF WAR MANEUVERS

Attackers Beaten; City Is "Blacked Out."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—Germany's week of war maneuvers was opened spectacularly in Berlin this morning when wave after wave of "red" enemy planes swept down on the capital. Forcing their way to the heart of Berlin, the planes "bombed" the Wilhelmstrasse and also created imaginary havoc in the industrial area of west Berlin.

However, the defending "blue" forces claimed that the enemy suffered such heavy losses that Berlin can be considered adequately protected against genuine attacks from the air.

"Lights Out" at Night.

The approach of the "red" planes was signaled at 8:20 a. m. Instantly powerful sirens warned the populace. From the "blue" airports squadron after squadron of pursuit planes went up to meet the invaders.

The general public implicitly obeyed instructions. The Potsdamerplatz—great square in the heart of the city—was cleared of all life within two minutes and twenty-seconds as everybody rushed into shelters to stay for thirty-nine minutes.

Tonight was the first of seven successive "blackouts" and Berlin was a city of ghosts.

Secret Maneuvers in North.

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Watched by Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, the German army today began a week of the greatest war maneuvers since the world war. Troops were deployed with utmost secrecy through the northern provinces of Mecklenburg and Pomerania.

BIDS BERLIN TO SHOW 'WAVE OF JUBILATION' TO GREET MUSSOLINI

BERLIN, Sept. 20. — (AP) — Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels today exhorted Berlin's 4,000,000 inhabitants to participate in a "great wave of jubilation" when Premier Mussolini of Italy comes here for an official visit. Beginning next Monday Il Duce will spend three days in the capital. Tuesday, Sept. 28, has been declared an official holiday and all business will be suspended in honor of the Italian dictator.

Berlin's population, proclaimed Goebbels, "welcomes with proud satisfaction" the momentous meeting of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Mussolini, "whose historic achievements are of unique significance for the present and future."

The high point of the holiday will be a great rally at which both Hitler and Mussolini will speak.

CEDRIC HOWLAND OF PEORIA WILL HEAD TEMPLARS

Other Illinois officers elected are Frank I. Hooper, River Forest, deputy grand commander; Charles Toothe, Galesburg, grand generalissimo; Robert Y. Wallace, Elgin, grand captain general; David B. Finney, Petersburg grand senior warden; James N. Finn, Zion, grand junior warden; Warren A. MacCollum, Rockford, grand standard bearer; Harold D. Hayes, Chicago, grand sword bearer; Andrew M. Uhl, Belleville, grand warden; John Levett, Chicago, grand color bearer; Francis C. Brewer, Peoria, grand prelate, Stuart E. Pierson, Carrollton, grand treasurer; Edward A. Glad, Chicago grand recorder; Richard J. Howells, Streator, grand captain of the guard.

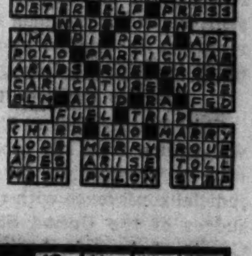
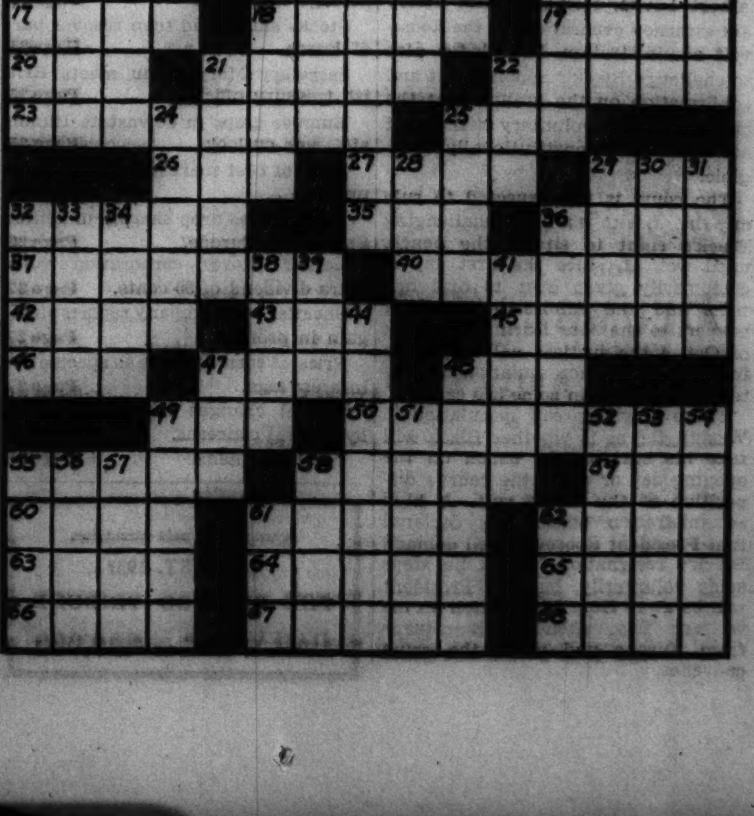
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





BUTLER'S STORY LIVENS JOYCE DIVORCE FIGHT

Attorneys for James Stanley Joyce, lumber millionaire who is opposing his wife's eight year old suit for divorce, have filed a deposition in Circuit court through which they seek to show that Mrs. Nelle M. Joyce enjoyed varied friendships and entertainment in her husband's sumptuous apartment at 1540 Lake Shore drive, and offered what they claim to be intimate details of misconduct.

J. S. Joyce.

The story of happenings in the Joyce home as told by Walter Nohl, the butler employed by the couple in 1928, the year before the suit was filed, was revealed yesterday.

Cruelty Is Wife's Charge.

Mrs. Joyce's suit, filed on Aug. 8, 1929, charged that her husband, who was the third of the millionaire mates of Peggy Hopkins Joyce, was cruel. She detailed instances upon which she was beaten, kicked and burned in Paris, Florida, and Chicago. Joyce charged that Mrs. Joyce never legally was his wife because she never divorced her second husband, Dr. Ramon M. Vale.

At the moment, however, their suit is not on the active calendar of the court. It was pigeonholed after Mrs. Joyce, in 1930, won a temporary decree awarding her $500 a month alimony pending a final disposition of the case. Since that time she has lived in New York City while her husband retained his Lake Shore drive rooms.

Butler Tells Story Bluntly.

The deposition was taken in the law offices of Brundage, Landon & Holt on July 16.

He told his story under the questioning of Benson Landon, attorney for Joyce. Nohl's first words established that he had been employed as butler for the Joyces—his wife Paula became their cook at the same time—in August, 1928. He described his duties, and then according to the transcript of the deposition came the following questions and answers:

Q. Did Mrs. Joyce have any visitors? A. Yes.

Q. Was one an actor? A. Yes.

Q. How often did he visit her? A. Almost every day for a time.

Q. Did you see both of them in the library? A. Yes.

Questions Objected To.

At this point Attorney John D. Black, counsel for Mrs. Joyce, entered an objection, asserting that Landon was leading the witness.

Q. On what occasions did you see them in the library? A. One time between December 10 and December 15, 1928.

Q. What time did the actor arrive on that occasion? A. About 4 p. m.

Q. Was Mr. Joyce at home? A. No, I think he was away from the city on a trip.

Q. How was Mrs. Joyce dressed? A. You call it negligee, I think.

Q. When you saw them together in the library where was Mrs. Joyce? A. She was lying on the sofa.

Q. Where was the actor? A. He was on the sofa, too.

Q. What were they doing?

Astonished, He Says.

Nohl then stated he was astonished at what he saw. He said he was neither seen nor heard, and added that he quickly departed.

But Attorney Landon was not through. The questioning continued.

Q. Did you again see Mrs. Joyce in the library on that day? A. Yes. I went back to the library about three hours later. She was with a man.

Q. Was it the actor? A. No. This was a man with long hair.

Q. Where were they? A. She stood with her back to a desk, the man stood with his face against hers.

Q. In May, 1920, did you get a telephone call from Mrs. Joyce? A. Yes.

Q. What did she say? A. "Paul is coming for a bottle of liquor. Please give it to him."

Q.—Was Paul the actor? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did he get the bottle? A.—Yes, he got it, and said to me, "O, Walter, if only the world keeps going like this."

Butler Identifies Companion.

At this point Nohl identified Paul as Paul Knudson or Knudsen, who was singing in the musical show, "Sweet Adeline," then playing here. Nohl said he was not able to identify the long haired man.

But returning to the relationship between Mrs. Joyce and Knudson, Attorney Landon brought out that Nohl had admitted the actor for dinner at his mistress' command on several nights. Usually he went to the theater immediately afterward. Once, however, he remained with her, he said.

Q.—What time did you usually retire for the night? A.—Between 3 and 4 a. m.

Q.—Did you ever see Mrs. Joyce and the actor together at that hour? A.—Yes.

Q.—Where was Mr. Joyce? A.—Down south on a trip.

Q.—When you got up in the morning did you see them? A.—I saw them once. I saw him in the hallway; Mrs. Joyce was pushing him out the door.

Tells of Occasional Quarrels.

Nohl related that Mrs. Joyce had done relatively little drinking during the first three months he was employed as butler, but in November she began to be intoxicated "at least three times a week." There were occasional quarrels between his master and mistress, culminating in a scene which occurred in May, 1929, he declared.

Mrs. Joyce telephoned him from outside the apartment to give a message to Mr. Joyce that she would not be home for dinner, the deposition said. The next morning at 3 o'clock the bell in his rooms began buzzing, the signal indicating the summons had come from Mrs. Joyces' room, Nohl said.

Q.—Did you answer the call? A.—Yes. She was calling, "Walter, Walter, help me, help me." Mr. Joyce met me and told me to go back to my quarters. Before I turned to go back I saw Mrs. Joyce get ahold of Mr. Joyce's suspenders with one hand and sock him in the face. She said to him: "You dirty skunk."

Q.—How long did Mrs. Joyce's heavy drinking continue? A.—From November, 1928, until June, 1929. [It was in June that Mrs. Joyce left the apartment in the final estrangement.]

PARALYSIS CASES INCREASE; DELAY SCHOOL ACTION

18 Cases and 1 Death in 48 Hours.

LESSON BROADCASTS.

The schedule for Tuesday's lesson broadcasts for Chicago elementary school pupils, with stations, times, and subjects listed according to grades, appears in this edition with the other radio programs on page 14.

Health authorities refrained yesterday from considering a date for the reopening of elementary schools due to a week-end increase in the number of infantile paralysis cases after a drop last week had given rise to hope that the peak of the outbreak had been passed.

In the 48 hours ending yesterday at 8 a. m. Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, received reports of 18 cases and another death, the 22d in Chicago. Last Friday there were 7 cases and 4 each on the two previous days.

Five Deaths in Week.

During the week ending Sunday night the report showed a total of 45 new cases and 5 deaths. In the preceding week there were 62 cases and 2 deaths. In the last three days of last week, however, there were 25 cases, contrasted with 14 in the same period of the week before.

"On the basis of today's figures," Dr. Bundesen declared, "we cannot issue an order permitting grade schools to reopen. We will know better by tomorrow's count than by today's just how we stand."

George F. Cassells, assistant superintendent in charge of high schools, said he hoped to have the enrollment normal by tomorrow. The enrollment yesterday, on the third day since the high schools were permitted to open, was 122,589, compared with 127,602 on the third day last year.

Bundesen's Action Supported.

Dr. Bundesen's action in refusing to permit the schools to open because of the larger number of infantile paralysis cases was supported yesterday by Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States.

In a letter to Mrs. Paul H. Hahn, of the Women's City Club of Chicago, Dr. Parran declared that on several occasions the federal public health service had recommended that schools be closed during infantile paralysis outbreaks. Local conditions always determine the wisest course to pursue, he said.

Teachers began a series of meetings yesterday at elementary school auditoriums, under the direction of Miss Minnie E. Fallon, assistant superintendent. The meetings are to acquaint the teachers with the objectives sought during the school year.

Examination to Be Given.

Other teachers also began compiling examinations to be given students on their return to school. These are to test the efficacy of the radio classroom lectures being given daily to keep the children from falling behind in their work, and will indicate what benefits may be expected from including the radio as a part of the regular system of public education.

Free from any new infantile paralysis cases in the last thirteen days, the Berwyn public grade schools reopened yesterday. They were closed to the 4,700 children on Sept. 8, after twelve cases were reported.

Two cases were reported yesterday in Aurora, a high school boy, 16 years old, and a 2½ year old baby. The schools, however, will not be closed. These were the first cases in Aurora.

ABANDONED BABY

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Blanche Cassello, who left baby in Oak Ridge cemetery.

MOTHERS OF TWO DESERTED BABIES BLAME HUSBANDS

Tell of Poverty and Fear Behind Deeds.

Two young mothers, both charged with child abandonment, yesterday told stories of destitution and fear that led them to decide that they could not care for their babies. In both cases the women were separated from their husbands, whom they accused of nonsupport and cruelty.

Mrs. Blanche Cassello, 21 years old, whose two week old baby girl was found Sunday at Oakridge cemetery, was arrested yesterday at her home, 700 South Racine avenue, following an extensive search of hospital birth records by Miss Bernadine Healy, social worker at St. Vincent's orphanage, where both abandoned babies are being cared for.

Blames Her Husband.

Questioned at the state's attorney's office, Mrs. Cassello said that her baby, Nancy Ann, was born Sept. 6 at the county hospital, one day after she stopped work as a WPA clerk. When she was dismissed from the hospital last Saturday her estranged husband, Samuel, 24 years old, met her at the hospital door. He told her that he would not support the baby, and persuaded her to ride out to the cemetery and leave the child where some one might find her.

"We stuffed her in a paper bag, and laid her down" she explained. "My husband said 'c'mon' . . . and I haven't had a moment's rest since we did it."

Mrs. Cassello said she was married when she was 17, and told of frequent quarrels that caused their separation. Her husband was being souhtg yesterday.

Pleads for Her Baby.

In a dramatic hearing yesterday in Domestic Relations court Mrs. Frances Felty, 24 years old, who five days ago abandoned her 15 month old boy in a taxicab because she had no food for him, pleaded for her baby's return.

Mrs. Felty, 1245 North La Salle street, an expectant mother, left her husband, Ivan, 1029 North La Salle street, two weeks ago, she testified, because he would not give her any money for the baby. While she testified, her husband, a WPA worker, stood by protesting.

"I never abused her," he said. "I want to go back and live with her. I love my baby, too."

Judge Eugene Holland continued the case until Sept. 28.

ADMITS BURNING CAR IN FRAUD TO COLLECT $450 IN INSURANCE

Andrew Lundsberg, 21 years old, 6215 North Melvina avenue, admitted yesterday to Assistant State's Attorney Theodore Kucewicz that he burned his car and reported it stolen in an attempt to collect $450 insurance. He confessed after police found that the ignition switch of the car, which was found in ruins near a stone quarry at Grand and Campbell avenue, had not been tampered with. Kucewicz said that he would charge Lundsberg with attempting to obtain money under false pretenses.

Andrew Lundsberg.

Injury Fraud Detection Explained to City Aids

Methods of detecting frauds in personal injury claims were explained to investigators of the city law department yesterday by Fred J. O'Connor of the corporation counsel's trial attorney staf. Mr. O'Connor warned investigators that only by constant vigilance can false claims be kept out of the courts.

GEN. DENHARDT IS KILLED BY KIN OF SLAIN FIANCEE

3 Brothers Shoot Him as Second Trial Opens.

"Soon afterward," said the general, "I heard two shots. I was walking toward a farmhouse near the scene when the second one was fired. It was my intention to ask that a garage be telephoned to send me help. I was at least 300 yards from the spot where the body was found."

This story was scoffed at by the prosecution when he was tried in the spring at New Castle. Evidence was introduced to show that he had been jealous of Mrs. Taylor because of attentions paid her by a young employé of her laundry, Chester Woolfolk; also to show that he was frenzied because Mrs. Taylor's young daughters were trying with hope of success to break off her engagement.

Jury of Farmers Disagrees.

Tests of the general's hands were made by experts in an endeavor to determine whether he had fired a pistol at the time of the killing. At the trial experts differed in their conclusions.

In his closing argument to the jury, Commonwealth's attorney H. B. Kinsolving declared that the general had been drinking. He sought to persuade the jury that Mrs. Taylor had really been shot in the soldier's car, and that the real motive for the crime was his jealousy.

On May 5 the jury, composed of Henry county farmers and business men, reported it was unable to reach an agreement on a verdict and was dismissed by Judge Charles C. Marshall. The time for the second trial was set later.

Throughout the first one the Garr brothers, hate in their eyes, sat in the courtroom. They had made no open threats, so far as is known here, but their friends at La Grange were said to have shaken their heads and predicted that unless the law "did something with Denhardt" the Garr boys would get him.

Veteran of Three Wars.

Veteran of three wars, Gen. Denhardt was heartily disliked over the state. He was regarded as ruthless in his handling of civil populations whenever it was necessary to call out the Kentucky National Guard to quell disturbances.

His home originally was at Bowling Green, Ky. He was city prosecutor there. After the Spanish-American war, in which he served, he was twice county judge of Warren county. In the Mexican expedition of 1916 he served as an officer of the 3d Kentucky infantry.

In the World war he served with distinction and was cited for conspicuous gallantry in the St. Mihiel sector. He was lieutenant governor of Kentucky from 1923 to 1927 and adjutant general from 1931 to 1935. Shortly after becoming adjutant general he was named a reserve brigadier general by the war department.

Awarded Law Degree.

Gen. Denhardt was at one time associated with his brother in the publication of the Bowling Green Times-Journal. He was a graduate of Ogden college at Bowling Green and was awarded a law degree by Cumberland university at Lebanon, Tenn. He was an elder in the Presbyterian church and a member of the Masons, Red Men, and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Gen. Denhardt was divorced from his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Glaze Denhardt of Bowling Green, in 1933 after 32 years of wedlock.

TEAR BOMBS INJURE 14 IN 7 N. Y. MOVIES AND ROUT PATRONS

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Fourteen persons were injured slightly and patrons were routed when tear gas and stench bombs were set off tonight in seven motion picture theaters in Upper Manhattan and the Bronx, apparently by the gang which released the gas fumes in six of these and in sixteen others eight days ago.

The seven theaters are part of a chain involved in a dual union labor dispute. The injured suffered cuts and bruises from the flying glass of the tear gas containers.

DISCHARGE JURY IN TRIAL OF PUPIL FOR AUTO DEATH

Deadlocked after seven hours of deliberation a jury trying Matthew Morrison, 19 years old, 904 Carmen avenue, a high school pupil, on a charge of automobile manslaughter was discharged late last night by Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in Criminal court.

Morrison ran down and killed Louis Carriero, 27 years old, of 541 Noble street, a precinct captain and employé of the county treasurer's office, at Randolph and La Salle streets on May 22 and injured Dan Bellazzo, 25, 1223 Erie street. Three girls were with Morrison. They had been to a high school dance.

After discharging the jury Judge Dunne set Oct. 11 as the date for Morrison's retrial. Morrison is the son of George C. Morrison, a printing company official.

ASK MANDAMUS TO BAR WALKER FROM PENSION

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Difficulties piled up today in front of the drive to win a pension for former Mayor James J. Walker.

It was disclosed that the Civil Service Reform association has applied to Supreme Court Justice Samuel Rosenman of Manhattan for a writ of mandamus directing the transit commission to nullify the appointment of Walker as a member of its legal staf.

The case will come up for a hearing Friday. If the efforts to have the former mayor removed fail, he will receive a pension of $250 a week upon his retirement from service. It is on the transit commission appointment that the success of the Walker pension efforts depends.

Woman Is Beaten Fighting Off Attack of Moron

Mrs. May Logue, 29 years old, 4011 Elston avenue, was severely beaten early today fighting off a moron who attempted to attack her a few steps from her home. Her husband, John Logue, owns the Transfer tavern at 4009 Elston avenue, and this morning Mrs. Logue left her home and started for the rear entrance of the tavern to meet him. An unidentified man seized her, but she drove him away.

HULL ADVOCATES MIDDLE PATH IN WORLD AFFAIRS

was made in a word of praise for the Legion's Americanism program.

"If ever our population of foreign birth should put America second, if ever it should subordinate American interests to the interests of some other country, by accepting directions given by governments or political parties abroad, then indeed a situation would arise that would fill us with foreboding," he warned.

Sessions Open in Garden.

The first session of the Legion convention got under way earlier in the day in the Madison Square Garden arena. The veterans who packed the hall to the topmost rafters were only a small part of the estimated 400,000 persons who have invaded New York City for the affair.

The keynote of the convention is "Peace Through Preparedness." This was the plea voiced by Gen. John J. Pershing in a radio message from Aix-en Provence, France. He said that the veterans' personal knowledge of the horrors of war makes them detest it and thus wisely advocate adequate preparation against it.

The Legion will hold a huge parade down Fifth avenue tomorrow. Three million spectators are expected to line the curb and it is estimated it will require 18 hours for the parade to pass.

Drum and Bugle Award.

The American Legion drum and bugle corps championship was won tonight by the Caballeros of the San Gabriel, Cal., post, No. 442, before a crowd of 25,000 in the Polo Grounds.

The Californians had held the championship before they were beaten by the Chicago Commonwealth Edison post at the Cleveland convention last year. The defending champions from Chicago finished seventh in tonight's competition.

The St. Louis Musicians Post No. 394 repeated today as the Legion's band champion. The Peoria, Ill., Post No. 2 placed ninth in that contest. The Sons Squadron attached to the Des Moines, Ia., Post No. 274 won the national drum and bugle championship of the Sons of the American Legion.

In competitions held by the Forty and Eight the winners were as follows:

Band—Johnstown, Pa., first; Rockford, Ill., second.

BRITAIN REARMS WITH EYE ON JAPS, ITALY, EDEN SAYS

Spain Loses Vote for Seat in League Council.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Sept. 20.—Improving on one of Premier Mussolini's favorite themes, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in the league of nations assembly today offered Fascist powers a forest of bayonets sprouting from an olive branch.

Eden packed the first part of his speech with statistics about the mighty war machine Great Britain is feverishly building for herself. He then proceeded to tell off the Fascist powers in strong terms, warning Italy and Japan they are ruining themselves financially by their programs of territorial conquest and telling Germany the way to obtain raw materials is by paying for them instead of calling for colonies.

In the end he advocated the program of Cordell Hull, United States secretary of state, of eliminating trade restrictions combined with disarmament as the only way for everybody to get out of the present international mess.

Spain Loses Council Seat.

Eden's speech was one of three outstanding events of the day here. The second was the announcement that the United States had agreed to send an observer to sit in on the deliberations of the advisory committee on China when it starts work tomorrow afternoon. Leland Harrison, the newly appointed American minister to Switzerland will be the observer.

The third event was the defeat of Spain for reëlection to the league of nations council. Needing a two-thirds majority, Spain obtained only 23 of the 47 votes owing to the hostility of Latin Americans who more and more seemed to be swinging into the orbits of the Fascist states.

Spain's defeat does not affect her stand as plaintif before the league against Germany and Italy on her charges that they are intervening in the Spanish civil war. Her legal status as a member of the league was not impaired.

Blames Italy for Omission.

Of four non-permanent council seats, two were filled. Peru succeeded Chile on expiration of the latter's three year term, and Iran [Persia] succeeded Turkey. Poland's seat was not voted this term and Spain's successor was not determined. Major powers hold permanent seats.

Eden inferentially held Italy, who with Germany declined to attend the nine power Nyon conference to rid the Mediterranean of piracy, to blame for the small areas offered her to patrol. Italy has demanded patrol parity with France and Great Britain.

Eden carefully avoided saying Britain would use her might to help any of the present day victims of aggression. He skipped China almost altogether, and his only pertinent allusion to Spain was a vague warning that if nonintervention were scrapped by Italy and Germany, England could not keep from scrapping it, too.

Conquerors Suffer Loss.

Working up to his theme that war does not pay, Eden said:

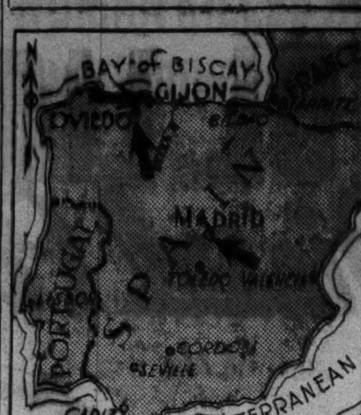
"It is true that in diverse parts of the world warfare that has taken or even is taking place has resulted in territorial gain by one nation at the expense of another. But it has also resulted in impoverishment of the victor to an extent only less than that of the vanquished."

This was an obvious blow at the Italians, more calculated to infuriate them than almost anything Eden could have said.

Eden was equally rough on Germany. Answering the famous German argument that the reich needs colonies for raw materials, Eden declared that colonies produce only 3 per cent of the world's raw materials. The best he could offer the Germans, he indicated, was an abatement of preferential tarifs in colonies on a reciprocal basis.

"But," he added, "I am afraid no modification of the British or any other contractual system can provide any remedy for the difficulties of those countries which by maintaining exchange control find themselves at a disadvantage in obtaining imports of raw materials and other things which they require."

Mines Shake Madrid



Arrows indicate areas of heaviest fighting yesterday in Spanish civil war. Loyalist troops set off mines destroying the Agricultural Engineering building, a rebel stronghold in University City, Madrid suburb. Madrid was under rebel artillery fire all day. Rebels closing in on Gijon claimed to have made a breach in the loyalist lines on the Sella river. A rebel column was moving to the relief of Oviedo, rebel city under siege for 14 months.

1 SLAIN IN ITALIAN RAID ON FRENCH COLONIAL PORT

TUNIS, Tunisia, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Forty sailors from two Italian training ships raided the headquarters of an anti-Fascist organization in this French port today and killed one of its members. The victim, named Miceli, apparently showed resistance and some of the raiding party opened fire. He was shot three times. After wrecking the organization's offices, the sailors fled. Eight were arrested later.

MINES DESTROY REBEL FORT IN MADRID SUBURB

Blast Weakens Franco's Advance Post.

MADRID, Sept. 20.—(AP)—A devastating exchange of explosives shook Madrid today from dawn until after darkness. Tonight the thunder of big guns and mines continued the city's fiercest artillery battle in months.

The Agricultural Engineering school in University City, on Madrid's western edge, was destroyed by government mines. This almost completed the ruin of University City, planned as one of the finest educational centers of all Europe.

The clinical hospital, near by, a sturdy 2,000 room structure, and several others still stood. Troops of the rebel general, Francisco Franco, hold the hospital.

A thin rebel line extending into University City was in danger of being broken from the main body of troops, the government reported. One nest of a row of rebel machine guns that protect the line and also cover communication lines to the rear was destroyed in the engineering building when exploding mines tore off the walls.

Make Breech in Gijon Defense.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Fierce guerrilla fighting by the government's Asturian forces in the mountain wilderness on the Bay of Biscay coast harassed the rebel drive tonight against Gijon, last government-held port in northwest Spain.

Snipers peppered the rear flanks of the rebels in northern Leon province, but were unable to stall their relentless drive across the high Europa mountains.

A rebel column captured Los Callejos in the Sella river sector, 30 miles southeast of Gijon. This made a breach in the government lines defending the river, the strongest natural barrier against the rebels' westward push.

Another rebel column has come within striking distance of Oviedo, where a rebel garrison has withstood siege by government forces for 14 months.

Admits Submarine Plot.

French police held under guard tonight at Hendaye a high Spanish military official who readily told them he had organized an attempt to steal a Spanish government submarine from a dockyard at Brest, France, on Saturday night. The prisoner is Maj. Juan Troncoso, rebel governor of the Spanish Guipuzcoa province.

Police said they found a note signed by the major in possession of rebels who had been arrested previously on charges of trying to steal the submarine and that he had been in Bordeaux at the time of the raid. The note, officials said, offered the captain of the submarine 2,000,000 pesetas [about $280,000] to turn it over to the rebels.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, Sept. 20.—Harold E. Dahl, Champaign, Ill., flyer who was shot down last July 12 while flying for the Spanish loyalists, will be released soon from the Seville prison in exchange for three rebels held prisoners by Valencia, it was reported today from Seville.

Much attention was recently gained by letters to Gen. Francisco Franco, rebel chief, from Dahl's pretty American wife pleading for her husband's release. She is living at Cannes, France.

Dahl fought for the government side for some time at a reported high rate of pay before his plane was shot down, though a parachute saved his life. He was seized by Moorish troops as he landed behind rebel lines. He was taken to Salamanca and later to Seville.

BRITAIN STRIVES TO PATCH RIFT WITH MUSSOLINI

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Despite all the talk of the worm turning, the government of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain is continuing its efforts to be everybody's friend, especially Premier Mussolini's.

News that the subject of Italian participation in the Mediterranean anti-piracy patrol has been reopened by the British and French is taken as new evidence of that.

Public opinion would not allow an open backdown on the piracy agreement, but Chamberlain "has his heart set on an Anglo-Italian rapprochement," as one diplomatic correspondent expressed it, and "is searching for a compromise which will enable Mussolini to join in the work."

What bearing the visit here of the duke of Aosta has on the Anglo-Italian situation is the latest mystery. The duke is a cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, and has been here "on the quiet" for several days. Officially it is said that he is here on a purely private visit, but there is reason to believe he is doing some discreet "sounding out."

Another straw which seems to show that the British diplomatic wind is more favorable to Mussolini was the hint today that the British are getting ready to allow the Spanish rebel régime of Gen. Francisco Franco to establish consulates in London and Southampton. Permission to do this was asked, it is understood, in a note from Franco now en route to London, and already comment is favorable to the idea.

British consuls have functioned for some time past at Santander, San Sebastian, and Coruna, all in Franco's territory. The argument against allowing him to send consuls here has been that it would be a virtual recognition of the rebel régime. Official circles today, however, denied such a move would imply recognition and said it would be desirable for business purposes.

The Morning After Taking Carter's Little Liver Pills

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

PRIVATE CREDIT AND A LANDSLIDE

By CALEB

ON an autumn morning of 1929, thousands of people all over this broad land left their homes and went to work in the same old way. In our own city as countless buses, automobiles, and trains carried their living freight loopward, there was evident no feeling of foreboding, no sense of impending catastrophe, no universal worry to be noted.

But that evening as giant buildings poured humanity into the streets there was a dull and crushing sense of shock in the air.

A certain sector of the population had been marked by catastrophe and fear gripped many people. A few days later there was another terrible rumble. A landslide occurred — Wall Street on one end—La Salle on the other. Reverberations and tremors radiated out from these extremities to all the hinterland, and soon everyone was involved.

People stopped buying things. Volume of business declined. Prices fell. Shipments eased off. Wages were cut. Jobs were stopped. From a joyous flight from reality everyone spiraled down a chute-the-chute to reality—and the air was filled with frantic waves of fear and despair.

During that period of depression many people with charge accounts valiantly struggled to keep their credit good. Businesses tried to be liberal. But businesses, too, had their credit to keep good. Men tried to think and conduct themselves normally and rationally, while political and economic thunder storms beat over their heads. The lightning of bankruptcy and failure struck viciously. Visibility was low.

In retail and wholesale businesses many accounts were closed, not always with good will on both sides.

In our store, because we have never urged people to over-extend themselves, there was a minimum of discord in connection with credit accounts. Nevertheless, numerous accounts fell by the wayside.

Today we note many people whose accounts with us were interrupted or closed by depression are returning to our books. This is a good and healthful thing. Credit suspended in times of distress and strain does not mean credit destroyed.

Fortunately credit departments are human. Ours is welcoming back in all sincerity those people who were victims of the times several years ago.

FIGHT MASTER'S REPORT FAVORING GAS RATE BOOST

Utility Commission Files Objections in Court.

Attorneys for the Illinois commerce commission yesterday listed 95 objections in an attack upon the report of Master in Chancery William R. Swissler which recommended that the commission be permanently enjoined from blocking a 16 per cent increase in rates of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company.

The objections were filed in the Circuit court and will be given a preliminary hearing before Master Swissler this morning. Swissler's report was made ten days ago to Circuit Judge Stanley T. Klarkowski, who previously had granted the gas company a temporary injunction.

Plan Court Appeal.

Should the injunction be made permanent, boosting gas bills $3,000,000 a year to consumers, an appeal will immediately be taken to the Illinois Supreme court on the basis of the objections, Attorney Harry R. Booth for the commission said.

Based on questions of fact rather than law, the objections charge that Master Swissler failed to give due consideration to commission witnesses. Instead, he based his findings almost entirely on testimony of company experts, the objections state.

Major Points Set Out.

1. That Swissler determined the value of the company property as being $147,000,000 against the commission's figure of $120,000,000 by giving too much consideration to estimates of reproduction cost.

2. That the master determined that the company was entitled to a 6½ per cent rate of return, against the commission's figure of 5.95 per cent.

3. That he allowed the company's annual depreciation expense of $2,292,000 as against the commission's finding that $1,800,000 was reasonable.

4. That Swissler erred in finding that the company was earning only 3.3 per cent on the value of its property, because he based his conclusion upon incorrect figures as to the value.

Expert Witness Attacked.

5. That he erred in holding that Prof. Garfield Cox of the University of Chicago was an expert witness on price trends. The commission asserted that most of the professor's forecasts of prices and business conditions had been wrong.

On instructions of Mayor Kelly the city law department has joined with the commerce commission in the case, which concerns 800,000 consumers of gas here.

BUS DRIVER WINS $5 FOR COURTESY TO IRATE RIDER

Testy Passenger Fails to Mar His Smile.

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

Norris Irwin.

A man who says "Watch your step, lady," a hundred times a day, and says it good naturedly, won THE TRIBUNE's $5 award for politeness yesterday. Norris Irwin, a bus driver for the Chicago Motor Coach company, not only deals out warnings pleasantly but he also knows how to handle many riders who peer at his bus sign, then shout in at the door: "Where are you going, driver—Sheridan road?" To them he answers smilingly, "Right you are—Sheridan road."

Irwin, who lives at 1346 Hood avenue, is 32 years old and has been driving a bus for 8 years. He has learned, he says, to be polite.

Put to the Test.

And he has learned, he demonstrated yesterday, to change a $5 bill with a smile and to spring up and gently help cripples and old persons to enter and alight from his bus.

It was a garrulous man who tested Mr. Irwin's manners. The bus had crept along State street for three blocks, barely moving in congested trafic, and the passenger was impatient.

"Such service," he grumbled. "Can't you make any time?"

Mr. Irwin explained that he couldn't. The bus, he said, was ten minutes late, and it looked as if it would be later.

Seem's Nothing's Right.

"What makes it lurch so?" demanded the man. "Can't you drive?"

"I hope so, sir," answered Mr. Irwin. "But there's something the matter with the clutch. I'm sorry."

"Well, I don't suppose I can expect anything of a bus driver," continued the irate passenger. "You wouldn't, I suppose, pull open that door and let me out, would you?"

The driver looked at the curb, then opened the door.

"O, yes, sir," he said, brightly. "In this case I can make what we drivers call a courtesy stop. Watch your step, sir!'

Roosevelt Jr. Back from Honeymoon to Study Law

Charlottesville, Va., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. registered today for a three-year course in the law school at the University of Virginia. Roosevelt and his bride, formerly Miss Ethel duPont, arrived here over the week-end and moved into the home they have leased near the university.

DR. BROWN NAMED TO PRESBYTERIAN SEMINARY OFFICE

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Dr. Henry Seymour Brown yesterday announced his resignation as superintendent of the church extension board of the prebytery of Chicago to become vice president of Princeton Theological seminary. Dr. Brown takes over this administrative post in the country's oldest Presbyterian seminary after 19 years of social service leadership in Chicago.

His appointment is interpreted as the beginning of a new era for the historic seminary after a decade of stormy theological controversy. The Presbyterian church was called upon to decide in the last 12 years whether the school would represent the thought of the entire denomination or follow the fundamentalist teachings of the late Dr. J. Gresham Machen.

Found Rival Seminary.

Finally Dr. Machen and his followers withdrew and founded Westminster seminary at Philadelphia. Two years ago the same group founded the Presbyterian Church of America. This newly established protesting church was left leaderless at the time of Dr. Machem's death last winter.

The vice presidency at Princeton seminary was created recently by the trustees under the leadership of Dr. John Mackey, president of the seminary. He will direct a ten year building and endowment program calling for the raising of $3,000,000. In addition, Dr. Brown will conduct classes in church adminstration.

Active in Chicago Area

During his leadership of the Chicago extension board the Presbyterian church has opened and maintained 14 neighborhood houses and social service centers throughout the Chicago area. For a number of years prior to the depression Dr. Brown supervised the opening of three new Presbyterian churches annually. The extension board now gives financial aid to 40 growing mission churches. He will begin his work at Princeton on Nov. 1.

2 COURTS START NEW TERM; 48,000 CASES ON DOCKET

Mrs. Pearl Thomas.

The fall terms of the Circuit and Superior courts opened yesterday after the summer vacation, with 48,000 cases pending. More than 6,000 cases in the Superior court, however, are expected to be dismissed.

Judge Benjamin P. Epstein took office as chief justice of the Circuit court, succeeding Judge Harry W. Fisher. While sitting in the Criminal court for the last two years, Judge Epstein established a record for hearing and disposing of cases.

Judge John J. Lupe, only judge of the Superior court hearing uncontested divorces and motions, granted the first divorce of the fall to Mrs. Pearl Thomas, 6042 La Salle street. Questioned by her attorney, Norman Becker, Mrs. Thomas said her husband, George, was jealous of their dog and was cruel.

Judge Lupe's court was crowded with 200 attorneys seeking to have some of the pending 14,000 divorce cases set for hearing. Judge Philip J. Finnegan, the only other divorce judge, is sitting in the Circuit court.

3,600 Horse Power Streamlined Diesel Electric Locomotives are now a part of the regular equipment of the Capitol Limited—the first Diesel-powered train in service between Chicago and the East.

This powerful type of Diesel locomotive will provide greater riding comfort and a general improvement in train operation.

No other train between Chicago and Washington offers such a wide variety of accommodations and so many comfort features as the Capitol Limited.

It is the only all-Pullman train between Chicago and Washington. There are Club and Observation cars where you may read and relax in comfortable easy chairs. There are private bedrooms accommodating one and two persons, drawing rooms and compartments, section sleepers with regular upper and lower berths.

Special features include a competent Train Secretary, Maid-Manicure, Barber-Valet and Radio.

Passengers tell us the Capitol Limited is the finest train between Chicago and the East. It carries more passengers than any other train to Washington. It is air-conditioned. There is no extra fare.

WOMAN KILLED AS TWO DRIVE AUTO AT SAME TIME

Mute Girl Turns Wheel as Man Steps on Gas.

A joy ride by two young women and two men ended in death for one of the women early today when their car overturned at 127th street and Lowe avenue. She was Miss Betty Gaw, 25 years old, 10535 Eggleston avenue. The accident occurred, police said, when one of the men and the other girl, Miss Pearl James, 22, of 6947 South Ada street, a mute, were driving the car jointly.

The men, known only as Fred and Tony, fled after the accident. Like Miss James, they escaped injury. They were driving in 127th street, with Fred in the driver's seat, and Miss James, according to police, sitting on his lap. She was steering and he was working the pedals. As they reached Lowe avenue, Fred allegedly stepped on the accelerator as Miss James made a sharp turn. The car turned over, fatally injuring Miss Gaw. Police traced the license to Fred Sheehy, but could not find 2417 Lewis street, the address credited against the number.

Building Contractor Killed.

Robert Koutnick, a building contractor died yesterday at his home, 6915 Riverside drive, Berwyn, of injuries incurred Sunday when he was struck by an automobile in Harlem avenue at Forty-third street, Stickney. After the accident he was treated for lacerations and bruises at Berwyn hospital and permitted to go home. In the morning he died.

Mrs. Minnie Keim, 11247 Avenue O, died in the South Chicago hospital after being struck by an automobile near her home. Bert Hudson, 597 Gordon street, Calumet City, driver of the car, was instructed by East Side police to attend the inquest today.

Woman Dies After Crash.

Mrs. Sarah Lash, 5218 Cornell avenue, was fatally injured in an automobile collision at 56th street and Kimbark avenue. She was riding in an automobile with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Resnik of the Cornell avenue address, when the car was struck by one driven by Carl Hoss, 5532 Kenmore avenue. Mrs. Lash incurred a skull fracture when her head hit the inside of the car. She died in the Billings Memorial hospital.

Mrs. John Lessvich, 3040 Philip avenue, Steger, injured Friday in Steger, died last night in the St. James hospital, Chicago Heights. Harry Drunn of Steger, the driver, is being held pending an inquest.

A coroner's jury investigating the death Sunday of Stephen Fik, 17 years old, 5410 35th street, recommended that a charge of manslaughter be placed against Joseph Misdarz, 18 years old, 5213 West 25th street, Cicero. Fik was thrown from Misdarz' car May 12 when it went out of control in front of Morton High school, Cicero. The youths were students in the school. Witnesses said Misdarz was driving 45 miles an hour in a 20 mile zone.

Victim's Body Identified.

The body of a man killed by an automobile at 38th street and Union avenue was identified yesterday as that of Benjamin Bernotas, 3759 Emerald avenue.

Miss Frances Landise, 68 years old, 1357 Sedgwick street, died last night in Henrotin hospital of injuries suffered on Saturday when she was struck by an automobile almost in front of her home. The driver was Mike Smith, 30, of 1912 Mohawk street.

Harry Wasserkrug, 31 years old, 6637 Newgard avenue, died yesterday in the John B. Murphy hospital of injuries suffered in a motor accident more than two months ago. He owned a nickel and silver supply company. On July 12 Wasserkrug's car was hit by a truck driven by Clark Gillum, 2305 Calumet avenue, at Ashland avenue and Lake street.

Carmen DeMichael, 1106 North Lawndale avenue, was seriously injured in a collision which police blamed on faulty stop and go lights. He was driving in Morse avenue, where the go light remained burning for 20 minutes without an interruption.

Wallace Warnock, 70 years old, 1524 Jonquil terrace, driving south in Ashland avenue, decided not to wait for the light to change. He drove across Morse avenue and was struck by DeMichael's truck.

Pinned Under Truck.

The truck was overturned and DeMichael was pinned under it. A fire department company worked half an hour to free him. He was taken to the Will Rogers Memorial hospital.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 753 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 579 were killed in Chicago where 16,295 were injured in the same period.

OPEN SUIT TO COLLECT $854,676 FROM CITY; ECHO OF WHOOPEE ERA

F. H. Mesce.

Echoes of the whoopee régime of a former Republican mayor were heard yesterday in Superior court when the suit of Frank H. Mesce, a real estate man, to collect $854,676 he claims is due from the city for so-called expert's fees, went to trial before Judge Martin H. Gridley.

Six jurors were chosen, the first definite action toward trial of the suit since it was filed twelve years ago.

Mesce's claim is being contested by Assistant Corporation Counsel Joseph J. Sullivan and W. W. Wilson, a member of the law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, Martin, and Ellis. Attorney Daniel Healy is representing Mesce.

The origin of Mesce's suit lay in a $28,000,000 bond issue voted Nov. 4, 1919, for the Wacker drive project and the widening of Ogden, Western, and Ashland avenues.

Under an alleged contract with Michael Faherty, former head of the board of local improvements, Mesce was paid up to 2 per cent of the value of the property he appraised. In slightly more than a year, Mesce and another so-called expert, the late Austin J. Lynch, were each paid $460,418.

18 LOSE RIGHT TO DRIVE

Judge J. M. Braude in Safety court yesterday suspended the driving privileges of eighteen motorists for periods of three months to a year. Ten drivers were sentenced to jail and nineteen were fined.

Judge Braude explained that he intends to impose sentences more frequently than before in an attempt to stop the massacre on the streets and highways.

"Fines do not seem to be having the proper effect on erratic motorists," he said. "I am going to increase the severity of the punishment until drivers are brought to their senses."

More than 150 defendants were on the court call, the heaviest in weeks.

In Boys' court Judge Gibson E. Gorman took away the driving privileges of Angelio Pizzello, 20 years old, 925 South Carpenter street, and George Melonas, 22 years old, 910 South Ashland avenue, for six months. They were charged with reckless driving.

SALES LEADERS PREFER MEN 40 OR MORE AS AIDS

N. Y. Survey Shows 80 Per Cent Edge.

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Men over 40 are preferred to their younger rivals for executive and selling jobs by New York city's foremost group of sales executives, the members of the Sales Executives club.

These men represent some of the nation's largest businesses. Their report will be made tomorrow at a meeting of the club to which are invited members of the American Legion who are campaigning on behalf of more work for men over 40.

Reasons for Preference.

Eighty per cent of the members of the sales executives club reported they preferred men over 40. The survey was made by Charles C. Stech, research specialist of New York City.

The reasons for preference of older men, in order of importance, were:

1. They are likely to turn out more production.
2. More likely to be conscientious about those phases of work hard to check up.
3. More likely to be open-minded toward criticism.
4. Likely to undertake unpleasant assignments more willingly.
5. More likely to bring in new ideas of value.

The Minority Report.

The sales executives who preferred young men gave as their first five reasons in importance; enthusiasm and cheerfulness, more prompt adaptability, more care in personal appearance, promptness in getting into a new type of assignment and initiative.

The things that the sales executives liked best about the men over 40, regardless of importance of the qualification, were conscientiousness, open mindedness and being less likely to resign to go elsewhere.

FILLING STATIONS WILL DENY GAS TO TIPSY DRIVERS

Owners of gasoline stations and garages yesterday promised the Chicago Motor club to refuse to sell gasoline to drunken drivers. They also promised to help the club seek legislation prohibiting such sales.

Joseph H. Braun, Motor club general counsel will prepare a bill for introduction in the legislature making it unlawful to sell gasoline to drunken drivers. A similar ordinance for Chicago is being drafted.

PUBLIC HEARINGS WILL BE HELD ON PARKING METERS

Public hearings will be held soon on a plan to equip downtown streets with parking meters designed to keep curb hogs on the move by allowing limited time parking for a nickel, it was learned yesterday. A report on the plan has been completed by Ald. John A. Massen [48th], chairman of the city council trafic committee.

The report will be submitted to the committee by Ald. Massen when he returns to the city tomorrow, and the hearings will be held shortly thereafter. He has had under consideration a proposal that the city acquire and operate parking lots in conjunction with—and paid for by—the parking meters.

Coin operated meters are installed at 20 foot intervals. The motorist inserts a coin and raises an indicator, which drops at the expiration of an alloted period. This is an hour, 30, or 20 minutes. Manufacturers have offered to instal the meters on trial in Chicago, to be paid for out of receipts.

FIRE CAUSES SMOKE PALL.

An accumulation of grease in a ventilating chute became ignited yesterday at the Hillman building, 30 West Washington street, causing clouds of white smoke to rise. Firemen summoned by office workers put out the blaze. Damage was slight.

RURAL SCHOOLS MEXICO'S HOPE, WRITER FINDS

Practical Teachings Tend to Check Radicalism.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20. — Who speaks for Mexico today? Its diversity of mountain and desert, tropical jungle, and bleak uplands is matched by diversity of spirit and culture. Poverty and ignorance still bind its masses.

One may see here a great and cultured audience gathered in marble halls listening with rapt attention to Chavez's symphony orchestra playing the Fifth Symphony of Beethoven. There are women of cream-white beauty, living in luxury, and women cooking supper on little charcoal burners along the street curbs. The eyes are glazed, dark pools of animal life, with the center lacking. These speak of the rock and adobe huts in the thousands of villages that make up the bulk of Mexican life.

This is an old story, the occasional magnificence, the flowering out of the old, dark human degradation. It may be seen in all of Latin America, and in the orient, particularly India.

Years Bringing A Change.

But a change is noted here through the years. It is illustrated in the Sunday evening scene in the plaza of the smaller cities. Here, amid flowers and fountains, with lights strung in the tall dark trees, the people stroll while the band plays music alternately sad and gay.

It is a Spanish custom to walk here, all of society turning out, greeting each other, the boys and girls in separate lines, passing each other, weaving in and out of the lights and shadows, soft and ardent glances mingling.

The Indians and the workers who have stood on the edge of this brilliant scene all these years have now begun to join in the parade. The old Indians, huddled in shawls, babies always bulging under the blankets, the neat black little head of the woman close to the shelter of the wide straw hat, the stern dark face of her lord, still sit on the edges of the throng, but the Indian girls, hair braided down their backs, and the Indian young bloods in overalls, are making new lines in the outer circle. They, too, laugh and flirt and exchange flowers.

Vote Promised to Women.

Down the side streets is a rich blending of color and smells, and above it all, its carved spires reaching to the skies where drifts the moon, is the silent cathedral, or the darkened church.

This is an evolution not only of the Indian but of the Mexican, those of mixed Spanish and Indian blood, for these make up the majority of the strollers now. They are dressed just as their kind in the United States are dressed, the girls taking their hair styles from the movies, the boys in natty suits. The black shawled figures, those faces of demure, secluded Spanish beauty, become fewer. Woman emerges.

In this city the women are planning to do something with the vote which the party in power has promised to them. This is confined at present to meetings of business and professional women, such as teachers and nurses, but they are talking and planning, with discussion running far into the night.

Promise to "Clean House."

"We will turn these crooked politicians out of office," says one vigorous and determined young woman. "We will clean this house for Mexico and take seats in the chamber of deputies."

A certain labor leader, she says, is a crook and a thief.

"How do you know?"

"Well, he spent 50,000 pesos for his bathroom."

Of a cabinet officer of whom the women speak with condemnation they remark that he has recently set his mistress up in a luxury shop on the Avenida Juarez. These specific things are enough for them.

The young men, too, are itching to do something.

"There is too much talk about socialism," says one. "We do not want this socialism and we do not understand it. We do not want to change Mexico."

"What are you interested in?"

"In myself."

"Do you vote?"

Women Attend University.

"No, it is no use. The government puts in any man that it wants. It makes no difference what the vote is. It is bad to oppose the government."

In the University of Mexico with 13,000 students, the last five years have seen the coming of 3,000 women students.

It is difficult to get an explanation of the so-called "socialist education" here, but it seems to express in some vague way the aims of the party in power, the spearhead of the "revolution," at present the only articulate voice in this country.

Much of the use of the word socialism is found to be social service as it is understood in the United States. Perhaps the finest experiment in Mexico is the rural school system, constantly expanding, in which the habits and needs of the country people, the Indians, are merged into the educational system.

A Hope of Democracy.

The teachers are more like missionaries, who bring not only a cult and a theory to be imposed, but practical medicine, athletics, agriculture and the spirit of community betterment. In this slow process of the schools is the foundation of a possible democracy.

Government propaganda in education seems much like that attempted by the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota, and the same cry is heard here that there is atheism abroad and that the children are taught "there is no God." Many of the teachers, in Mexico City at least, are Catholics, so this can hardly be true. In the country there are gods, not a God. There are many tribes, many languages, many gods.

The rural teacher is given the problem of answering the questions of the children in terms of natural and "scientific" knowledge, to do away with superstition, which is interpreted to mean religion. But religion and superstition persist and the main effect of the so-called socialism is a healthy trend toward hygiene and comfort.

Indians Help Build Schools.

It becomes a community effort. There are stories of Indians carrying materials for the building of mountain schools over trails for seven days. The teacher is often paid by the proceeds of a bit of land which is worked in cooperation. Perhaps no one in the village can read or write. Sanitation does not exist.

Once established, the school attends to the children all day and to the elders at night. Lessons in sewing and agriculture, the care of rabbits, chickens and bees, crop improvement, vaccination, childbirth, the care of babies—these are the things that count rather than some doctrin of the state or of God.

That will come later and it may be expressed in the murals of Rivera, with its doctrin of class hate, but in the meantime, between this slowly stirring mass and the top left-wingers of the revolution, there is this middle class of the farms and the towns that may bend the movement to the right.

Here, as elsewhere in the world, one may hear men debating the merits of individualism and the totalitarianism state. Mexico is not committed to the latter.

Thought Not Yet "Policed."

There is no policing of thought as yet. The emphasis of the federal propaganda is that the workers must have more wages and the Indians more lands. Certainly they will not disagree with that.

Twenty years ago it was necessary to pass a law to make the Indians wear pants when coming into town. Today they not only wear pants but many of them have sandals, or open work shoes made of old tires. The Jews of the Lagunilla market on the edge of the city are educating the Indians rapidly in new wants, and meeting these wants for a few cents. A pair of pants may be had for thirty cents, a cotton print dress for 60 cents. Then they go to rayon, in the counters and windows of dreams.

Gaudy bedroom furniture, hardware, everything for the house and body, are shown in the street barrows that never close. The Jews, Arabs and Assyrians may in time dominate the cheap trade, or even the luxury trade. The Indians do not step off the sidewalk now when a señor approaches. Eyes are up and they sometimes have in them amusement, even condescension.

Belle Baker.
[Maurice Seymour Photo.]

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Buxom little Belle Baker, husky voiced torch singer whose "Yiddisher Momma" and other songs won her fame in America and England, announced tonight she will be married in the National Democratic club tomorrow to Eli Sugarman, editor of Billboard magazine.

Miss Baker is the widow of Maurice Abrahams, Broadway song writer who died in 1931.

Their son, Herbert, Miss Baker said, is going to New Haven, Conn., Sunday to be entered in Yale university.

"Herbert has said it is all right for Eli and me to get married—Herbert had to pass on him first," she said.

LADY, keep your shoes on!

Here's the easy way to end corns

Isn't it strange what a woman will do? Fuss about a shiny nose—and secretly slip off her shoes. It just doesn't make sense, when a Red Cross Corn Plaster would ease that throb in a jiffy. For an ordinary corn, these thin waterproof guards take the pressure off—giving the corn time to disappear. For quick action, add medicated center—after 48 hours in most cases, corn lifts right off. No strap around your toe—doesn't stick to stockings. Send 10c for trial package. Write Dept. R-37.

USE COAL OR COKE

END LAYER-CAKE HEAT

"The floors were so cold I had to put my feet up under me." Has that happened to you? With Layer-Cake Heat, your floors and feet are cold while your head feels hot and stuffy—and that leads to colds. Stop-and-go fuels, allowing your furnace firebox to get cold during "off" periods, cause the air in your rooms to form in hot and cold layers—Layer-Cake Heat. Coal or coke fires, keeping the firebox always warm, provide a constant flow of warm air and prevent Layer-Cake Heat.

Many are abandoning stop-and-go fuels—especially since coal stokers have been perfected to provide the latest in automatic heating at the lowest cost. Stokers fire themselves, and regulate the heat in your rooms to within a degree or two of where you set the pointer. They can be attached to your present furnace.

Thermostatic controls, for hand-fired furnaces, reduce fuel bills and keep room temperatures at the desired level. Even without these controls, remember, coal or coke provides steady heat, prevents Layer-Cake Heat!

Don't sit on your feet this winter! Buy coal or coke now from your local coal merchant. If you're not sure he's a member of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association, call STAte 9723.

CHILDREN LIVE in the level that is always chilly if you have Layer-Cake Heat. Don't make them play on cold floors! Burn coal or coke and keep the lower part of your room warm—for your children's sake! They'll have fewer colds—and be much more comfortable!

LAYER-CAKE HEAT—formation of the air in your rooms into layers—makes your head hot while your feet are cold. It's caused by stop-and-go fuels that let the firebox get cold between firings. The constant warmth of coal or coke prevents Layer-Cake Heat.

FOR CONVENIENCE plus economy, you can't beat a coal stoker! Automatic coal stokers fire themselves, keep your rooms at the temperature you choose, and burn fuels cleanly and efficiently. That's why coal stoker sales are zooming to highs. For information about stokers, phone your local coal merchant.

PHONE NOW and buy your coal or coke. If you're interested in automatic stokers or heat controls, your local coal merchant will give you full information. No obligation. CHURCH PROTEST ON WEDDING LAW IS UP FOR RULING

Zion Residents Object to Health Tests.

State's Attorney Charles E. Mason of Lake county yesterday asked Attorney General Otto Kerner for rulings on several phases of the Illinois marriage law. First Assistant Attorney General M. E. Cox, in Mr. Kerner's absence, said his office would be glad to furnish the legal opinions in reply to the formal request.

Mr. Mason's first inquiry concerns marriages in Indiana, or other states, of Illinois residents who go there to wed to evade the Illinois law requiring health certificates before marriage and a three day notice of intention to wed.

He asked, also, for a legal opinion to guide those whose religious beliefs and scruples would prevent their submitting to a medical examination. There are many such persons in Lake county, he said.

Zion Residents Object.

Objections of residents of Zion, a community populated mainly by members of a religious group, have been made, Mr. Mason stated. Also, he added, members of another sect opposed to consultations with physicians or examinations by them, have asked him how they may marry legally in Illinois without violating their church tenets.

"Since the new law went into effect on July 1, many county officials have asked for my opinion on the application of the law," said Mr. Mason. "I believe the attorney general should issue an opinion so that all counties shall interpret the law in the same way.

"Many members of certain religious organizations have refused to submit to the examinations to show they are free from venereal diseases. That is their right, legally, but not if they wish to marry in Illinois. Can they be given some exemption on religious grounds? That's what I want the attorney general to answer."

Validity Not Passed Upon.

So far Illinois judges have not passed upon the validity of marriages in other states, where the contracting parties went for the one purpose of escaping the examinations required here. Assistant Attorney General Cox, prior to the formal request for an opinion, said that his personal opinion is that such marriages are valid.

"I know that many competent lawyers think otherwise," said Mr. Cox. "The Saltiel law, which requires the examinations, does not carry a provision that marriages performed in violation or evasion of this law are null and void, as other laws concerning marriage regulations do.

"However, regardless of my own opinion, when Mr. Mason's request is received, this office will gladly render an opinion."

Annuls Crown Point Marriage.

Mrs. Mina La Vinia Wray Gould, 21 years old, 6233 Vernon avenue, a café singer, had her Crown Point marriage to Robert G. Gould, 28 years old, 10434 Avenue F, a railroad switchman, annulled yesterday by Judge John J. Lupe in the Superior court.

She testified that she and Gould were married Sept. 1 after a drinking party, and that two days later she learned that he had married Helen Egan on Aug. 25, 1935, and had never been divorced. Gould has been in the county jail since Sept. 15, charged by his first wife with nonsupport.

Madison St. Fire Ties Up Trafic Near the Loop

Trafic on Madison street near the loop was tied up half an hour last night while firemen extinguished a blaze on the second floor of a building at 221 West Madison street. The fire started in the stock room of the Trade Circular company from undetermined causes. Chief Anthony Durkin of the first battalion estimated the damage at $2,500, mainly due to water.

IDENTIFY BOY, 3, ABANDONED IN OFFICE OF WPA

Providence, R. I., Sept. 20.—(AP)—A chubby faced boy whose picture in newspapers brought an offer of adoption a few hours after his father abandoned him in WPA headquarters, was identified tonight as Giosuele Ricci, 3 years old, son of a former WPA worker who has been unemployed for three weeks.

Giosuele Ricci.

Identification was made by the boy's aunt, Mrs. Adeline Grimaldi, who recognized the picture. The boy was turned over to her, and the father, Antonio Ricci, 39, was ordered to report to police headquarters to explain his action.

An official at the WPA office told police a man shoved the youngster through a window and into his arms.

DUKE AND WALLY FACE LONG EXILE, SAYS COLUMNIST

Kent May Fly to Paris to Visit Them.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The duke of Windsor, former King Edward VIII. of England, and his duchess still face a long continental exile, but the duke of Kent—presumably without his duchess—probably will fly to Paris to see them, it was reported today.

Citing the "most authoritative quarters," a columnist in the Star wrote: "There is no likelihood of the duke's [Edward's] return to England for months to come."

The columnist denied reports that Fort Belvedere, one of the former king's favorite abodes, is being prepared for his use, or that a west end house is being taken.

The Windsors, it is understood, will stay at Hotel Maurice when they visit Paris toward the end of the month. The hotel has three entrances and so would be the most difficult for reporters or curious crowds trying to keep track of Edward and his bride.

Sir Walter Monckton, who has known Edward since his Oxford days, is expected to visit him in Paris.

Monckton handled many of Edward's business affairs as personal attorney general and was knighted for his work in helping to straighten out legal matters in the hectic week preceding Edward's abdication.

Duke Complains of Fever.

VIENNA, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The duke of Windsor complained of a slight fever and remained within his hotel this afternoon, after returning from Enzesfeld castle, where he and the duchess spent the week-end with the Baron Rothschilds. Friends believed the duke's indisposition was due to a recurrent ear trouble, but emphasized that he is "not sick," and said there is no change in his plan to go to France late this week.

CHICAGO OBJECTS TO BEARING PART OF HOUSING COST

'Question of Money,' Says Hewitt to Board.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Chicagoans told federal housing officials today that the city would find it difficult, if not almost impossible, to contribute 10 per cent of the cost of a slum clearance project as required under the Wagner housing act.

Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, one of the group attending the housing conference called by Secretary Ickes, told Ed Foley, PWA legal counsel, that Chicago "wanted to go along on the program of slum clearance, but that it was a question of money."

Foley assured the Chicagoans he believed some solution to the financial question could be worked out.

Might Credit Street Areas.

One way, the conferees were told, would be to credit the city for streets that might be closed or abandoned to make way for construction of low cost housing developments. This would be counted toward the 10 per cent contribution.

Other members of the Chicago delegation, John Fugard, chairman of the Chicago housing authority; Jacob Crane, city planning commission; Alfred K. Stern, chairman of the Illinois state housing board, and Robert Taylor, discussed the tax phase of Illinois law.

Federal officials have taken the stand that unless housing projects are tax exempt, rents would be too high and the purpose of low cost housing would be defeated. The Illinois law does not permit tax exemption.

Asks Basis of Ability.

Fugard said Chicago took the view that every one should contribute something to city government functions. In the case of a housing project, he suggested the cost could be based on ability to pay.

"But," he added, "we don't know what that would be."

The PWA legal counsel suggested that the Illinois legislature authorize the City of Chicago to issue bonds to build housing projects, the bonds to be retired from the income from the development. The project then could be leased by the city to the housing authority. In this way, Foley said, the tax exemption question, a constitutional matter in Illinois, would not be involved.

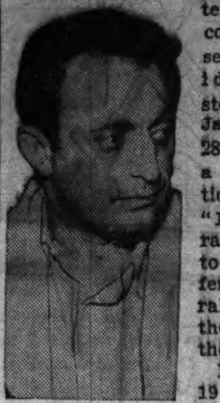
HILLES RESIGNS AS REPUBLICAN COMMITTEEMAN

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Republican National Committeeman Charles D. Hilles, after continuous service in his present position since 1920 and prior to that, from 1912 to 1916, as chairman of the committee, tonight handed his resignation to Chairman William S. Murray of the state Republican committee. A successor to Hilles probably will be named at the meeting of the Republican state committee to be held in Syracuse Wednesday.

Hilles' action was viewed in Republican circles as foreshadowing his virtual withdrawal from participation in both the state and national politics of his party.

To all except a circle of intimate friends, the resignation was a complete surprise. He gave growing responsibilities in connection with his own business and his position on the executive boards of a number of banking institutions and large industrial corporations as his reasons for resigning. He is 70 years old.

RADIOS STOLEN? TSK! THEY'RE FOR RAFFLE TO DEFEND WILD CAT



James Cremaldi.

When Fillmore street police raided his home at 3225 Flournoy street yesterday and discovered two radio sets which were identified as stolen property, James Cremaldi, 28 years old, had a ready explanation. He said: "I'm going to raffle them off to help raise a defense fund for Sarah Cascavale—the one they call the Wild Cat."

Miss Cascavale, 19 years old, was arrested three weeks ago with eight men, four of them paroled convicts, who had committed numerous stockups. She and six of the gang have been held to the grand jury in bonds of $20,000 on charges of robbery.

Cremaldi was seized after Stathe Poulos, 14 years old, 3321 Congress street, and William Schoot, 15 years old, 4116 Maypole avenue, said they gave him the sets to sell. The youths, arrested looting a meat market at 3464 5th avenue, confessed 41 burglaries and were turned over to the juvenile authorities.

Heflin Declares Candidacy in Alabama's Senate Race

La Fayette, Ala., Sept. 20.—(AP)—J. Thomas Heflin, former United States senator, declared his candidacy tonight for the Democratic primaries in which a successor to Senator Dixie Graves will be selected. Senator Graves is serving temporarily by appointment of her husband-governor, Bibb Graves, in the seat vacated by Hugo L. Black.

KEY WEST COMES BACK ON U. S. AID TO DYING TOWNS

Key West, Fla., Sept. 20.—(AP)—A presidential committee's proposal for federal rehabilitation of decadent urban communities has been put into practice in this test-tube city and Mayor Harry C. Graley today said it was a success.

Deserted by once prosperous industries and with 80 per cent of its 12,000 inhabitants on relief, Key West turned over municipal affairs to the federal emergency relief administration on July 2, 1934.

FERA officials set to work on a program to make the city self-supporting. Their plan was to make it a tourist mecca. Public buildings were renovated, streets were repaired, parks and beaches were improved.

The island city was publicized throughout the country as a place where frost never had been known, the most tropical spot in the United States.

The first winter tourist business rose sharply. Private employment increased and many found work on a federally financed $1,200,000 water supply and sewer project. But in September, 1935, a hurricane swept between Key West and the mainland, washing out the famous "railroad that goes to sea" and isolating the city except for boat and air transportation.

FERA activities were being curtailed and last July were discontinued entirely, but the government again stepped in and financed a $3,800,000 project to link the city with the mainland by highway for the first time. It provided jobs, and, more important, promised to open the door to a flood of tourists.

PRESIDENT'S ORDER ABOLISHES NATIONAL EMERGENCY COUNCIL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Once the mightiest of administration agencies, the National Emergency council today was abolished in an executive order by President Roosevelt.

In October, 1933, the council was placed above the cabinet in power and influence with the President when Mr. Roosevelt made its executive director, Donald R. Richberg, virtually his first assistant as minister without portfolio

The NEC's broad duties included the coördination of interagency problems of the government. For a year it to advise the President. Its meetings were held in the cabinet room at the White House and were regarded as far more important than the cabinet meetings. For a year it has been acting merely as a collector of information for government propaganda agencies.

LOVE SLAYING AT DECATUR TERMED MURDER-SUICIDE

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—A love triangle that ended in the death of Policeman Cecil Hinds and his illicit sweetheart during a "showdown" with the officer's wife in the Hinds' home was termed a murder and suicide today.

A coroner's jury accepted the story told by Mrs. Hinds. She said her husband shot to death Mrs. Vesta Lee, 35 years old, a waitress with whom he had been carrying on a clandestine romance for a year, when she refused to obtain a divorce from her estranged husband and marry him.

After firing two shots into the woman's breast as she tried to flee from him, Hinds fired a bullet into his own head, Mrs. Hinds related.

U. S. TURNS DOWN PLANES IN C. I. O. STRIKE ON COAST

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 20.—(AP)—George Stratton, executive of the Douglas corporation, said tonight the war department has declined temporarily to accept airplanes from the Northrop plant because of "indicated sabotage."

Stratton made public a letter signed by M. K. B. Wolfe, army air corps representative, dated Sept. 14.

The Northrop plant has been closed since Sept. 2 when C. I. O. men struck, demanding a voice in what men should be laid off in a reduction of the plant force.

PROSPERITY BY PLENTY.

Five years have elapsed since the government began to seek the promotion of the welfare of the people of the United States by paying farmers to raise less and destroying parts of the available supplies of farm products. Due to the voiding of the Agricultural Adjustment act the plan of destroying and limiting supplies had to be modified. But the effects of the program continue to be widely felt, in the live stock industry most obviously. Due to the destruction of hogs, cattle, and sheep by the government there is not enough meat in the country to provide the standard of living to which Americans long have been accustomed.

And this is not alone a problem of eating. Not since 1873, in President Rutherford Hayes' administration, seven years after the Chicago fire, have live stock receipts been as small as they currently are. The amount of employment available at the packing plants has necessarily been reduced severely. The government plan has cut down railroad trafic by 750,000 cars a year. That means a loss of jobs by crews of 750 trains each 100 cars long. Adherence to the fallacy that we may prosper by destroying is an important cause of the persistence of unemployment, of government deficits, and of uncertainty about the future of our money.

Scarcity and therefore unemployment is to be promoted further if a law now being worked out by Mr. Wallace and his associates is enacted by the next congress. As before, the plan is to provide bounties to those who agree to turn out smaller amounts of the products of the earth than was their custom. Before plunging ahead with a new law to perpetuate a famine by bounty and all the consequences of that, the possibilities of increasing farm incomes by other means should be exhausted.

One method which commends itself because of the results already being attained is by finding new uses for existing products and what are now waste materials. Farmers actually find profitable use for only one-half of what they produce. The bulk of the corn and wheat which is marketed is only half of what is grown. The other half in the form of straw and fodder is thrown away or employed in ways bringing little return. Similarly, only a portion of the vegetables and fruits are of the market standard. That which is too large or too small, of odd shape or off color, cannot now be sold.

Given the proper inducement chemistry will find ways to employ a large part of the farm products which are not now marketable. Progress already made suggests the possibilities which exist. It has been found profitable to make a fabric called osnaburg out of low grade cotton which was formerly not usable; an industry using mass production has been developed to obtain such products formerly imported as lemon oil, orange oil, citrate of lime, and citric acid from substandard citrus fruits which were formerly thrown away; chemists have developed wall board and insulation materials out of corn stalks, and soy beans have been adapted to a wide range of uses, particularly in the automobile and paint and lacker industries. And this is not all nor perhaps the most significant. It is, however, suggestive.

Greater utilization of farm products will make it possible to restore the income of the producer without reducing the living standards of the consumer. Any farmer would prefer to have his income supplemented by the sale of portions of his output not now marketable rather than by a government body which pays only while politicians are in the frame of mind to do so. It would be far better for all concerned to pay a subsidy to processors for using what are now waste products rather than to pay bounties for nonproduction.

PORTRAIT OF A LANDED GENT.

Such of America's gentry as were not landed by the first letter from Carmelite street, London, E. C. 4, have now received a second. There is still time, but not much, to get their names into the coronation edition de luxe of Burke's "Landed Gentry." And there is still time, though barely enough, to send $25 for the book. The regular price will be 6 guineas. If you want your name included, and if you want to save something over $5 on the book, it's now or never.

Burke's, it appears, has been the leading firm in the genealogy industry for a hunded years and it may safely be assumed that the men in charge know their business. Certainly they know all that needs be known about a certain kind of American citizen. He may be symbolized as one who made superior sausages and by selling them in large numbers to other citizens amassed a comfortable fortune.

Now, in common sense, this sausage maker has much reason for self-satisfaction. He did it all by himself. He had no family connections. He had only the most rudimentary schooling. He had what it takes, and he has left what the government didn't take. He can acquire no merit by discovering that his great-grandfather's grandfather preferred fox hunting to work. The obvious truth is that the ancestor is rendered a little less insignificant by the fact that his descendant has amounted to something. The eighteenth century selling plater was not a total loss at the stud. On the record, the sausage maker is worth a couple of dozen of his progenitors.

Everybody except our sausage maker knows this. He had ancestors, of course, like all of us, but his distinction is that he is an Ancestor, the founder of a business, a fortune, and a family. Why he should imagine that the appearance of his name in the "Landed Gentry" will add anything to his stature is a question hard to answer.

Many will accuse him of vanity, but the charge is absurd. A really vain man would find merits in himself, not in his ancestors. It comes much nearer the truth to say that the sausage maker underestimates his own capabilities. He can't believe he's as good as he plainly is. He must explain his success to himself and his wife. He does so by attributing it to his descent from a long line of English country gentlemen. The explanation is worth just about the $25 it costs.

THE TRIBUNE, THE KLAN, AND 1928.

Mr. A. B. Hill of Elmhurst resorted to violent language upon THE TRIBUNE's republication of Mr. Parrish's memorable cartoon of Klansman Black upon the Supreme court bench. His telegram appears today in the Voice of the People.

Without the least wish to injure the business of Western Union we observe that following its slogan, "Don't Write—Telegraph," sometimes tends to leave the neck extended. Mr. Hill failed to consult the files of THE TRIBUNE before characterizing our behavior in the 1928 campaign. We have done so since receiving his message.

Al Smith visited Chicago on Oct. 17, 1928. The following morning in its editorial column THE TRIBUNE, after speaking of his administration as governor of New York as "honest and decent, thoughtful and able," said of him:

"These things and much more can and should be said of a candidate THE TRIBUNE does not support for the election. We like the candidate. His candidacy has been a good thing for the country. It has forced more honest dealing with some questions which timid and evasive politics was trying to obscure. He has aroused some prejudices. It has not been bad to give them an airing. Thousands of Chicago Republicans who will vote Republican have the highest respect for the Democratic candidate."

We had no such praise for Mr. Roosevelt in the 1936 campaign. In 1928 Mr. Smith and Mr. Hoover were competing for the job of administering our national affairs within the frame of American constitutional government. President Roosevelt, THE TRIBUNE is convinced, is following a course which if not arrested will destroy American constitutional government. On such an issue there is no compromise, and we freely admit that we neither have seen nor expect to see important good, but much evil, come from his leadership.

Further consultation of our files shows that on several occasions THE TRIBUNE's political correspondents exposed the campaign of religious bigotry which was being waged against Gov. Smith in the south, and recorded Mr. Hoover's repudiation of the support of such bigots. On Sept. 22 THE TRIBUNE demanded the ouster of Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, an assistant attorney general, because of her frank appeal to religious prejudice in a campaign speech.

On Oct. 31, after Gov. Smith had denounced these forces of bigotry, THE TRIBUNE made these statements in its editorial columns:

"Gov. Smith's denunciation of certain influences working in or for the Republican party was a true statement of facts. It is accepted as such by many Republicans. The klan and the Anti-Saloon league are twin calamities working for the election of the Republican national ticket. Their practices are intolerable. Their intolerance is disgraceful. They have exhibited some of the meanest motives which ever had a place in Republican politics. What they offer as patriotism and public morality has protected or promoted some of the worst corruption.

". . . The klan, in politics, represents organized ignorance and prejudice. If it had courage it would use physical violence. Its weapon is vindictive slander.

"THE TRIBUNE remains with the Republicans who detest the agents of zealotry and bigotry and their work, but who nevertheless will stay within the party and support its ticket, believing that the success of its candidate contains the greater welfare of the nation. They will fight within the party rather than against it in spite of influences which might drive all liberal intelligence out of the party forever. The party will have a lot of cleaning up to do. Its indignant adherents have hope that it will do the job and get rid of its blights."

That was THE TRIBUNE's stand in 1928, and it is its stand today. Only this remains to be added: The Republican party has since purged itself of the malicious influence of the Anti-Saloon league. And President Roosevelt and Mr. Justice Black now have the klan in their laps. They are welcome to it.

NEW ANESTHETIC NEEDED.

[Baltimore Sun.]

Nothing offers a more distressing spectacle than the crass intrusion of local patriotism into realms which ought never to recognize geographical frontiers and the petty prides, jealousies and spites which they breed. Georgia provides a lamentable example.

A state board of education had recommended the use in Georgia schools of a particular textbook on "Descriptive Chemistry and Physics." Then suddenly some keen eye and fiery soul discovered that this work asserts that "in 1846 Morton and Warren, of Boston, used ether in performing an operation and since that date civilized society has been freed from the horrors of the barber surgeons." To this passage Georgia has reacted violently. "Crawford W. Long [a Georgian] was the discoverer of ether as an anesthetic in 1842," wrote the attorney general of that state in a memorandum to the governor. In consequence, the governor has announced that the education board has canceled its contract with the publishers of the book, and a wirephoto shows the state executive tearing apart the offensive textbook.

It is not for us to attempt to decide between the claims of Long and of Morton and Warren; that is better left to the historians of medicine and science. But we may observe that in all likelihood neither the Georgian nor the Bostonians, who were one in seeking to alleviate suffering, would take part in a quarrel over priority. Virtually simultaneous discoveries are fairly common in the sciences. We are all familiar with the instances of Darwin and Wallace, of Newton and Leibnitz, of Mendelyeev and Lothar Meyer. Happily, the world, having profited by the labors of them all, has never thought of them as fierce competitors or tried to destroy the work of one in order to exalt a "rival."

Between them Long, Morton, and Warren may have found a way to dull the senses of men to pain. It remains for some other benefactors of humanity to discover an anesthetic for the sensitive and rampant chauvinism which rejects as cheat all progress that lacks the label made at home.

BRIDGE BUILDER'S HOLIDAY.

"No, not all of it," the workman tells the boy. "Other men worked on it too. The railing is only part of it." You can see, though, he wishes he could have answered yes, that he did build all of the new outer drive bridge. It would make his son so proud, and building a bridge like that would be little harder than explaining about the others who had a hand: the explorers who dreamed of a great trading post here, the men and women the fire could not daunt, and the builders who wrought that skyline. He just takes the boy's hand and walks on; some day he will begin with the men who dreamed the bridge itself, and planned it so those great spans would fit as perfectly as the tiniest sections of the railing he helped to build, and tell him the story of all the rest who made the bridge. But now he leads his son in silence away from his railing, and his bridge, back toward the towering buildings and the homes of those who build the railings, and the bridges, and the city.

We'll Just Let Them Cancel Each Other.

Isn't it about time for that old man of the mountains up in Wisconsin somewhere to come forward with his annual prediction that it's going to be a very severe winter because the squirrels have been gathering an unusually large quantity of nuts? And for that old man down in Illinois to make his yearly forecast that the winter will be very mild because the hair on the animals is exceptionally thin this year?

SANDMAN STORY.

If the lady who dozed off at her table in the window of a Wabash avenue restaurant is worried, we wish we could assure her that she nodded but a moment. THE NOSE AND ITS TROUBLES.

Part I.

FROM 2,000 to 4,000 gallons of air travel along the nasal passages in each 24 hours—or at least they should. Under active exercise the total may rise to several times either figure. Only when some deformity or obstruction exists will the individual become a mouth breather. We exhale through the mouth when talking or laughing, but nature did not design this opening for in-breathing except in an emergency.

If we could look inside the nose we would see a sizable expanse of undulating planes all covered with mucous membrane. The folds create tortuous spaces into which drain the several sinuses, which are really bony caverns within the skull.

Just inside each nostril several rows of hair are placed which project into the passageway. They, along with the soft moist membrane, help to screen out from the inspired air coarse particles of dust, insects, etc. As we become older these hairs may grow rapidly. One of the cardinal principles of hygiene is not to pull or pluck them. Cut them occasionally if you will, but do not uproot them. Serious cases of blood poisoning have followed infractions of this rule.

In the middle, dividing the two nostrils, there is a thin bone called the septum. As a result of blows or bumps received in childhood this may occasionally be pressed to one side or the other, causing a partial plugging of one nostril. In addition, there are the turbinate bones—superior, middle, and inferior—scroll-like affairs which help to increase the mucous acreage over which the air must journey.

Few of us realize how much the tone of the voice depends upon clear nasal channels. If they are obstructed, even partially, the voice may take on what is termed a "nasal twang." Perhaps we have heard the expression, "So-and-so is talking through his nose." What is meant is that the voice may develop a metallic, rasping sound because it lacks the resonance which the normal air cushion provides. Vocalists, particularly, detect this effect quickly and may refuse to sing when a cold has brought about swelling of the mucous lining.

Anything which interferes with the terminal twigs of the nerve of smell in the nasal membrane will dull the olfactory sense. One reason why appetite falls during a cold is because the acuteness both of smell and taste is lowered. The one who is unable to detect the enticing odor of foods will have but little appetite.

What is the purpose of the curved turbinates, covered as they are with mucous cells? They have really three functions: to warm, to moisten, and to filter the air which passes over them. This is the way we compensate for dry and cold air. Furthermore, dust particles stick to them and are captured and retained only to be thrown off via the nasal discharges.

It is necessary to keep these structures free from infection, although it is safer for the individual to confine inflammation here than to allow it to find its way to the bronchi and the lungs. Nature has thus provided fighting defenses which tend to reduce the possibility of nasal infection reaching more vital parts.

Whenever bacteria are able to grow in this location, secreting glands are greatly stimulated and quantities of mucus are thrown off. In a sense this is a washing process, in which the flow will carry away hordes of germs. But some of this material may become dried and hard, thus plugging a portion of the space and preventing exit of the stream.

We have often heard a friend exclaim, "When I blow my nose one nostril is stopped up while the other is free." This is the reason that in the presence of an acute cold the use of a small bit of sterile vaseline [half the size of a pea], placed in each nostril night and morning, is advised. This prevents drying.

Tomorrow's article deals with the sinuses and the common cold, and some directions are given for care.

REDUCING DIET.

R. E. W. writes:

1. Where can I get a list of foods showing their value in calories, to help me in reducing?

2. Are Turkish baths beneficial to one trying to lose weight?

3. Recently you advised a correspondent, who wrote that she was overweight and knew she ate too much, to take a "mild dose of self-control before, during, and after each meal." Please tell me what is "self-control" and is it harmful if one takes too much?

REPLY.

1. All standard books on diet give such lists. You will find some such works in your public library.

2. Yes, if the heart is normal. They are not recommended when there is any form of kidney, heart, or blood vessel disease.

3. Strange to say, a number of readers have asked this question. Druggists here advise that they are "out" of the article. I have never known harmful results to follow an overdose.

FIGHTING FLEAS.

B. H. describes a recent battle with a plague of fleas. The family dog was bathed and scrubbed; later he was sent away for a short stay. Everything in the house was taken out—rugs were shampooed and the furniture thoroughly renovated. In spite of every effort the fleas persisted. Finally the expedient was hit upon of using the old fashioned sulphur candle. Each room was closed as tightly as possible and the fumes of burning sulphur [sulphur dioxide] filled the rooms and lo! the fleas decamped.

REPLY.

Naphthalene has been used in some instances, but thorough fumigation with sulphur is usually efficient. The process may need to be repeated after 2 or 3 days should undestroyed eggs hatch.

ACNE LEAFLET.

M. N. writes:

1. I am a fellow of 15 and my face is covered with pimples. How long will it take for them to go away?

2. Is there anything that can be done about them?

REPLY.

1. Few persons past the age of 25 have pimples.

2. Yes—follow the rules of good hygiene. We have a leaflet on acne which we will be glad to send on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

LONDON.—When parliament resumes its work in October, attention will be given to the question of a pension plan for members of the house of commons.

Labor members of the house desire a compulsory plan under which all members will have to contribute toward the necessary payments. The Conservatives generally are not very keen on a pension scheme on the ground that many members of the house are well off and do not need to make provision for their old age.

A treasury committee is reviewing the subject, and it is probable that it may draw up a scheme for submission to parliament, should the government deem it desirable. The Labor opposition will press the matter as soon as convenient.

The British taxpayer looks askance at figures which reveal enormous increases in the stafs of the civil service. He has always suspected that the gentlemen, and the ladies, too, for that matter, in Whitehall are underworked, and that there are far too many of them for the duties performed. There are 100,000 more than in 1914. Every year since the war the figures have mounted.

In some departments of state the increases are explainable by the growth of work, which applies particularly to the postoffice, but rearmament can hardly justify the admiralty war office and air ministry adding 3,600 officials to their already swollen ranks.

The war office always has been a sinner in the matter of being overstaffed. Even before the rearmament program was put into operation that department had a tremendously augmented pay roll, notwithstanding that the army and the army reserve were smaller than they ever had been; that there was no militia or special reserve, as that force was renamed, and that there were 100,000 fewer territorials than in 1914.

CROWN POINT MARRIAGES.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have read some articles in your paper about Crown Point marriages. Now I am confronted with a problem of my own which deals with Crown Point. I was secretly married in Crown Point during July. I disclosed our secret to our parents and, due to religious reasons, we went to the church and asked our pastor to marry us again.

1. He informed us that, according to the Illinois marriage laws, we are not married and [2] that we have to obtain a new license, undergo an examination and fulfill all of the new requirements that the state provides.

3. In my opinion, that is totally unnecessary.

4. If I am right, could you please send me a written statement to prove that we are married? M. S.

1. We disagree with him, but the point is open to question.

2. He can name arbitrarily the terms on which he is willing to celebrate another ceremony.

3. See 1 and 2.

4. We are not in a position to do this.

Lawyers and judges have been quoted to the effect that Crown Point marriages evading the new Illinois health examination law are void. Doubtless some are void, but in our view many are valid. It follows that parties cannot, as has been implied, safely ignore such marriages.

We base our opinion largely on the fact that the new law, instead of following the example of the Illinois incest statute by expressly voiding noncomplying marriages, merely imposes penalties on issuing licenses without the examination. It is the general rule [38 C. J. 1276] that "the validity of a marriage is determined by the law of the place where it is contracted. . . . An exception to the general rule, however, is ordinarily made in the case of marriage repugnant to the public policy of the domicile of the parties, in respect of polygamy, incest, miscegenation or otherwise contrary to its positive laws."

Since the marriages, as distinguished from the manner of obtaining the licenses, are not necessarily contrary to the "positive laws" of Illinois, the valid-where-celebrated-valid-everywhere principle should apply.

Under the Indiana statutes [such as section 44-302] and Indiana decisions [such as 30 Ind. App. 31], we regard these marriages as valid there, therefore valid here. The fact that opinion differs is, however, enough to make this practice unwise even for parties who would otherwise [foolishly in our view] ignore the health risk.

CHILDREN'S RADIO PROGRAMS.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Several recent letters in this column indicate the awakening consciousness of the worthless and vicious quality of our children's radio programs. For a nation making such rapid progress in child training, it is amazing how long we have tolerated the exploitation of our young through the radio. Radio holds the most pregnant possibilities America has ever possessed of reaching more homes of all levels of society, and of developing a generation of higher appreciations than ever yet attained. These possibilities are not only being utterly thrown away but rather the opposite is true—the taste is actually being lowered.

Children will listen to such programs just as they will make a dinner on apple pie. But we are our children's guardian and are responsible not only for their health but for their mental and emotional growth into strong characters. As a teacher of small children I have carefully followed the negative effects present radio programs have on our small children. And many parents have made the same report to me.

Slot machines and gambling are being cleaned up in our city as breeders of crime. Radio is even more malignant, subtly reaching the child in his younger and most impressive years.

MRS. O. ANDERSON.

DOG LICENSES.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Well, I notice there were quite a number of "suckers" with reference to dog licenses.

I have a little puppy, which I take out daily on a leash and never allow it to run loose, but I was forced to get a license or be sued, while there are any number of dogs in the neighborhood roaming around loose continually, without muzzle, collar or license, and their owners boast of never having had to procure a license.

There just does not seem to be any justice, but perhaps by the time another year rolls around I will have been fortunate enough to become a member of the "I've gotta drag club."

SUCKER NO. 999.

THE TRIBUNE AND THE KLAN.

Elmhurst, Ill., Sept. 15.—Utterly contemptible is the cartoon in today's TRIBUNE, but accords with low standard set in your previous futile attempts to discredit President Roosevelt. No advertising manager or sales director would survive thirty days who adopted your policy, finding only bad in all things prompted by competitors. Such practices exist only in partisan papers. THE TRIBUNE and the klan supported Hoover—no thundering editorials then, no cartoons deprecating klan alliance. I voted for Al Smith.

DOG POISONERS.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—I have noticed in this column that several people have been writing about poisoning dogs.

As manager of the Anti-Cruelty society I urge every reader to send us information concerning any one poisoning dogs or other animals. I assure you we will leave no stone unturned in our efforts to stop such vicious and murderous activities.

WOMEN IN OFFICES.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Mr. Carmichael certainly should duck because he has let himself in for something, and before the women get through with him he'll think he threw out a boomerang.

His remarks about banks changing women from one department to another so they do not assume too much is entirely untrue, because in my several years of association with banks and bankers I do not know of any bank where they do this. In fact, a banker, well up in such circles says: "In a very large measure the public does business with the employé and not with the organization. For this reason banks cannot afford any great turnover in personnel. They cannot successfully exist under a rapid turnover for too much of their good will is tied to employés. Employés, after ten or fifteen years of service, are usually the backbone of any organization."

But this started out to be a reply to Mr. Carmichael, and in all fairness to him, his resentment I am sure, is only due to the fact that his immediate superior is a woman, and naturally to be in that capacity she would be one who had been with a company for some time and knew the routine. Mr. Carmichael simply has a perfectly natural human failing, that of resenting the one whom we feel to be our mental superior.

C. F. LEE.

EVEN SO, HE'LL BE 75 IN 1940.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—At the present time what presidential timber does the Republican party possess? Very little, it seems to me.

Two years ago the Republican organization was solidly opposed to Senator Borah, fighting him in every primary. Yet, running on prestige alone, without organization or money, he made a remarkable showing. It is to be doubted if the "organization" has changed its attitude toward him, however.

Senator Borah today undoubtedly exercises more power and influence than the entire Republican organization that fought him so consistently in the 1936 primaries. Witness his record on Roosevelt's world court plan and his fight in the more recent Supreme court controversy.

The Democratic party swept through Idaho in the 1936 election like a prairie fire, but Borah trumpeted through to a victory that was not even close. Verily, this was a remarkable achievement.

If the Republican organization has learned nothing from its past defeats and offers another weak candidate in 1940, I shall be sorely tempted to refrain from voting, since I presume that the Democratic candidate will be equally distasteful to me.

BUS DRIVER TO THE RESCUE.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Yesterday my wife, two children, and I were driving on Lake Shore drive. At Waveland avenue I noticed smoke coming from under my floorboard. I pulled into Waveland avenue, and much to my surprise, I found fire eating its way through floorboard and the entire car underneath in flames. Chicago Motor Coach company bus 119 came along, and noticing the predicament I was in, the driver took his extinguisher and came to the rescue.

PRESIDENT SETS UP ITINERARY OF HIS COAST TOUR

To Dedicate Bridge Here on Way Back.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt tonight completed plans for his visit to the west coast. The special train will carry Mr. Roosevelt from his family home here to Chicago Thursday morning. The President will be in the city merely to be switched to a west coast railway.

On his return to the east, however, he will dedicate the outer drive link bridge on Oct. 5. His train will arrive in Chicago at 9:30 a. m., according to revised plans, and will leave there about noon unless he accepts an invitation to remain for lunch extended by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago.

Speaks in O'Mahoney's City.

Mr. Roosevelt will make his first platform appearance at Cheyenne, Wyo., the home town of Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Democratic foe of the defeated court packing program. The Cheyenne appearance will be on the morning of Sept. 24. On the afternoon of the same day he will make a platform appearance at Wendover, Wyo., and later in the afternoon he will drive about Casper, Wyo.

Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 25 and 26, Mr. Roosevelt will spend in Yellowstone park. From the park he will proceed to Boise, Idaho, Senator William E. Borah's home city, and will leave his train to inspect Owyhee dam, 75 miles away. No address is scheduled at Boise.

On Sept. 28 he will inspect Bonneville dam in Oregon. From there he will motor to Mount Hood where he will inspect Timberline CCC camp, where he will lunch. From the camp he will motor to Portland, Ore., and on to Vancouver, B. C., where he will reboard his train.

On to Seattle Same Night.

The special will carry him to Seattle, Wash., the same night and he will go directly to the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger. He will remain in the home over Wednesday and leave Seattle Thursday morning, Sept. 30.

From Seattle he will go to Victoria, B. C., aboard a destroyer. In the Canadian city he will be the guest of Lieut. Gov. Eric W. Hamber. About 3 p. m. that afternoon he will leave Victoria for Lake Crescent, Wash., where he will spend the night. The next morning he will drive to Tacoma where he will reboard his train.

From Tacoma he will go to Grand Coulee to inspect the dam there. Thence he will go to Spokane, Wash., where he will arrive about 6 p. m. Oct. 2. He will go to inspect Fort Peck dam near Glasgow, Mont., the next day.

He will come to Chicago on the morning of Oct. 5 by way of North Dakota, pausing to dedicate the grandstand at the fair grounds in Grand Forks and the centennial bridge in St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 4.

Best Guesses on Cubs.

The President has not yet decided whether he will return to the White House or to his family home here. If the world's series is played in New York City about the time of his return it is expected that he will come to Hyde Park and go to one of the games in New York should the Cubs or Giants win the National league pennant.

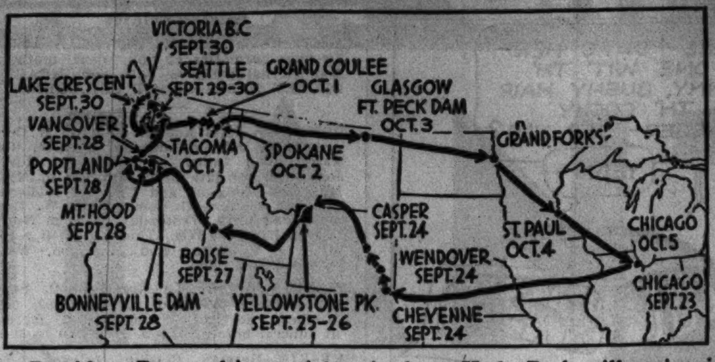
The making of the schedule occupied the President throughout the day. He had a short visit with Senator George L. Berry of Tennessee in the morning and drove about his estate in the afternoon, but spent most of the day arranging his tour.

TWO HURT IN MOVING.

English, Ind., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doolittle, elderly couple removing from Hobert to a farm near here, were hurt last night and their car wrecked when Doolittle lost control. He said a stove in the rear toppled against him.

ROUTE OF ROOSEVELT'S WESTERN TRIP

(Story in adjoining column.)



President Roosevelt's special train from Hyde Park will arrive in Chicago Thursday morning. It will stop only long enough to be switched to a western railway and will proceed to Cheyenne, Wyo., where he will make his first platform appearance. This map shows the route, with other appearances indicated, up to his return to Chicago on Oct. 5, when he will speak at dedication of link bridge.

100,000 TO JOIN IN OUTER DRIVE BRIDGE OPENING

Address by Roosevelt to Climax Ceremony.

When Chicago's newest achievement, the outer drive bridge linking north and south side trafic arteries, is formally opened Oct. 5 more than 100,000 persons will take part in the ceremony.

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes, secretary of the Chicago Charter Jubilee committee, yesterday announced plans for the spectacle. The climax of the ceremony will be the speech by President Roosevelt, who will pause here a few hours on his return to Washington after a tour of the west.

President Roosevelt's remarks will be followed with close interest by the entire nation. The day before his arrival, when the Supreme court meets, it will be known whether the President's appointee, Justice Hugo Black, is to take his seat on the bench despite the storm aroused by revelations of Black's Ku Klux Klan membership.

Luncheon to Open Events.

The day's events will begin with a luncheon at the Stevens hotel attended by the President and 1,000 civic and business leaders. Among other dignitaries will be Mayor Kelly, Secretary of the Interior Ickes, Relief Administrator Hopkins, and Robert J. Dunham, head of the Chicago park district.

Asked whether Gov. Horner would attend the luncheon, Mr. Hodes cleared his throat and remarked: "Well, everybody has been invited." The governor is at odds with the Chicago Democratic organization and is said to be in disfavor at the White House.

After the luncheon a parade will start at 1 o'clock. Mr. Hodes said the line of march will be announced later. The parade is to cover parts of Michigan avenue and the new outer drive.

Roosevelt to Speak from Car.

A pavilion is to be erected at the main link bridge, with ramps for the President's automobile, so Mr. Roosevelt may make his address without leaving the car. His speech, scheduled for 1:30 o'clock, is to be carried to the marchers by an amplifying system.

Included in the parade, Mr. Hodes said, will be the Black Horse troop, units of the regular army, the National Guard, sailors from the Great Lakes naval training station, and the naval and marine reserves.

American Legion posts will carry 100 sets of colors and offer 25 drum and bugle corps and other musical units. Veterans of Foreign Wars are to bear 25 sets of color and present five musical units. In addition, twenty-five other groups of musicians are expected to participate.

Marchers to Depict History.

Policemen and firemen will demonstrate the changes in uniform and equipment from 1837, when Chicago was incorporated as a city. Among the garb will be the police Mack Sennett comedy hats of 100 years ago.

Other marchers will depict the history of Chicago's transportation from the days of the tally-ho. Boxers will spar in movable rings. If the infantile paralysis ban against crowds of children has been lifted by then Boy and Girl Scouts and units from the park, school, and city playgrounds will participate.

It was announced yesterday that 25 policemen drawn from other sections of the park district will be used to police the new outer drive project. Park officials expect an excess trafic load for the first few months.

BLACK SLIPS AWAY FROM LONDON HOTEL; LEAVES NO TRAILS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 20. — After eight days of stubborn refusal to answer any inquiries or receive callers, former Senator Hugo L. Black, recently appointed United States Supreme court justice, slipped away secretly from his hotel today. He evaded newspaper men who have been on his trail since he arrived.

It was reported that Black had arranged to return to the United States on the liner Manhattan from Cobh, Irish Free State, Saturday, Sept. 25, but the report could not be confirmed tonight.

Inquiries at the hotel brought the reply that Black no longer was staying there. It was disclosed that he left about noon without announcing his destination or leaving a forwarding address for his mail.

SLAPS REVENUE BUREAU WAR ON ROOSEVELT FOES

Fish Declares System Is Like Soviet GPU.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The internal revenue bureau was assailed today by Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] as "a kind of soviet GPU or American spy system" which intimidates taxpayers, especially those who oppose the Roosevelt administration.

Fish was commenting upon the forced resignation last week of Morrison Shafroth, chief counsel of the bureau, and his assistant, Russell J. Ryan. After Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau had accepted their resignations they declared that they had been given the choice of participating in the tax-avoidance investigation at the last session or quitting.

Prefer to Quit Jobs.

"We were unable to convince ourselves that it was proper to use the bureau of internal revenue as planned in the investigation," Shafroth and Ryan said. "Being given the choice of participating in the presentation of names or resigning, we tendered our resignations."

"Mr. Shafroth and Mr. Ryan are to be commended as highminded and honorable public servants who refused to stultify their official positions for purposes of partisan reprisal," Fish commented. "The internal revenue bureau has been turned into a kind of soviet GPU or American spy system to intimidate and coerce taxpayers and institute a reign of business terror against opponents of the New Deal.

"All critics and foes of the administration are being subjected to constant tax snooping and un-American reprisals. The hand picked list of names presented to the congressional committee on tax loopholes was virtually a list of important Republican taxpayers, including a former secretary of the treasury and the wife of the last Republican governor of New York.

"Should Be Condemned."

"I cannot let this opportunity go by without publicly paying a tribute to those two able and honest Democrats who preferred to resign their jobs rather than stoop to do the dirty business of the treasury department and the administration.

"A continuation of the un-American practice of using the income tax laws as a political and partisan weapon for purposes of reprisal and retaliation and spreading class hatred is a new experiment in American political life and should be condemned by all fair minded people regardless of party."

BORAH CONTENDS BLACK'S PLACE IS ALREADY FILLED

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, stopping in Chicago on his way from Washington to his Boise home, last night reiterated his opinion that Hugo L. Black is not legally a member of the Supreme court although he has been appointed and confirmed.

"The only way a vacancy can exist is by the resignation, impeachment, or death of a member," he said. "Justive Van Devanter has merely retired, and retirement does not mean severance from the court.

"If the government wishes it may test this legal point. The attorney general can start quo warranto proceedings; ask by what authority Black holds his seat. The matter is wholly within his discretion. The proceedings would have to be filed in a lower court and then taken before the Supreme court for a final decision on constitutionality."

When it was suggested that it seemed unlikely Attorney General Cummings would start such action the senator said: "You will have to draw your own conclusions." He added that he did not believe a citizen with no official status could plead in court against Justice Black's retention of his seat.

PEDESTRIAN KILLED ON HIGHWAY.

Whitehall, Wis., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Edward Wiersgalla, 35, of Independence, was killed Sunday evening while walking on state highway 121, east of Independence. He was struck by a car driven by George Skroch, Independence farmer. Skroch was not held.

State Labor Federation Head Denounces Lewis and C. I. O.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

La Salle, Ill., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The fifty-fifth annual convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor opened here today with a denunciation of the Committee for Industrial Organization by Reuben G. Soderstrom, federation president, who declared that public sentiment is crystalizing against the revolutionary activities of John L. Lewis' C. I. O.

Nearly 800 delegates, representing approximately 400,000 members of Illinois unions, affiliated with the state federation, registered today for the first convention since the unions affiliated with the C. I. O. have been suspended. Federation officials assert that the total membership represented by the state organization is 43,000 ahead of a year ago despite the expulsion of the rebel units.

Calls Lewis Simon Legree.

Soderstrom was loudly applauded when he likened sponsors of the C. I. O., which has split the American labor movement, to southern leaders in the civil war and found in John L. Lewis another Simon Legree. He predicted that the C. I. O. would be forced back into the American Federation of Labor within four years.

"The rebel leaders within the labor movement are dancing today to the rebel tune of 'Dixie,'" Soderstrom said. "I say to you I believe it is a dance of death. The legitimate labor movement has turned against the C. I. O. The public press of the United States, because of the illegal sitdown strike, has turned against the C. I. O. The government, because of the revolutionary tactics employed in sitdown strikes, is quietly developing sentiment against the C. I. O."

After likening Philip Murray, Van A. Bittner, and other C. I. O. leaders to civil war figures, Soderstrom said:

"And if there isn't a resemblance between that mythical Simon Legree and John L. Lewis in creating trouble then I am a Chinaman."

May Be Long Fight.

"These C. I. O. leaders," he continued, "have tried to create the impression that the unions affiliated with the A. F. of L. should disregard the will of the labor movement. It took four years of civil warfare to convince the belligerent elements of the south that there was room enough under one flag for the north and the south, and it may take four years of civil warfare within the A. F. of L. to convince these belligerent elements there is room enough for the industrial union and the craft union under the banner of the A. F. of L."

O'MAHONEY GIVES PROGRAM TO END U. S. MONOPOLIES

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] declared yesterday that the establishment of economic freedom and the suppression of monopolies could and should be brought about by reserving for the federal government the right to charter interstate corporations.

"The only government in this country which has any authority to regulate interstate commerce is the federal government," he told the National Association of Credit Jewelers' convention at the Hotel Sherman. "It must be plain, therefore, that the federal government is the only public agency that should be permitted to make the contracts by which interstate corporations are brought into existence."

The convention, attended by more than 3,000 delegates and guests, will continue today and tomorrow.

Pilots Are Absolved in Crash Death of Four

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Accidental death, with no blame to either pilot, is the verdict reached today by Deputy Coroner H. H. Rodin in the fatal airplane collision in which four persons were killed here Sept. 12. The verdict revealed no evidence was received to indicate either pilot had committed an infraction of rules or was careless.

Black Persian lamb used sparingly but effectively on new black wool. 12 to 20. Coats, Sixth Floor. $89.75. Persian lamb trimmed hat. Modern Room, Fifth Floor. $15.

Coats are as varied as dresses this Fall, and every bit as exciting. They're showing the effects of the allure theme in fashion with all kinds of dressmaker touches. Although fox collars are holding their own (many couturiers, notably Patou, are still showing them) our Paris reports show a trend to trimming of beaver, nutria, Persian lamb, seal, mink and kolinsky. Vionnet shows fur yokes; Lelong fur borders. Piguet shows fur sleeves; Molyneux fur bandings. When the coat is lavishly furred, other things must be of the simplest. But when the coat is sparingly trimmed, you can go in for the new fur accessories. Both kinds of coats (and the right accessories for each) are now at Field's. Today we feature one "coat with little fur" from our huge new collection.

RITES TOMORROW FOR REV. TARDIF, CHURCH LEADER

Priest Dies After Giving Jubilee Sermon.

Funeral services for the Rev. Joseph Louis Tardif, provincial consultor of the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament for the United States, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at Notre Dame de Chicago church, 1335 West Harrison street. Burial will be in Mount Carmel cemetery.

Father Tardif died of a heart attack Sunday evening soon after preaching a golden jubilee celebration sermon at Notre Dame church to celebrate the 50th anniversary of its founding.

He was born in the province of Quebec, Canada, on April 14, 1886. His early education was at the Juniorate of the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament in Terra Bonne, Quebec. He entered the noviate in June, 1905, and some years later was sent to Rome to make his theological studies at the Gregorian university. He received his doctorate in theology and was ordained at the Basilica of St. John Lateran on Sept. 21, 1912.

Father Tardif returned to Canada in 1913 and became the director of the scholasticate there. He subsequently was named superior of the order at Montreal. In August, 1926, he came to Chicago, where in 1931 he was made provincial consultor for the United States. His home was at the rectory adjoining the church.

YACHT RACER'S BODY RECOVERED OFF 31ST STREET

The body of Carmine C. Orgo Jr., 23 years old, 1502 Wilson avenue, who was drowned Sept. 12 when a wave swept him from the sloop Aquila in the Chicago Yacht club races, was recovered yesterday from the lake off 31st street. The drowning occurred two miles off Wilson avenue. The body was seen by Park District Policeman Leslie Segler, who recovered it with the aid of Cottage Grove police.

Orgo, who was married and the father of a baby daughter, was employed in the technical department of the General Electric X-ray corporation, 2012 Jackson boulevard.

MRS. CLABAUGH, WIFE OF FORMER G-MAN CHIEF, DIES

Mrs. Mary Clabaugh, 52 years old, wife of Hinton G. Clabaugh, former head of the department of justice in Chicago and former chairman of the Illinois parole board, died yesterday in St. Francis hospital, Evanston. Mrs. Clabaugh lived with her husband at 1324 Scott avenue, Winnetka. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Farson.

Mrs. Clabaugh is survived by her husband, who is now an industrial engineer for the Commonwealth Edison company; a daughter, Mrs. Milton S. Emerich, and two sons, Hinton G. Jr. and George Francis.

Mrs. Mary Goettert Dies; West Side Undertaker

Mrs. Mary Goettert, 52 years old, who has operated an undertaking business on the west side for the last 15 years since the death of her husband, Nicholas, died yesterday in her home at 2046 West 23d street. She leaves two sons, Peter and Edward Nicholas Jr. and a daughter, Cecilia. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Thursday from the chapel at 2046 West 23d street to St. Paul church, with burial in St. Boniface cemetery.

SHOW ERLANGER ESTATE IS NEARLY 2 MILLION IN RED

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Abraham Lincoln Erlanger, the theatrical man and head of Klaw & Erlanger, left a gross estate of $1,400,816 when he died at his home on March 7, 1930, according to a transfer tax appraisal filed today. The net estate has a deficit due to the expenditure of $202,738 for funeral and administration expenses and debts amounting to $3,095,677. Included among the latter were $771,929 owed the Chase National bank, $308,450 owed the Empire Trust company, $304,479 to the Bankers Trust company, and $161,825 to the National City bank.

Board of Trade Members Attend John Hall Funeral

Many members of the Board of Trade attended funeral services yesterday for John W. Hall, veteran La Salle street provision broker, at the Second Presbyterian church. The Rev. W. Clyde Howard officiated. Pallbearers for Mr. Hall, who died last Friday at the age of 69, were Jerry Kennelley, Daniel Gallagher, Gilbert Lock, W. T. Bresnahan, Hugo Arnold and Joseph Michaleck. Burial was in Oak Woods cemetery.

Chauncey Monahan Dies; Oldest Settler at Picnic

Six weeks after he won a prize for being the oldest Chicagoan at the Old Settlers' picnic, Chauncey Monahan, 88 years old, 7700 St. Lawrence avenue, died yesterday at County hospital. He collapsed Friday while walking in the loop. Mr. Monahan, a retired railroad man, was born on the near west side near the place where the great fire of 1871 started.

News of Radio

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

If the current popularity of bucolic humor on the air continues there may be an acute shortage of homespun broadcasters before snow flies. Ever since Bob Burns came along with his bazooka and sent some of the Broadway comedians back to vaudeville houses, sponsors have been combing the woods for others of the Burns stripe. The Magic Key has been making a lot of noise lately about Tex O'Rourke, the only rural comedian who doesn't come from the mountains.

And last night at local NBC studios sponsors of the new Vanity Fair Variety hour pitched up another one—Cal Tinney, lately hog editor of the Oolagah, Okla., Oosings. [There is actually a paper of that name.] Listeners may be befuddled at such an association—Vanity Fair and a cornfed comedian—but the sponsor makes lotions and doesn't mind at all mentioning a silk purse and a sow's ear in the same breath.

Tinney is something of an anomaly. He has the rustic voice and personality all right, but some of his jests have the familiar ring of the Broadway boys. Old radio gags in slightly different dress. But the fellow does have charm. There may be room for him on the air with a little more sprightly material. He gets a good helping hand from Eileen Barton [you remember her as little Jolly on the Wendell Hall-Milton Berle show], an effervescent little comedienne with a flair for rhythm singing.

The show also offered a new tenor, Douglas Wilson, still in Senn High school, who may achieve real radio popularity; Larry Duncan, an impersonator of the Major Bowes' school, who did a neat takeoff on Eddie Cantor; music under the capable direction of Bob Trendler, and a Hollywood gossip columnist.

Clark Gable will make one of his rare appearances next Monday in the CBS Radio theater, which is offering "Cimarron." Gable's radio appearances are always interesting, even when he plays George Washington at Valley Forge, but listeners miss a good bit of the fun. Last time he was spotted in Radio theater Marlene Dietrich appeared opposite him. The vehicle was "Morocco," in which she had starred in pictures. Gable kicked up such a fuss over this choice that they changed the name to "The Legionnaire and the Lady," which presumably indicated that Gable played a bigger rôle than she.

Then came a spot in the production where Marlene sang, or what passes for singing in Hollywood. Gable walked out of the rehearsal when La Dietrich went into her vibrato on "I'm Falling in Love Again," for which most listeners perhaps would not blame him. And he declined to come back until the singing episode had been taken out of the play. Then Marlene had to be placated. So she was given a chance to sing it at the end of the production after Gable had departed.

Kate Smith, who pushes off on her new hour over CBS Sept. 30, has engaged Tallulah Bankhead and Henry Fonda to give an abbreviated version of "Camille" on her first program. . . . Zenith Foundation will introduce its broadcast theme, telepathy, on its program next Sunday evening.

"One of the Wonders of the World"

says William Lyon Phelps

"It is complete beyond the dreams of any other dictionary.—New York Times.

"There is no other dictionary in the world to compare with it."—London Times.

"Probably the best dictionary of any language."—Review of English Studies.

"The one essential dictionary of the English language for the private library."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

" . . . to search its pages is to enter a field of thrilling adventure."—The Churchman.

"No other dictionary, seeking to set forth the history as well as the meaning of English words, has ever done the job so well. It is quite indispensable to every-one with a serious interest in the language."—H. L. Mencken.

Practically FOR THE ASKING

And Here Is All You Do:

First, a word about the books. For years—for generations—these TEN grand Volumes will be a family pride! That is why we have produced the OXFORD UNIVERSAL ENGLISH DICTIONARY in two superb editions. There is the superb Regular Edition—illustrated here—in sturdy silk-grained binding in a rich, harmonious leather brown. We have built it to withstand generations of constant handling.

CLOISTER DE LUXE EDITION

For those who can be satisfied with nothing but the best craftsmanship and material, we have prepared a special and limited CLOISTER DE LUXE EDITION of supremely rich and luxurious quality. Produced and finished in materials of unusual durability and beauty—expensively die-embossed in a manner fit to grace the bookshelves of a king.

The lettering embossed on the backings in gleaming gold leaf—the specially woven head and tail bands—the heavy end papers—the heavier, costlier covers—never before have such magnificent volumes been offered at anywhere near the give-away price at which you may secure them. It would be difficult indeed to imagine a more superbly handsome set of books than the Oxford Universal English Dictionary in this Cloister De Luxe Edition. But we have only a few of these magnificent De Luxe Editions available. It is necessary for you to decide immediately and indicate your choice—Regular or De Luxe Edition—on the special Reservation Form and the Privilege Voucher below.

ALL YOU HAVE TO DO

The very first thing you must do to make sure of your 10-volume OXFORD UNIVERSAL ENGLISH DICTIONARY is to fill in and mail the special reservation form below. Be sure to specify Regular or the De Luxe Edition. A Library will then be set aside for you—to be presented to you, volume by volume, as you qualify. To qualify is simple. Each day a numbered certificate will be printed on page 6 of the Chicago Tribune. All you have to do is to save 6 of these certificates to qualify for each volume of the Oxford English Dictionary. When you have six differently numbered certificates bring them in to the Chicago Tribune Dictionary Presentation Department, 7 South Dearborn street, together with the Special Privilege Voucher published here, and on payment of only 49 cents you will be immediately presented with your first volume of the Oxford English Dictionary. Or you may claim your volume at any one of the special Redemption Stations. List appears each Saturday on Page 6 of the Tribune.

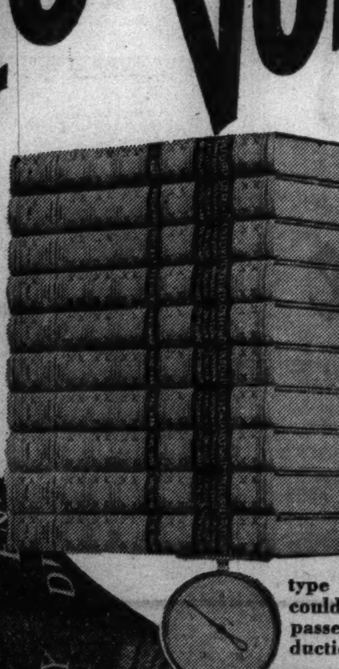
If you prefer the supreme CLOISTER DE LUXE EDITION all you have to pay for each volume is the give-away price of only 79c—No! The 79c is not a deposit—it is the complete and only payment for each volume of the regal De Luxe Edition.

If you wish to apply by mail act as directed on the Voucher.

Repeat this process for each volume each week, until you have acquired the complete and magnificent 10-volume Giant OXFORD ENGLISH DICTIONARY in whichever edition you prefer. Remember the number of dictionaries that we are permitted to produce and can afford to present to readers in this manner is limited. Volumes can be distributed only to those who reserve their copies immediately. Mail your Reservation RIGHT NOW. Clip and save the Special Privilege Voucher—in fact save this whole announcement. This is an opportunity the like of which will never come your way again. You must accept AT ONCE if you wish to secure the world's most honored dictionary.

10 HUGE VOLUMES!

AUTHORITATIVE! Convenient to Use!



21 Lbs. of unsurpassable book production

Weighing more than 21 pounds, this magnificent Oxford Dictionary comes to you in TEN VOLUMES, because every thought has been given to your quick and easy access to every word. Thus, you do not need to lift a very heavy book in order to look up one word. Ready alphabetical reference sends you quickly to the volume and page and word you want. Not only is your Oxford Dictionary greatest from every literary standpoint—it is greatest from the standpoint of CONVENIENCE AND INSTANT REFERENCE. If you really want the best that the world offers in dictionaries, HERE IT IS, YOURS!—almost as a gift. And every volume stands almost a foot high. When opened it measures almost half a yard across. The paper is pure white opaque, pulp-free stock. The type is as clear cut and readable as you could wish. 21 full pounds of unsurpassed craftsmanship in book production.

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

"The Second Discovery of America"

The theme of the New York Herald Tribune Forum on Current Problems to be attended by thousands of American leaders, read by a half-million families, heard by three million over the air

(The Waldorf-Astoria, Monday, October 4th, and Tuesday, October 5th)

The Herald Tribune Forum on Current Problems is a meeting of the informed women of America with the informed leaders in America . . . delegates who come to New York from clubs and communities all over the country to hear both sides of the leading questions of their day . . . and to take back with them material for a year's program at home.

The Forum idea, a meeting place serving as a tribune of public opinion, is probably far older than Rome. The idea of the Forum on Current Problems, now in its seventh year, is the Herald Tribune's by reason of its many years of service to women.

In 1930 it became apparent to an editor of this newspaper — Mrs. William Brown Meloney, Executive Director of the Herald Tribune Home Institute and editor of "This Week"—that a vast community of leaders, stretching across and down the nation, was prepared to take more constructive action on local and national problems provided some organization would direct its program-planning, would make it of practical value . . . and the answer was—the Forum. The 1930 Forum and all Herald Tribune Forums since then, brought to one hall leaders in education, in government, in the arts, the sciences, the social services, in business and industry.

The theme of this coming Forum—"The Second Discovery of America"—is dictated by a generation, a press, a government facing a new kind of world. Youth — specifically 150 colleges and schools representing it—will also have delegates at all Forum sessions.

The names listed here are among those who plan to address this Forum. Most of what they and many others say will be broadcast nationally. All of what they say will be reprinted in the annual Forum Section which will be part of the Sunday New York Herald Tribune, October 10th.

This section, a permanent record of the Forum's proceedings, is commended to your careful attention. It will include all the speeches in full and the messages of Business and Industry. It represents the service a newspaper can render toward an informed public opinion. It will be a document worth preserving.

Meet to Plan for St. Luke's Fashion Show

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE first meeting each autumn of the St. Luke's hospital fashion show committee usually is a sort of fashion show itself, for the women all wear their newest and smartest fall outfits, in other words their "city clothes." This year's meeting, however, was held in the country yesterday at Mrs. George A. Ranney's in Lake Forest, so almost all the forty-two women were wearing the sort of casual country clothes they have worn all summer.

Comfortable tweeds, sweaters, low heeled sports shoes or sandals, mannish felt hats or chic turbans were worn by almost every woman there and pretty young Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams III. had a gay red bandanna tied in Aunt Jemima fashion around her chestnut hair. No one had the will power to count calories after one look at the buffet luncheon table upon which huge roast turkeys, providing the proper seasonal atmosphere, were the pièces de résistance.

Show to Be Held in Hotel Ballroom.

The conversation around the luncheon tables was mainly of the fashion show to be given on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, Oct. 19, in the ballroom of the Stevens hotel, but there were many other things discussed, too, as there always are when "the women" get together anywhere.

Vacations ran the show a close second, for many of the guests were just back from trips or summer homes, but the marriage last week of one of the popular members of the hospital board, Mrs. William L. Hodgkins, to Allyn D. Warren was not far behind as a favorite topic of conversation. That Mrs. Hodgkins, or Mrs. Warren as she now is, will be missed greatly on the day of the show is certain, for she, for the ten years the show has been given, has been one of the efficient backstage reasons for the smoothness and speed of the show.

"She first decided to be married in November," said Mrs. John W. Gary, the president, "but then she changed her mind, which left us somewhat in the lurch."

Fortunately, however, Mrs. Gary has her committee so well organized that there are enough capable women to insure the success of the show no matter which member is missing, unless perhaps it would be Mrs. Gary herself, who has been the general chairman and treasurer since the shows were started.

Tells of Troubles Selecting Models.

Mrs. Charles H. Adams, who with Mrs. W. Irving Osborne Jr. and Mrs. A. Watson Armour III. has the job of selecting the models, told of the woes she and her two young coworkers are having.

"All the shops demand experienced models," she lamented, "Mrs. Walter Paepcke, Mrs. Clifford Rodman, Mrs. Russell Kelley, Peggy Hambleton Murphy [Mrs. John C.], Ginevra Mitchell [Mrs. William H.], Mary Sudler [Mrs. Louis], and their contemporaries are the ones the stores want and all of them insist they will not model.

"Nobody wants the debutantes," she concluded sorrowfully.

Some of those at the meeting were Mrs. John J. Mitchell, who flew home last Thursday from Santa Barbara with Mr. Mitchell and their two children; Mrs. Augustus W. Eddy, just back from a summer on Cape Cod; Mrs. John Lewis Cochran and Mrs. Selim McArthur, just returned from their summer homes on Mackinac Island, and Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, just back from a trip to New York and looking like a fashion plate in a dark cloth dress and gold velvet hat veiled in black.

Others there were Mrs. A. Watson Armour, Mrs. John A. Stevenson, Mrs. Frank P. Hixon, Miss Peggy Hixon, Mrs. Morrison Waud, Mrs. Robert J. Thorne, Mrs. Harold C. Smith, Mrs. Gordon Lang, Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson, Mrs. John C. Pitcher, Mrs. Huntington B. Henry, Mrs. Walter F. McLallen III., Mrs. J. Beach Clow, Mrs. Paul Willis, Mrs. Walter Byron Smith, Mrs. Grant Laing, Mrs. Press Hodgkins, Mrs. John A. Chapman, Miss Cornelia Conger, Mrs. John B. Drake Jr., Mrs. Charles F. Glore, Mrs. Edward R. Litsinger, Mrs. Sterling Morton, Mrs.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The woman whose hair is definitly streaked with gray has special makeup problems of her own. She must, by the deft use of exactly the right accessories, brighten up her face and dramatize her hair.

[Tribune Studio Photo.]

Silver Streak Can Be an Aid to Hair Beauty

What to do when that day arrives on which you must, in all honesty, admit that you've more gray hairs than dark ones?

Our advice is that you take it philosophically and that you set right out to make yourself a gray haired stunner. It can be done. First, realize that gray hair needs more grooming. Keep it trim. There's something infinitely ageing and drab about straggling gray locks. Have rinses that keep the white hair really white—not yellow.

Then look to your makeup. It may be that your brows and lashes need darkening, even though they never did before. It's the halo of white hair that makes them look colorless now. Take to mascara unashamedly, but deftly. Young, bright eyes are invaluable to the white haired woman, no matter what her actual age may be.

Be careful of powder. Some white haired women look better with no powder at all. Above all, don't use a shade that is too light and gives that powdered look. If you're smart you'll experiment until you find exactly what does the most for you. Personally, we favor the liquid powders for the gray haired. There's one, in particular, a dull tone makeup lotion that's excellent. It's applied with the finger tips, and when dry the surplus powder is dusted off gently. It leaves an even, matlike finish that has nothing of the powdered look.

Almost every gray haired woman should use rouge but with skill and restraint. There's nothing more unattractive than big blobs of red rouge beneath white hair. The grandmother in search of her youth effect is dreadful. But soft color in the pink and white tradition is exquisite.

SEPTEMBER along the Des Plaines [from the journal of Mrs. Robert D. Phelps].

Journal— Continuous dropping of acorns, red haws, and wild crab apples are the only sounds in the changing wood where gold-turned foliage of crab apple trees has brushed first autumn color among the forest greens. Along the languid branches abundant crabs are strung like great green beads upon a string. Generous oaks have spread a banquet of fat acorns which eager squirrels are carrying to winter storage. Rosy haws strew the paths beneath red polka-dotted hawthorns, and with each gentle breeze a shower of russet leaves floats down to gradually cover the earth.

LIKE vivid flames are wondrous reds of woodbine traveling up the sides of dark oaks. Half forgotten childhood memories return, stirred by the faint aroma of catnip and pennyroyal. A bee buzzes lazily by, and excited birds dart here and there in the warm air where rays of sunshine stream through thinning foliage to penetrate dark corners of the wood.

I miss the birds that for weeks have fed along the stream and for the first time realize that months must pass before they come again. The crows had met in willows across the river to discuss in raucous tones the day's events, but shortly left to join a squadron of blue jays that flew screaming through the skies in close pursuit of a harassed hawk.

Amid the chartreuse leaves and orange clusters of bittersweet a pensive robin sits with ruddy vest scarce one shade different from that of the gayest berry. The cheery call of "Bob White!" startles me. A rare sound in this wood — September is the only month he ever visits here.

Jewel weed that lifts its skirts and wades the little slough, silver-berried kinnikinik and bladdernuts like miniature green Chinese lanterns all are mere remnants of the richer wood that lived here yesterday.

WITH golden standards flying, vast armies of sunflowers patrol the countryside. Gaudy goldenrod marches beside them along the open road and stands guard duty with them throughout the fading wood. Of loves three, she loves September best and flaunts her Gypsy self and spreads her showy hair in all its yellow splendor to win September's quiet smile.

There is scarlet in the sumac by the roadside and lavender asters nod at every turning. A second blooming of Queen Anne's lace and red clover in the meadow, with overhead a sky as turquoise as my old Sèvres vases.

688 M. E. Churches Pay $770,574 for Ministers

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Illinois conference of the Methodist Episcopal church learned today from its treasurer's annual report that the 688 member congregations paid $770,574 for ministerial support in the last year. This was an increase of $13,526 over the previous year.

Guild Formed to Carry Opera to Everybody

BY MARCIA WINN.

In an attempt to make grand opera in Chicago the delight of the many rather than of the few, a new organization, the Chicago City Opera guild, was announced yesterday. The new organization was founded on the belief that there has been too little civic interest in opera in the past. Moreover, the founders contend, opera in Chicago never has reached the masses of people.

Working as a junior auxiliary to the Chicago City Opera company, the guild has three specific aims: To support the performance of opera in Chicago and the midwest; to make the Chicago City Opera a permanent institution; to promote popular priced opera after the grand opera season is over; and to give young American artists a chance.

At a meeting attended by Jason F. Whitney, president of the Chicago City Opera company, Joseph Mills was elected president of the guild. Other officers are Robert Hall McCormick and Col. Joseph H. Wigmore, vice presidents; Mrs. Amie Heilmann, secretary and treasurer, and William D. Saltiel, counselor.

The first activity of the guild will be a series of social Sunday breakfasts to introduce the artists to the public. The breakfasts, to be held at the Lake Shore Athletic club, will be open to the public, and proceeds will go toward the permanency of the opera. The opening event will be on Oct 10.

"What we want to do," Mrs. Heilmann explained, "is to stimulate interest in the opera. We want to reach the masses of people who have never been asked or reached before.

"We also want to have it as a civic affair, a civic organization for the same reason that the Art institute and the Field museum have their civic backers.

"It should be a civic affair, for opera is something we want to keep in Chicago, and unless we do something about it, we may not."

The seven week grand opera season will open Oct. 30, and the guild has many plans for making attendance better and happier. It will operate a ticket selling service, for instance, in which it will hold tickets, exchange them and do the many odd services the opera company is unable to do.

The guild has filed papers of incorporation as a non-profit institution. It will have an annual membership fee of $10, making it possible for many to join who are unable to pay the Chicago City Opera life membership fee of $100.

Mark Lake Forest Academy's 80th Year in Exercises Today

Alumni and students of the Lake Forest academy will celebrate the opening of the school's eightieth year and the twenty-fifth year of John Wayne Richards as headmaster at convocation exercises at 3 p. m. today in Reid hall chapel.

Former Mayor Francis E. Manierre of Lake Forest, a member of the academy corporation, will recount the school's early history as written by his father, the late George Manierre Jr., pioneer Lake Forest resident who was graduated from the academy in 1864.

Among the students enrolled this year whose forbears studied at the academy are Frank Farwell Ferry Jr., Edgar Crilly Jr., David S. Bradley, son of the A. Ballard Bradleys of Winnetka, and Henry S. Vail, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm D. Vail of Highland Park.

Roosevelt Bodyguard Weds; Takes Bride to Hyde Park

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Thomas J. Qualters, 33 years old, personal bodyguard to President Roosevelt, and Miss Arlene Eade of Lynn were married at St. Mary's church here today before 1,500 persons. A crowd of 2,000 gathered around the church. Mr. and Mrs. Qualters departed by automobile for President Roosevelt's summer home at Hyde Park. There they will be guests of the President and his wife.

Looking at Hollywood

This Town of Ours

BY ED SULLIVAN.

Carole Lombard Likes Technicolor.

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 20.—Sophie Tucker served baked grapefruit to us at dinner last night, and it improves the taste. But hot or cold they still squirt in your eye.

Herbert Marshall was telling me that he will do a play on Broadway, one by Frederick Lonsdale or Sam Behrmann. Lonsdale, notorious for his procrastination, had two acts and two-thirds of the third act completed when he arrived in New York. He got off the boat, experienced the blast furnace heat: "It's beastly hot here," he said, got on the next boat and went back to England.

"What kind of suits do you want, Fred?" asked Benham.

Ted Haris, one of the chauffeurs at RKO, is a dead ringer for Darryl Zanuck, if some of the mob want to pull a "rib" on the Twentieth Century-Fox boss.

Aside to Charles Rogers at Universal: Take my tip and don't cast Mary Astor as Deanna Durbin's mother in the Canadian youngster's next flicker. You will run into a barrage of indignation that will make your hair stand on end.

"Is it a B picture?" Mervyn Leroy queried.

"No—a nervous A," said Foy solemnly.

Fred Astaire's drum dance in "Damsel in Distress" hits a new high. I'll tell you more about it in another column.

Pittsburghers can take a bow on Dave Selznick's brilliant production record, as testified to by receipts at Radio City Music hall. His "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "Garden of Allah," "A Star Is Born," and the current "Prisoner of Zenda" have drawn $1,130,000 into the music hall cash box within a space of twelve months. That is his astonishing record at just one theater, and his Pittsburgh townsmen should give him the key to the city.

Most famous dog here is Allan Woolf's Pico. Seven years ago Woolf found the little brown mongrel on Pico boulevard. The idolatry of the dog for master and master's affection for dog is one of the nicer comradeships of Hollywood. Of all the picture celebs, Pico liked Jean Harlow best. Edgar was relating the fact to me last night. At the mention of Jean's name the dog was electrified. It was the oddest sensation I've ever had, the sight of the dog staring at us, giving tongue to little whimpers of distress.

"Steady, boy" soothed Woolf, and the dog quieted down.

I'm going to make a collection of tongue-twister lines which movie stars can't handle in dialog. George Burns of Burns and Allen yesterday was fumbling with "and then, Gracie, we'll return to our rose covered bower." He finally rewrote it.

Joan Crawford's standin is her sister-in-law, Kasha Le Seuer. When she isn't standing in, so that the cameraman can get the focus and lighting arranged for Joan, the sister-in-law sits on the set and studies shorthand.

They wouldn't let me in to see Miriam Hopkins this afternoon. She was making a bathtub scene and she sent out word that if I were a gentleman, I'd go away. I think she was soft-soaping me.

Herbert Marshall was telling Edgar Bergen at the rehersal for their radio show that he was afraid he'd miss a cue.

"Oh, that's all right," said Bergen, seriously, "Charlie will give you a direct cue as soon as he and I finish our spot." The little wooden-headed McCarthy has become a real person to Bergen. Maybe Judy Canova was right.

Claudette Colbert, Charles Boyer, and Director Anton Litvak carry on all of their conversation in French in the "Tovarich" interludes.

They've kidded a lot about the Ernst Lubitsch touch, but in "Angel," the Marlene Dietrich picture which you'll see next month, the Lubitsch imprint is stamped all over. He carries along his story by showing the butlers gossiping in the pantry as the dishes come back from the table. Not once do you see the dining room itself, but the untouched food on two plates returned to the pantry expresses what is happening better than it could have been told in a thousand feet of dining room shots. The Lubitsch touch makes "Angel" something you will want to see.

Waitresses in the Brown Derby restaurants here wear the silliest costumes I've ever seen. They are starched around the bottom so that the skirts stand out like a ballet costume. One good breeze and the waitress and your soup will make off into thin air.

Fred Astaire and I sat at the Beverly Brown Derby two nights ago waiting for an ascension, but at the end of the night the waitresses were present and accounted for. Prices here are very high—rental prices. Borah Minnevitch started looking for a house here for $150 a month. Now he's up to $400 and still can't get one.

Al Jolson played Ben Bernie a golf match. Bernie won. The next morning Jolson found a letter from a collection agency asking him to pay the $3.75 he'd lost. Anything for a laugh.

Ritz brothers are getting $8,200 a week under their new contract. In Goldwyn's "Follies" however, they're working under their old contract, which is just half.

I've had five moving picture offers since arriving a week ago, but turned them all down. One of us out here should write a column.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Gottlieb, 5520 South Shore drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bettie, to Sidney G. Katz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Katz of Rock Island, Ill. Miss Gottlieb studied at the University of Chicago, and her fiancé studied at Knox college and Northwestern university. The wedding will take place in November.

Pumps Return to Style with New Elegance

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Smooth new groundwork may be seen up and down the street. The return of classic pumps is the big news in glove fitting footgear. Pumps in sooty black suède, and all the high fashion tones of brown are taking the money. These pumps are made with the hazards of instep pinching gone for good. Such inside trickery as a bit of easing elastic over the trying spots, even more intricate manipulation of seaming and skillful cutting of the lether achieves this comfort, providing a new reason for being glad to see the return of these patrician models.

High, decorative heels, less dizzy heights for street and walking and low heels, for the first time designed to be good looking as well as comfortable, are featured. In one collection you'll find the well browned assortment of the year. Ginger brown, deep leaf brown, a red-mud color, and still others ready to match any and every shade of fabric brown. Stunning slenderizing numbers trimmed with a roll of patent lether as an effective buckle trim [this idea is repeated in a matching suède handbag], coquettish high heeled oxfords, with round toes, and short vamps that look as French as a daring new hat are alternates for the pumps, but untrimmed, sleek, distinguished pumps are staging a comeback that is a record breaker. We even found some hitherto elusive pumps in dull fine black kidskin, with two styles of instep outline and as many as three different toe outlines.

The grosgrain ribbon trimmed pumps and more ornamented models still take the spotlight, especially when you buy the ribbon trimmed bag to match. If you're extremely particular about all the accessories matching exactly, one shop will obligingly show you smart simple slip-on gloves that make this accessory shopping a joy.

The Stage

The program of one act plays recently staged by the Federal Theater project [WPA] will be moved from the Princess to the Blackstone theater on Oct. 3. Eugene O'Neill's "The Long Voyage Home," omitted at the première, is now in performance. Art Smith has left the cast of the latter piece to rejoin the Group theater in New York, and has been replaced by Edgar Tegner.

The Goodman theater school of acting will begin its seventh season of productions by superior students on Oct. 4. A comedy called "Accent on Youth," by Samuel Raphaelson, will be the bill. The Saturday matinée entertainments for children will begin on Oct. 16 with "Radio Rescue," by Charlotte Chorpenning.

"You Can't Take It with You," at the Harris theater, will celebrate its 300th performance in Chicago next Wednesday afternoon. Its 300,000th patron was given an official reception last Saturday night.

The Federal Theater project will contribute a drama to the sesquicentennial celebration of the signing of the constitution. Written by Paul Green and Kurt Weill, this work, which will have a musical score, will be staged simultaneously in ten or more cities, including Chicago and New York, on Feb. 22.

"Find This Girl"

BY ROY VICKERS [Copyright: 1937: By Roy Vickers.]

SYNOPSIS.

Bessie Mersand, a nurse, is acquitted of the charge of administering a fatal dose of medinal to an elderly patient. After the trial, as Bessie Mathews, she is given a job by Gwynneth Bentley, caring for Gwynneth's invalid husband. Gwynneth plans to kill her husband and plant the blame on Bessie so that she can marry her lover, Roy Gleason. Medinal tablets are placed in Bessie's charge. Gwynneth hides a valuable jeweled dagger, then puts the ground medinal tablets in her husband's food. She then gives Bessie the day off. In London Bessie meets her friend, Jim Watkin, who has learned of the crime. He hides Bessie. Jim visits Gwynneth for clews. A trowel in her hands gives him a hunch that the dagger is buried in the garden. He warns her the garden will be dug up, then sets a private detective to watch. Gwynneth sees through his plan. She trails him to Bessie and forces her to go with her and stay with a deaf woman at Rose cottage. She tricks Bessie into digging up the dagger. Bessie is caught, but escapes, and hides in the Bentley loft. Sneaking down for food, Bessie overhears Jim denouncing her to Gwynneth. Bessie flees in Jim's car to Rose cottage.

INSTALMENT XXXVIII.
INDIFFERENT TO HER FUTURE.

Jim spent no time looking for his car. He just walked on. At the gate a torch was flashed on him.

"Who are you?" demanded the constable.

"James Watkin. You stopped me as I came in."

"But you were driving a car, sir. I thought you'd gone out a quarter of an hour ago."

"O, that was Mr. Gleason! He got a telephone message and I lent him my car. Good-night, officer!"

"Good-night, sir!"

Jim Watkin walked on to the A. A. box in the road. Here he rang up the nearest garage and ordered a car to take him back to London.

While he was waiting for the car he rang up Rason.

"You're black-out with me, aren't you, Rason! I suppose you won't help me to find Bessie?"

"You've got me out of bed for back-chat, Watkin?"

"No. She spent last night in the loft at Uplands. Now it's up to you, boy! Goo'night!"

The one point on which he said nothing was the manner in which she had made her escape from the house.

The hired car was waiting by the time he had finished and he had himself driven back to London, feeling thoroughly pleased with himself.

His one point of anxiety was his own car—which would inevitably be found somewhere. He would have to think of some reason for abandoning it—wherever Bessie had abandoned it.

After passing the constable at the gate Bessie had no further difficulty. Soon she was running along the lower main road. With a careful look around for any prowling patrols she got out and continued the journey on foot.

Rose cottage was in darkness and she knew it would be hopeless to try and rouse Mrs. Kent, who could not have heard the loudest tattoo on the front door.

With the knife from her basket of looted provisions she managed the sash of the front room window. With her torch she soon found matches and a candle.

The rush of getting away from Uplands had proved a tonic to her melancholy. Jim had repudiated her, thought her a heartless vampire, was even at that moment engaged in hounding her down. The future held no hope whatever, but the present had its insistent claims. Food and sleep had become so necessary to her body that she could think of nothing else.

She made a hearty meal in the sitting room, taking no special care to cover her traces. Then, since there was no point in creeping, she walked boldly up to the bedroom that had been allotted to her on her arrival with Gwynneth.

Mrs. Kent would find her there in the morning. And Mrs. Kent would wonder. And Mrs. Kent could do what she liked. That was how Bessie felt about life—now that Jim no longer wanted her.

She slipped off her dress and got into bed. It was an old-fashioned feather bed almost incredibly soft and warm and comfortable after the lumpy mattress on the floor of the loft.

In ten minutes she was asleep. For the first time since her original flight from Uplands she was utterly indifferent to her future.

Gwynneth Bentley, on the other hand, was anything but indifferent to the new turn of events.

She undressed and went to bed, but sleep was far off. The police, she had come to believe, were easily handled. You gave them clews and they followed the clews in a systematic and reasonable manner and came to the right conclusions.

But Jim Watkin with his sensational, schoolboy mind, broke all the rules whenever it suited him. He made wild guesses—and kept on guessing the truth.

He had guessed—or so it seemed—the existence of Mrs. Kent, who had seemed so utterly safe because she could barely read and could hear nothing. And it was these very 'advantages' which had led the horrible man so near to discovering her.

Mrs. Kent might be cut off from the outside world. On the other hand, there was nothing wrong with her intelligence. She would make a perfectly competent witness. And if Mrs. Kent were to testify that Bessie Mersand had been brought to the cottage by Mrs. Bentley, who had passed several hours in the girl's company, the whole case might take on a new complexion.

Before she went to sleep she decided that she would call on Mrs. Kent, tell her a wild tale and make sure that she did not mention to a soul that the girl had been there at all. After all, it would be easy because Bessie had suddenly disappeared after saying that she meant to stay at the cottage.

"I can easily say that the poor girl is a mental case, that she was taken worse when I drove her out that night and that she has had to be sent to an asylum."

At eleven o'clock next morning Gwynneth drew up outside Rose cottage, confident that there would be no difficulty in putting this simple plan into execution. Mrs. Kent being a pensioner would not ask a lot of impertinent questions like a policeman.

Gwynneth opened the door and walked into the kitchen. Mrs. Kent smiled and gave a polite little bob. Gwynneth spoke in the heavy whispering voice which makes lip reading so much easier for the afflicted.

"Good morning, Mrs. Kent! I want to talk to you about that poor young lady I brought here. You will have been wondering about her, of course——"

"Excuse me, ma'am," interrupted Mrs. Kent in the harsh voice of the stone deaf. "I'll just take her breakfast up to her if you don't mind, else the bacon so soon gets greasy. She didn't wake up only half an hour ago—she's tired out, the poor lamb!"

Gwynneth was speechless. She could only stare while Mrs. Kent lifted a tray and rolled upstairs with it. The only reasonable explanation was that Mrs. Kent was muddled. That she had not read the lips correctly. That she was speaking of some other girl.

"Did you say that Miss Jenner—the young lady I brought here the other day—the daughter of my brother—is upstairs having her breakfast?" she asked.

"Yes, ma'am. And it seems that luggage of hers hasn't come yet neither. I always did hear the railways'll lose anything if you don't watch them all the time. My poor husband——"

"I'm going up to see her," announced Gwynneth.

As she mounted the rickety little staircase Gwynneth felt a sensation not unlike that of stage fright. If Bessie were really there, she must have gone out of her mind. A mad girl might be difficult to deal with if she were frightened.

Almost timidly Gwynneth knocked on the door.

"Come in," called Bessie's voice and it did not sound in the least mad. It positively sounded cheerful.

Bessie was sitting up in bed, partly dressed, a tray across her knees. And she was smiling.

"Hullo, Gwynneth! I was so dog tired after all that time in your loft that I decided to have breakfast in bed. If you've brought the police with you, they'll have to wait until I've finished."

"How did you get here?" gasped Gwynneth.

Patience! That's a Prime Factor in Raising Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Get-rich-quick schemes aren't usually sound. Quick results aren't always good results. This applies particularly to training your child.

Your runabout little boy reaches out for a fragile object, and a sharp slap on the hands may stop him. Your little girl may be doing what you consider naughty and a sound spank may stop her at once.

But this way of coping with the behavior that you want to change, while it may give you immediate results, doesn't get you anywhere in the long run. And it certainly isn't teaching your child anything.

To be sure, your slap or your spank may stop him, but it is an outside stopping. It isn't teaching him to do or not to do something from within, by the exercise of his own will or initiative.

Parents themselves testify to the ineffectualness of this sort of thing. "I spank him but it does no good," or, "I slap her hands and scold her, and while she stops doing that particular naughty thing, she immediately gets into some other mischief," are examples of what I mean. It is impatience as well as lack of understanding that gives rise to these summary measures. Impatience is one of the poorest means to any real accomplishment with children.

So today, as a follow-up of Sunday's article on the most satisfactory way of raising children, I want to emphasize to you very strenuously the value of patience. And by patience I don't mean a tight-lipped, restrain-your-temper-by-main-force sort of patience, but a serene attitude which embodies something different from the ordinary idea of patience.

Hair Still Is Greatest of Your Charms

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Wonder if it is true, as some man said the other day in an interview, that men are more susceptible to the beauty of woman's hair than to any of her other physical features. We asked a few men about it, and got a confirmation from those of whom we did make inquiry. We hadn't time to get around to a larger group to ask, but the fact is that whether or not men are more susceptible to a neatly turned ankle, a svelte waistline, a roguish manner, they always have been sentimentally disposed toward hair. And they have, in the past, seemed to have adopted a proprietary attitude toward their own women's locks, as witness their shrieks about hair bobbing when clippers first went into wholesale action.

We remember domestic breaks in households when the little woman decided on the shorter cut to hirsutical glory. We remember a dad refusing to speak to his wage-earning daughter when she came home shorn of her long hair. It took two weeks to coax him back into a congenial mood.

Then, some years ago, a best seller was written upon the theme of gentlemen's preference in hair colors, all indicating an emotional connection between the fair locks and the stout masculine heart.

But a heap of water has flown down the shampoo basin since man resigned himself to be observer rather than spokesman on the subject of what should be done about woman's hair. And, in the interim, women have perfected a hair beauty that the world has never, in all its years, seen so universally worn. Many women, that is, but not all.

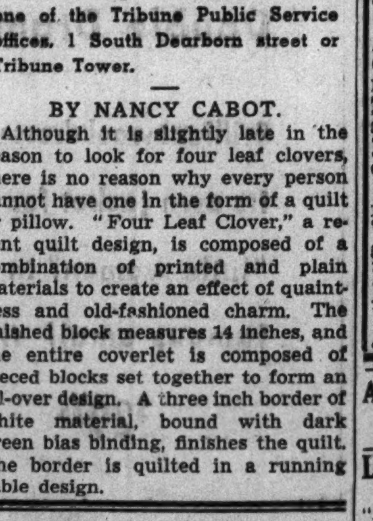
Alumnae Dance.

The Sacred Heart Alumnæ association has made plans for a dinner-dance to be held Oct. 9 at the Evanston Golf club. The party is an annual affair. Mrs. James T. Bristol is the temporary chairman.

Four Leaf Clover Used as Design of Quaint Quilt



Four Leaf Clover.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Although it is slightly late in the season to look for four leaf clovers, there is no reason why every person cannot have one in the form of a quilt or pillow. "Four Leaf Clover," a recent quilt design, is composed of a combination of printed and plain materials to create an effect of quaintness and old-fashioned charm. The finished block measures 14 inches, and the entire coverlet is composed of pieced blocks set together to form an all-over design. A three inch border of white material, bound with dark green bias binding, finishes the quilt. The border is quilted in a running cable design.

Crab apples are pretty mouth puckering to eat, but they do make delicious jellies and pickles. Wild grapes, too, are puckery, but any one who is fortunate enough to obtain a supply for jams and jellies knows that they deserve reverent treatment, because their flavor is almost incomparable.

Fully ripe grapes contain too much sugar to make good jelly. Slightly underripe grapes or half green and half ripe fruit should be used. This is the procedure for wild grape jelly.

WILD GRAPE JELLY.

Pick over the grapes, wash and remove stems. Place in preserving kettle, crush and add about ½ cup of water for each 2 quarts of grapes. Cook until pulpy and seeds are free. Place in jelly bag and extract juice. Measure juice and add ¾ as much sugar as juice, after juice has been brought to a boil. Boil rapidly over high heat until the sirup sheets from a spoon. Skim and pour into sterilized glasses. Paraffin and store in a cool, dry place.

The two tart fruits, crab apples and wild grapes, make an excellent jam. Later on this jam will be found an excellent companion for roast duck at a holiday or company meal.

WILD GRAPE AND CRAB APPLE JAM.

Wash the grapes, discard all poor ones, but do not remove the good ones from the stem. Place in a kettle, adding cold water to about a third the depth of the grapes. Boil the mixture rapidly for about 30 minutes. Strain the fruit through a jelly bag, measure, and add an equal amount of diced crab apples. Bring the mixture to a boil and add ⅔ as much sugar as there is combined apples and juice. Boil the mixture rapidly until thick and clear. Pour the jam into hot, clean jars and seal, or pour into clean hot glasses and cover with paraffin. In the latter case the mixture should be cooked to a jellylike consistency. This may be tested by spreading a spoonful of the jam on a cold saucer and observing its consistency.

CRABAPPLE AND PLUM JELLY.

¼ peck plums
Sugar

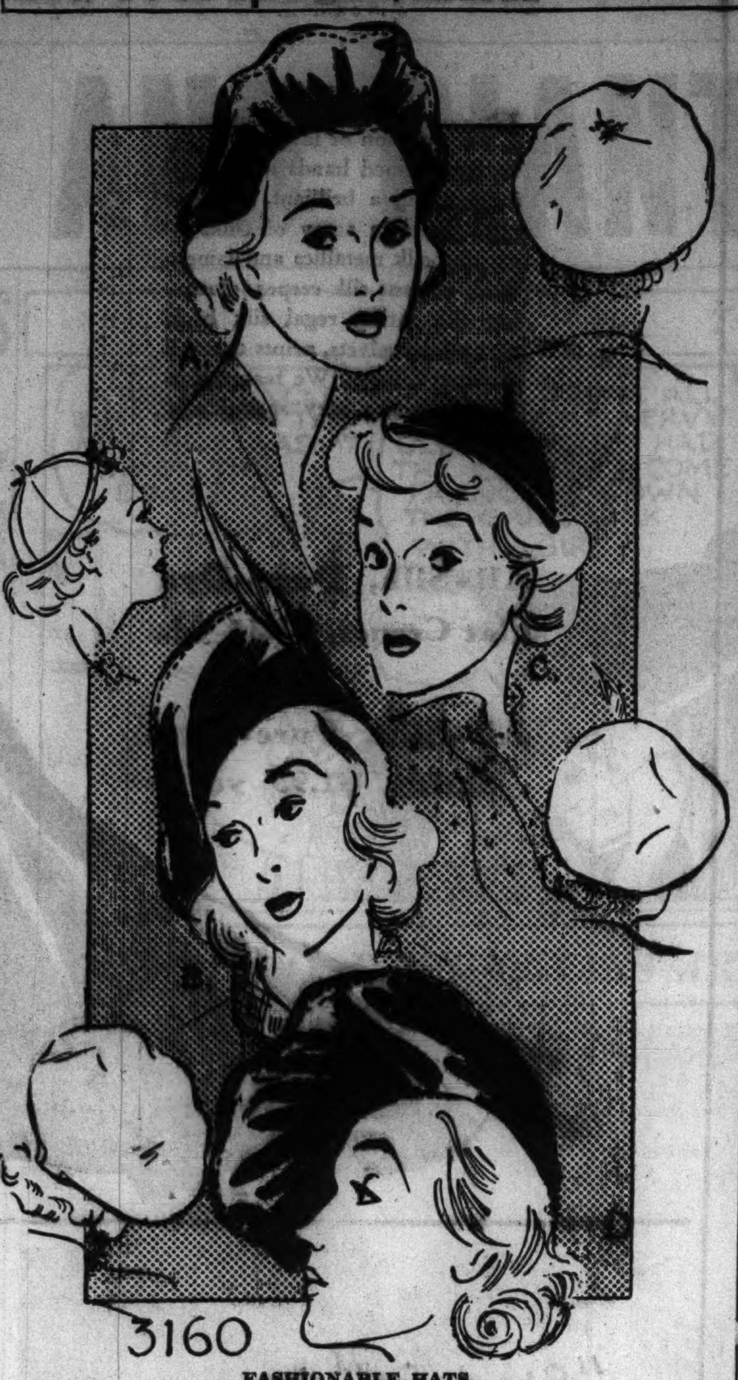
Use underripe fruit. Wash and pick over, but do not pare or remove seeds. Boil fruits together with only enough water to cover and cook until soft. Mash and pour into jelly bag to drip. Do not squeeze the jelly bag. Measure the juice and bring it to a boil. Add an equal amount of sugar and boil rapidly until the sirup sheets from the spoon. Skim and turn into hot glasses. Paraffin and store in a cool, dry place. Pulp may be strained, sweetened, and used for sauce, or cooked down as jam.

PICKLED CRABAPPLES.

Crabapples
1 quart vinegar
4 cups sugar
1 tablespoon cinnamon stick
1 tablespoon whole cloves
1 tablespoon whole allspice
1 tablespoon mace

Choose firm crab apples of uniform size. Do not pare, but remove blossom ends. Make a sirup of the other ingredients and boil until sirup will coat a spoon. Spices should be tied in a bag. Add the apples and heat slowly to keep them from bursting. Simmer until tender. Pack in clean, hot jars, fill the jars with the sirup, and seal at once.

Four Chapeaux, One Pattern



FASHIONABLE HATS.

The pattern presented today includes four modish hats. The pattern provides for only one headsize, which you may adjust to fit your individual requirements. Going high-hat is the thing these days, that is, when it comes to your chapeaux but not to your social contacts! The latter, however, will be immensely improved when you slay the assembled populace with these bonnet numbers.

Let's begin at the top of the sketch and work down. The model shown first is an off-the-face beret, fashion's pet. It has a graceful swoop over your hairline and comes down to just the right degree in back, allowing expanse for your carefully nurtured neckline curls. An alluring wispy veil will be just the thing to lend it glamor "before 5 o'clock." Each velvet and soft felt are ideal materials, and you may even use wide ribbon.

Contrast is offered in the next model and, believe it or not, the same pattern makes it. It is a calot, jaunty and sporty, to wear with your suits and other sports attire. Felt, suede and velveteen are perfect materials.

A feather swoops devastatingly up the side of the next beret, which dips down over the right eye in a manner menacing to even the most adamant suitor. Your long bob will be set off to advantage with this model, and what its high sweep does for your eyes is something you will have to find out for yourself!

Your pet cocktail costume or dinner suit will need the beret shown at the bottom. In fact, you won't be able to do without this model. It swoops forward as if a brisk breeze had caught you from the rear. Be sure to do the left side of your hair especially fetchingly, because this hat exposes it ruthlessly. Velvet is topnotch for this model.

Opera Company to Sign Another 'Teen Age Star

Another girl in her 'teens is to be given a contract with the Chicago City Opera company. She is Miss Beverly Lane, 17 years old, a coloratura soprano. Paul Longone, manager of the company, said yesterday that Miss Lane will sign a three year contract today, and will make her debut on Dec. 8 as Gilda in "Rigoletto." She will appear with Lawrence Tibbett. Almost a year ago to the day, the opera company signed Betty Jaynes, then 15.

Daughters of 1812 Honor Two of Officers Today

The official board of the Illinois Daughters of 1812 will give a reception at 2 o'clock today in the Blackstone hotel for Mrs. Arthur J. ONeill, national president, and Mrs. Bert W. Crissey, state president. Former state presidents will be in charge of the program, with Miss Emma Lee Walton assisting.

Women's Powwow Day at the Onwentsia.

Today is the annual women's powwow at the Onwentsia, the party intended partly to compensate them for two days of golf widowhood over the coming week-end, when the men's powwow will be held, and partly to give the club's expert feminine sportswomen a chance to show what they can do.

Not that the less expert will be forgotten—there will be a prize for the golfer taking the greatest number of putts in nine holes, and for the tennis player who loses the greatest number of games on her serve.

This morning there will be two golf tournaments, one of eighteen and one of nine holes, and a round robin handicap doubles tennis tournament. Numerous prizes will be awarded in all these events. After luncheon there will be a business meeting and election of chairmen of the women's golf and tennis committees, with a bridge tournament following.

In charge of the day are Mrs. Charles Dennehy, chairman of the golf committee, and Mrs. Hugh M. Johnston, chairman of the tennis committee.

A score of the season's debutantes and some of last season's buds have been invited to a luncheon Mrs. Freeman Hinckley is giving today at the Saddle and Cycle club for her debutante daughter, Miss Eleanor McClurg. Miss McClurg is to have a Boston as well as a Chicago debut this year, so her mother is keeping open her apartment at 209 Lake Shore drive.

Miss McClurg has been enjoying the early autumn round of parties in Chicago and along the north shore. On Thursday or Friday she will leave for Smith college. This afternoon she has been invited to attend a tea the Chicago Smith College club is giving for incoming freshmen from 3 to 5 o'clock at the College club. Mrs. Fred G. Heuchling, president, and members of the board of the club will act as hostesses. Other young women entering Smith this fall include Miss Marie Louise Richards, a debutante of next year, and Miss Nancy Dammann.

Mary Elizabeth Macdonald's Spinster Dinner Sept. 28.

The prenuptial entertaining for Miss Mary Elizabeth Macdonald and Hugh F. Waddell, who are to be married Oct. 2, will be crowded into the few days immediately before the wedding, for the bridegroom is not arriving from his home in Peterboro, Ont., until Sept. 29. Before he comes Mr. Waddell will have had his bachelor dinner at home. Miss Macdonald, daughter of the George A. Macdonalds, will give her spinster dinner at home in Winnetka on Tuesday, Sept. 28.

Miss Beatrice Short will give a dinner at home the evening Mr. Waddell arrives, and there will be an evening party the following night, but who will give it has not been settled. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stuart, uncle and aunt of the bride, will give the bridal dinner the next night at the Shoreacres club.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Macdonald, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, will entertain at luncheon for the bridal party at the Indian Hill club on the day of the wedding.

Afternoon Ceremony in Winnetka Church.

The ceremony is to take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Winnetka Congregational church, with a reception following at the Macdonald home. Mr. Waddell and his bride will go abroad on their honeymoon, and will be at home after Nov. 15 in an apartment in Peterboro.

From Toronto will come Mrs. Laurence S. Killaly, eldest of the Macdonalds' daughters, to be a bridesmaid. Miss Anne Macdonald is to be the maid of honor. Other bridesmaids are Mrs. Robert Macdonald, Mrs. George A. Poole Jr., cousin of the bride, and Miss Martha Borland.

Arthur Waddell will be his brother's best man. The bride's brothers, Robert and Angus Macdonald, will be the only Chicago ushers. The others are Ian McClean, Murray Boswell, and Dr. Ian Hodge of Toronto, and Arthur Ackerman of Peterboro, a cousin of the bridegroom.

The Herbert P. McLaughlins became the parents of their third child, a daughter, Sunday morning at the Presbyterian hospital. The baby has been named for her mother, the former Corinne Brewer. She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harris Brewer.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kohler are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Sunday at the Evanston hospital. The baby has a brother, John M. Kohler Jr., who is 3 years old. He is the eighth grandson of former Gov. and Mrs. Walter Kohler of Kohler, Wis. Young Mr. and Mrs. Kohler, who have been living in Glencoe, are moving Nov. 1 to Kohler.

Lester Armours to Live in Chicago This Winter.

The Lester Armours, who have been year around Lake Forest residents for several years, are coming into town this winter so that their debutante daughter, Betty, will be near the center of gayety. They have taken an apartment at the Ambassador East.

The Stewart Harveys left yesterday to live in Kansas City. Mr. Harvey's brother, Byron S. Harvey Jr., and Mrs. Harvey, who have been living in Kansas City, will arrive in Chicago Oct. 1 to occupy an apartment they have taken at 70 Cedar street.

Miss Elinor Talbot, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Talbot, has returned home from a trip abroad with her aunt, Miss Margaret Conover.

The opening program of the fall season for the North Shore auxiliary of the Chicago Maternity center will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry L. Hampton in Evanston. Jean Fardulli, baritone with the Chicago City Opera company, will be guest artist. Mrs. Paul W. Cutler and Mrs. Millard B. Kennedy are to be in charge of the tea and reception.

Especial guests at the event will be the hostesses who opened their homes last year to the Maternity Center auxiliary, among them Mrs. John L. Kellogg, Mrs. Albert E. Cross, Mrs. August F. Daro, and Mrs. James G. McMillan.

Back to Vassar

Among the young women who are returning to schools or colleges this week is Miss Virginia Creigh, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Creigh of Highland Park. Miss Creigh is returning to Vassar.

If Husband Dislikes Your Attire, Listen

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Mrs. X would like to know just how far a wife is expected to go in trying to please her mate on the subject of clothes. Her man, she explains, has no taste in dress and he believes himself to be the last word in authority.

On a recent test, walking along a boulevard, said mate was asked to pick out, for his wife's education, any and every woman he thought looked well, "almost to a woman," he picked the worst on the street that day, his wife reports. "When I told him so he got furious and we had a bitter quarrel. In order to patch up the quarrel I offered to let him come shopping with me and select an outfit. He spent far more than I would have and I don't like the hat or the dress one bit. Another quarrel was precipitated when he insisted that I wear the outfit last Sunday afternoon!"

It probably is asking a good deal of a woman with a mind of her own about what is becoming to her to try to cater to her man's taste. But even if it were a sacrifice to have her don HIS outfit, in the name of holy peace, wouldn't it be better to concede on requested occasions at least?

Besides, there is the chance that the man is right. His taste may be better. Women often get the darnedest notions about what is becoming to them. We know a woman, for instance, who chooses a certain color that is horrible on her. It makes her sallow and oldish. But do you think any one could tell her so, least of all her man, who has to see her all too frequently in that shade?

We can think offhand of several women whose husbands' clothes interest and taste have developed the women into the class known as the best dressed. Then we women can't override the fact that there are men dress designers of world-wide fame, men who set fashions that millions of women follow.

However, the point of interest that should be that of the women of the world is that a man who takes an interest in his wife's dress isn't out to make her wear things that look awful on her. It is a pride in his wife he is trying to exhibit. So what he thinks might be interpreted as his idea of how she should appear before his friends to do him proud as well as her. So a compromise every now and then, at least, should be gracefully volunteered, we think.

Expect Enrollment at U. of Illinois Will Reach Record 12,500

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Enrollment in the University of Illinois is expected to reach a new all time high of nearly 12,500. Upper classmen will finish registering for the coming school year tomorrow. Some 5,000 freshmen registered Saturday.

Wednesday morning class bells will start the university's 1,210 courses under way. Wednesday evening the entire student body will gather on the quadrangle to hear President Arthur Cutts Willard, Mayor John Gray of Urbana, and Mayor James D. Flynn of Champaign speak at a huge all university welcome.

Limitations have had to be placed on chemistry classes enrollment because of limited laboratory space. Other curtailments may be necessary.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

THE PROBLEM OF ACELESS HANDS.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

Another logical modification in the case of asking bids is applied to forcing two bids. We run up against a tremendous range of hands, especially after opening two bids and other very powerful bids, in which partner has no aces and yet the meager balance of values, two or three kings or queens, or a singleton, are decisive in the success or failure of a slam bid. Hence the following rule when responding to any asking bid:

After any opening bid of two in a suit, the response to an asking bid to show second round control is: [a] another ace if available, failing which, [b] the required number of no trump.

South	North
2 hearts	2 spades
4 diamonds [asking bid]	4 no trump

North's four no trump shows either a singleton diamond or the diamond king. At the same time it denies any ace in the hand, since the first preference in showing a fit is another ace.

All other requirements and responses governing asking bids after an opening suit bid of one, remain unchanged when the opening bid was two, except the following:

Holding the king or a singleton of the asked suit and two aces outside; or two aces including the ace of the asked suit, jump one trick in no trump.

TODAY'S HAND.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	1 heart	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I was South. West opened the eight of diamonds. East won with the ace, and returned a heart. I ducked, and West, obviously to prevent diamond ruffs, went up with the heart ace and returned a heart. Dummy's jack won, East discarding a diamond. I reëntered my hand with the diamond king, and led a club. West hopped up and, apparently deciding that he would like to ruff a club, returned the five spot. Dummy's jack lost to East's ace. East now rightly decided that a club lead to dummy's tenace would be foolish, hence returned a diamond. I ruffed, laid down the king and queen of hearts, and then led a spade toward dummy. West, a cautious player, split his honors. Dummy's ace won, and the club queen followed. West ruffed and laid down the spade king, neatly smothering his own partner's queen. He then had to make me a present of the last trick in spades.

"Naturally, I was highly elated, having fulfilled my doubled contract. Am I right in thinking that East was at fault in leaving in the double of one heart? In his position I certainly would have rebid my diamonds.

"Yours very truly,
"A. R. T., Brooklyn."

You are quite right in your assumption that East erred in leaving in the double of one heart. He had an unbalanced hand and only a singleton heart. His general honor strength was not so great that he could hope to aid materially in the defense against a one contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Partner opened the bidding with one no trump. Opponents did not bid. I bid two clubs. What should partner's next bid be with the following:

♠ Q 9 6 4 ♥ K 8 7 ♦ A K 6 ♣ A J 8?

Answer: Two no trump.

Amelia Earhart Book Is Completed Under 'Last Flight' Title

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—"World Flight," Amelia Earhart's own story of her attempt to circle the globe, was finished today, but under the name of "Last Flight." Concluding touches were put on the manuscript by the lost aviatrix's husband, George Palmer Putnam.

The book is actually Miss Earhart's work, Putnam said, explaining that he simply edited the copy. The aviatrix wrote the introduction before she left Oakland on the first lap of the attempted Pacific crossing. This she followed with description of the eastbound flight until the final take-off from Lae, New Guinea, on the fatal hop to Howland Island last July on which Miss Earhart was lost at sea.

CUBS AND GIANTS WIN; OPEN SERIES TODAY

ILLINOIS RELIES ON FAIR TEAM, CLEVER COACH

Fans Remain Loyal, Win or Lose.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 20.—Unless Bob Zuppke can yank a few rabbits out of his hat, which is ordinary proof of magic powers, his twenty-fifth year of football coaching at the University of Illinois probably will be no more successful than last season. Indeed, the Illini did remarkably well last year when they won two conference games, lost two, and tied Iowa.

But loyal alumni are not honoring Zuppke in anticipation of this year's campaign. To be sure, there is a feeling that a football renaissance is on its way, but Zuppke's silver gridiron anniversary celebration primarily is praise for other days.

Illini Always Fight.

Through Illinois' football depression there has been no murmur of discontent, for Illinois teams always have played up to their ability. There have been years, last season, for instance, when the linemen were so light that a prairie wind might have pushed them over. And there have been times when the back field players never ceased stumbling. But when Illinois couldn't score, it always gave the other fellow trouble and frequently caught up with and passed a complacent rival.

No one will forget soon Illinois' triumph over Southern California two years ago when blocking punts was Illinois' best play, and a confusing razzle dazzle was another weapon. Nor will Michigan, in its championship days, nor Ohio State on any Saturday, forget the fierce battles with Illinois.

They'll Bear Watching.

So it might be written in advance that while this year's team may be incompetent offensively, since defense also is half the game, the Illini cannot be sold short. Certainly Illinois, despite lack of back field material, must be regarded as highly as Michigan and Chicago, teams defeated last year. Indiana is not entirely beyond reach, and Northwestern and Ohio State each scored only two touchdowns last fall on the Illini.

All of which emphasizes Illinois' defense. That defense, despite inexperience, should be better this fall. Certainly the line will be heavier. Not since championship days has Zuppke had enough competent young men for the line whose average weight would equal this year's figure of 196 pounds. And these linemen have shown more agility and aggressiveness than is commonly associated with such bulk.

Berner Becomes a Back.

The back field is another story. When Capt. Lowell Spurgeon, now shifted to left half back after last year's campaign at the blocking back, and Jay Wardley return to the line-up—they are injured—they must form the nucleus of this year's attack. Wardley has been named for the quarter back and field general's job. Merlyn Burris, a junior from Catlin, Ill., Dan Smith, Champaign sophomore, and Bill Usinger, a sophomore from Alton, have been used at right half. Usinger sprained an ankle today and will be out for a week.

The veterans Bob Wehrli and Tony Mazeika, also have been playing left half. For relief of Wardley at quarter back there are Phil Pezzoli, Chicago Heights junior; Joe Brown, a member of last year's B team, and John Berner, a two letter man who until this fall thought he was a tackle.

For that matter, Zuppke may reassign the whole back field. He's done it before.

One Veteran in Line.

For more encouraging news let us return to the line. In the list of seven men who started the game Saturday against the freshmen there was one letter man, Bob Castelo, at right end.

There are more letter men, but either they have not won varsity berths or Zuppke is giving new men every consideration before the season opens Saturday against Ohio university. Melvin Brewer, a 205 pound guard from Carbondale, has left guard nailed down. He is said to be one of the finest football prospects in recent years. Harry Siebold, a sophomore from Roosevelt High school, Chicago, apparently is the preference at right guard.

Guards Are Plentiful.

Other guards are the veterans Dick Fay, Atwood senior, and Bob Porter, River Forest junior, and Sophomores Jim Hodges of Rock Island, and Bill Haviland, Janesville, Wis. Then there's Ed Skarda, from Harrison Tech, Chicago, who started his career here as an end, played tackle last fall, and now is listed among the guards.

Big Willard Cramer, from Austin High school, Chicago, and Jim Reeder, sophomore from Tuscola, are the first choice tackles. Al Lundberg of Streator; Harry Lasater of Fairfield, a letter man last year, and Sophomore Bob Burkett of Biggsville are other tackles.

Jim McDonald, moved from tackle where he failed to win a letter last year; and the sophomores, Bill Lenich of Joliet and Peter Kovachic of Whiting, Ind., are the centers. All re highly regarded.

WHY ILLINOIS FANS ARE LOYAL

Ross Is Favorite to Retain Title in Carnival of Champs

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 20.—The current Gotham bedlam, which is the nineteenth annual convention of the American Legion, is making it difficult for Mike Jacobs' trumpeteers and ballyhoo spielers to herald fully the carnival of champions which is to be celebrated next Thursday at the Polo Grounds before 60,000. The 60,000 figure is based upon hopes rather than advance sales, but no alarm is being felt at this time.

The carnival of champions, in case you hadn't heard, is to be an unprecedented fistic fiesta in which no fewer than three world champions, including Chicago's own former Golden Glover, Barney Ross, will defend their titles on one card, each at the championship distance of 15 rounds. Lou Ambers will seek to continue as boss of the lightweights, and Sixto Escobar will defend his bantamweight crown. Marcel Thil will endeavor to protect his middleweight equity in a match which Jacobs insists is a title bout, but about which the New York commission officially has said "No!"

Barney Draws Garcia.

Barney will defend against Ceferino Garcia, a Filipino who very frequently strikes an opponent with great force. Barney has fought Ceferino twice and on one occasion, in their first encounter, got his bloomers all caked with resin as a result of failure to elude one of the Filipino's slashes. It was a most unusual experience for the Chicagoan. Barney won both engagements, but not without difficulties in each affair.

Ross will take down $35,000 for his tilt with Garcia, the latter accepting a mere $5,000 because he remembers the time he knocked down the champion and thinks he will be the new king. The wagering fellows, however, are placing their dough on the theory that Ross is the most likely of the four champs to retain his title in Thursday's doings.

Ambers Is Favorite.

Rivaling the Ross-Garcia bout in interest is the lightweight match between Ambers and Pedro Montanez, the Porto Rican who won a decision over the champ here last April 5 in a nontitle encounter. Ambers' training has indicated he is in better trim than when he lost to Montanez. Ambers, it has been announced, will get $65,000 for his end and Montanez $40,000 as challenger. The opinion prevails that Montanez likes the ten round limit better than the 15 round route.

The show, which is expected to run from 8 o'clock until after midnight, will open with the middleweight match between the non-English speaking frog, Marcel Thil, who perhaps is not taken as seriously as the other champs because he has no hair on his pate. Nevertheless Marcel will receive $30,000 for defending his disputed 160 pound title against Freddy Apostoli, ex-San Francisco bellhop.

Escobar Bout Last.

Apostoli has arranged to work for $5,000, and if he belts Thil on the chin with the best of his socks there will be a new European champion. Apostoli, not so long out of the National A. A. U. ranks, has fought 27 battles, taking 11 of them by knockouts. He has been knocked out once, by Freddie Steele, the recognized world champion in the United States, in 1935, the year in which he launched his professional career.

The curtain will be rung down with the match between Escobar and Harry Jeffra. Though Escobar is the champion, he twice has lost to Jeffra. In Baltimore last October Jeffra knocked down Sixto and got a ten round decision. And there was no hissing the decision when Jeffra's hand was raised at the end of the tenth round here last December.

The entire card will cost $196,000, which, of course, is not tin for a fight show not involving a heavyweight championship. Promoter Jacobs has indicated he expects a $400,000 take, but he won't have to dig into his wallet for any salted assets if the gate grosses only $250,000.

Softball? Thanks, We'll Take a Nice Quiet Massacre

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Sept. 20.—(AP)—It may be softball to some folks, but not to the players of the Greenbrier club team. Five casualties was enough, so the boys called off a game with the White Sulphur squad. John Kearney suffered a thumb injury and gashed head, then David Rains dislocated his shoulder, Gerry Hunt sprained an ankle, and Charles Tuttle dislocated his thumb. They quit after Jerry Dineen broke his leg.

Guldahl Wins Western Open Title Playoff

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., Sept. 20.—Ralph Guldahl, who last year taught an object lesson to young men in the doldrums by his victory in the western open golf tournament, today appropriately celebrated that revival by defeating Horton Smith, 72 to 76, in the eighteen hole playoff for the 37th annual championship at the Canterbury club.

Guldahl's second successive triumph in the show, which yields only to the national open in tradition, marked the first double any titleholder has accomplished since Walter Hagen completed the task in 1926 and 1927. He also became the first champion in history to hold the national and western crowns in the same year. He shot a record 281 in the national open at Detroit last June.

No Wind to Plague Them.

Guldahl and Smith, both of whom call Chicago home, finished the regulation 72 holes of the tournament last night with cards of 288, even par for the Canterbury acres. This was slightly above the 274 with which Guldahl made what was intended to be his last stand as a competitive golfer at Davenport, Ia., a year ago last June. It was that triumph which moved the young man to reconsider his decision to quit the game and come on to finish second in money winnings to Smith.

The sun shone throughout the morning, with little or no breeze to plague the finalists' shots. Capricious winds indigenous to Canterbury had bothered players in the regulation

GIANTS KEEP UP PACE; DEFEAT CARDINALS, 10-3

Victory Gives Hubbell 20th of Year.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 20.—(AP)—By the simple means of getting away to a flying start and then giving Carl Hubbell the job of staying in command, the New York Giants walloped the Cardinals, 10 to 3, with a 17 hit attack today to retain their 2½ game National league lead.

The victory, featured by a first inning outburst in which each club connected for six straight hits, driving both starting pitchers to the showers, gave Hubbell the honor of becoming the first pitcher in the National league to win 20 games this year.

Hubbell Fans Six.

Taking over at the start of the third, after Cliff Melton had been hammered off the mound in ⅓ of an inning and Walt Brown had been relieved in 1⅔, Hubbell yielded four hits and fanned six in a seven inning relief performance. The Giants exploded their heaviest hitting attack since mid-August, sewed up the ball game with a five run splurge in the first inning, and never were in trouble with Hubbell on duty.

The Cardinals were under the added handicap of serving without four members of their cast. This development, however, was largely their own fault. In the third inning Don Gutteridge and Leo Durocher argued too strenuously against decisions on called strikes, and were tossed out of the ball game. In the sixth, Manager Frankie Frisch gave Umpire Dolly Stark a razzing from the bench and went out the same way.

A Great First Inning.

Lefty Bob Weiland, the Cardinals' starter, was removed before a man had been retired as the first six Giants hit safely in the first inning for five runs. Ray Harrell and Sheriff Blake followed him for the rest of the game, but it made little difference in the final result, except for the size of the score.

Melton, however, did little better. The first half dozen Cardinals clubbed his delivery also, but fine fielding by Jimmy Ripple, who caught one potential run off third, and Burgess Whitehead and Gus Mancuso, who foiled an attempted double steal, held the St. Louis score down to three runs. Score:

CUBS MUST WIN GIANT SERIES TO KEEP TITLE HOPE

The first place Giants and second place Cubs will start work this afternoon on a three day program that either will clear up or further complicate the National league race. Two Giant victories in the series just would about put the Cubs in a hopeless position. Three victories for the Cubs would make it a fifty-fifty affair to the finish.

The Giants have 16 more games and the Cubs 13 more to play. All of the Giants' games, after leaving here are with the Phillies [4], the Bees [4], and the Dodgers [5]. The Cubs have 6 with the Cardinals and 4 with the Reds immediately ahead.

If the Giants win 8 of their 16, the Cubs would need 9 out of 13 to tie and 10 out of 13 to finish in the lead. If the Giants win 10 of 16 the Cubs could tie them only by taking 11 of 13.

If the Giants win two of the three games in the series starting today they would need only 8 out of the remaining 13 to assure themselves a tie if the Cubs should win all their ten games with the Cardinals and Reds.

FRENCH IS GIVEN JOB OF REDUCING NEW YORK LEAD

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Gabby Hartnett.

The Cubs kept on traveling in the right direction yesterday, but were almost forced into a disastrous detour in the ninth. The Brooklyn Dodgers, who had been pleasingly quiet all afternoon, suddenly ran amuck, shoved four men across the plate, and had three others waiting to score when the final out was recorded. The timely snuffing out of the rally left the second place Chicagoans ahead by 5 to 4 for their fourth straight victory, but still 2½ laps behind the Giants, who invade Wrigley field today.

Larry French was nominated to pitch the opening game for the Cubs today. Harry Gumbert is the probable Giant selection.

The Dodgers' ninth inning stampede came after Bill Lee had demonstrated a return to form by rendering an eight inning exhibition in which the enemy produced only two hits. He soared into space with such speed in the final session that he filled the bases before anybody was retired. He was permitted to linger a bit longer, but there was no improvement, so away he went. Clay Bryant came to the rescue, but he, too, failed and Rookie Bob Logan had to dash in to accomplish the final out.

Phelps Troubles Again.

That fellow, Babe Phelps, who furnished the Cubs with a flock of worries by hitting safely four times in the Sunday struggle, had a hand in the jolt that prevented Lee from finishing his second victory since Aug. 3. Babe's offense on this occasion was a single which drove in the first two of the four runs in the ninth. The other two were due to Bert Haas, the Three-Eye league rookie who specializes in pinch doubles. He doubled for the third such hit in three days while doing the swinging for some other fellow.

The Cubs managed all their run production in two innings, the cousin in these two profitable spots being Fred Frankhouse. He was dented for a pair of runs in the fourth, the principal ingredients being a triple by Bill Jurges and a single by Lee. In the sixth they knocked him into the ranks of the unemployed, his exit being hastened by a wild toss from the arm of Woody English. The error let in one run and created an inviting situation for Gabby Hartnett. Gabby took advantage of it by singling two mates home.

Cubs Try Hard but Fail.

The Cubs tried hard enough to get a run as early as the first inning, but luck failed them. Hack opened with a single to center and raced to third when Herman singled to right in response to a hit and run signal. Demaree slashed a low liner toward first but Hassett got his glove around

BADGERS ELECT BENZ CAPTAIN FOR FIRST GAME

Veteran Lineup to Oppose South Dakota State.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Fred Benz, senior end, was chosen today to lead the Wisconsin football team in its opening game Saturday against South Dakota State at Camp Randall. A new captain will be named for each game.

Veterans appeared to have the call over sophomores in all but two positions today as the squad began its last week of preparation for the opener.

A tentative starting lineup included Benz and John Loehrke at end, Robert Eckl and Gene Brodhagen at tackle, Walter Cole and Bill Davies at guard, Neil Pohl at center, Erv Windward at quarter back, Roy Bellin and Billy Schmitz at the halves, and Howard Weiss at full back. Eckl and Schmitz are the only sophomores in that group. Jack Murray, another newcomer from Plymouth, Pa., is a possibility at center.

Scrimmage this week will be held to a minimum because of minor injuries to the veterans Weiss, Benz, Brodhagen, Cole, and Cernon Peak, reserve end.

N. U. STUDIES LINE PLAY.

With only two weeks remaining before the opening game with Iowa State on Oct. 2, Northwestern's football team settled down yesterday to remedy the weaknesses that cropped up in last Saturday's first scrimmage.

The coaches were pleased with the pass attack but were highly critical of other departments, including blocking, tackling, and line play. The scrimmage demonstrated the Wildcats lack adequate line replacements.

Barring injuries, it almost is certain that the starting backfield will consist of Don Heap and Bernard Jefferson, half backs; Fred Vanzo, quarter back, and Jack Ryan, full back. This quartet turned in the most consistent performance in the intrasquad game. Bob Swisher, veteran half back, also played a sparkling game. He will share the left half back position with Heap.

PURDUE POINTS FOR BUTLER.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Active preparation for the season's opener with Butler's undefeated eleven of last fall was launched this afternoon as Coach Mal Elward pointed out to the Purdue football squad the numerous mistakes made in last Saturday's intra-squad game.

NOTRE DAME REVIEWS.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Notre Dame's football squad, chastened by Saturday's poor showing against the sophomores who are ranked no better than the fifth team, started at the bottom today with a drill on fundamentals. Blocking and charging for the line and blocking for the back field—elements which were sadly lacking Saturday—were stressed.

Tad Harvey of Wilmette, Ill., right tackle, whose defensive play stood out for the sophomores, was advanced to the third eleven in today's workout.

MAROONS ARE ENCOURAGED.

Hope is beginning to bubble on the Midway, a phenomenon not unusual at this stage of the season. The current reason is the showing made by half a dozen Maroon sophomores who played with the second string which defeated the varsity 13 to 7 in a scrimmage Saturday.

A bright spot is the work of Louis Letts, sophomore half back who intercepted a pass to score one touchdown and tossed another to Bob Wasem, sophomore end, who took it for the second score.

CALIFORNIA BOAT WINS STAR BOAT TITLE ON POINTS

Port Washington, N. Y., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Walther von Hutschler's Pimm, German sloop, won today's final race of the star class international championship series, but Milton Wegeforth's Lecky from San Diego won the series.

Lecky hasn't won a race, but its average is the highest of any of the fleet of 36 starters, and after placing fourth this afternoon it had 164 points to 159 for Pimm, which took second place in the series, far ahead of the rest of the fleet.

Lecky placed second in the first race, sixth each in the second and third races, fifth yesterday, and fourth today.

The German boat's four first places were overbalanced by the fact that on the opening day's race it finished twenty-second.

Masons Upset Florals, 3-1, in Softball Tourney

Dr. Mason's Opticians upset the Senate Florals, defending champions, 3 to 1, last night on three home runs in the softball tournament at Mills stadium. In other first round games the Salerno Cookies beat the Sandbergs, 4 to 3; the Thomas Mouldings whipped the Corsairs, 9 to 1; the Winkler Motors won over Weidenhoff, 8 to 2, and Art Publishing defeated Guardian, 10 to 8.

Arkansas Tackle Found Electrocuted in Dormitory

Fayetteville, Ark., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Lunday Corbett, 21, of Walnut Ridge, 215 pound tackle on the University of Arkansas football team, was found dead tonight in a dormitory room, the victim of an electric shock. Physicians said he apparently had been electrocuted by a loose connection on a bed lamp.

Ohio Prepares Defense for T.C.U. Passes

Columbus, O., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—With the first game of the season only five days away, the Ohio State football squad today started work on defense for formations used by Texas Christian, the Buckeyes' first opponents. A "B" team armed with the T. C. U. plays worked well in all departments except passing.

The list of injured now includes Mike Kabealo, John Rabb, Esco Sarkkinan, Frank Zadworney, Frank Clair, Louis Young, and Sam Bartschy.

Frank Fordham showed up well both on offense and defense as understudy to Rabb at full back. The remainder of the back field was composed of McDonald at quarter, Nardi at right half, and Wedebrook at full back.

IOWA STRESSES DEFENSE.

INDIANA PASSES CLICK.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 20.—[Special.] — Indiana university's squad drilled today on the simplified type of attack it will use against Centre college here Saturday. The passing combination of Quarter Back Frank Filchock to Full Back Corby Davis showed to advantage. Bob Anderson, half back, also got off some accurate aerials to Capt. Jick Kenderdine, end.

GOPHERS SEEK QUARTER.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The quarter back situation still worried Minnesota's football coaches today as the squad prepared for the opening game with North Dakota State Saturday.

In Saturday's intrasquad game, although the varsity piled up seven touchdowns, five players—Vic Spadaccini, George Faust, Phil Belfiori, Rudy Gmitro, and Bill Gilchrist called signals and none satisfied Coach Bernie Bierman.

MICHIGAN REVISES ATTACK.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—A revised Michigan attack took form this morning, the first day of secret practice, as new plays emphasizing deception were given out.

Fred Troko will be out for ten days with a shoulder injury suffered in Saturday's scrimmage, it was announced today. Stark Ritchie, who sustained a twisted ankle in the scrimmage, will be back tomorrow.

THREE NEW WORLD OUTBOARD MARKS SET IN U. S. MEET

Richmond, Va., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Three world outboard records made today in the ninth national championship meet on the James river.

Edwin Past of Milwaukee set one for midget motors and Clint Ferguson of Wabam, Kas., and Fred Jacoby Jr. of North Bergen, N. J., established marks for class B amateur and class B professional craft, respectively.

Pabst raised the world time trial mark when he got 36.128 miles per hour from his tiny motor over the one mile course. Miss Nellie Cooper, of Kansas City, had set the previous record of 34.4885 at Chicago last year. Pabst had set a 33.076 competitive record in the opening of the three day meet Saturday.

The class B professional mark of 50.492, set by Dick Neal of Kansas City, was raised to 51.766 miles per hour by Jacoby.

Hunters to Give Light Bore Guns a Heavy Workout

BY BOB BECKER.

The 12 bore shotgun is going to be crowded harder than ever this fall when the hunting army of the middle west swings into action on jacksnipe, ducks, and other game.

This is the opinion of a number of shooting authorities who have been watching the upward swing of the 16 and 20 gauge shotguns. Now that the 28 bore shotgun is stepping into the spotlight this fall and taking the play from even the popular 20 gauge, it looks as if there will be more light bore shotguns in use than hunters have ever seen blazing away during one season.

With the 28 bore available in both a double barrel and pump gun we wouldn't be surprised to see many of these little guns in the hands of good shots, dropping the ducks over decoys and also grassing the snipe in the marshes.

Contrary to popular belief the 12 gauge doesn't shoot any harder than the 28 gauge shotgun. Nor does the old obsolete 8 gauge [just one step short of a cannon] shoot any harder than a 20 or 28 bore shotgun. The load of the smaller bore gun [20 or 28 or .410] travels just as fast [but no faster] than the pellets shot from an 8 gauge.

The big difference between the big and small guns is the amount of shot that each handles. The cumbersome 8 gauge handles 2 ounces of shot. The 12 gauge shoots 1¼ ounces. The 20 gauge [for example] usually drives ⅝ or ⅞ of an ounce of shot. There is a big difference in these loads. This difference means that the large bore gun puts many more shot into a target than a small bore shotgun. But the range limit of the various gauges is about the same.

After examining the differences in loads for the various gauges it is evident that the 12 gauge shotgun [or any large bore] is always going to have an advantage over the small bores [20, 28, or .410] simply because the former throws more shot, gets more pellets into a target, and thus makes a kill more certain. But the little guns get their shot to the target just as fast as the big guns.

We have killed wild turkeys with a 20 gauge. We have tried the .410 on ducks and had a lot of fun. In South America we used a 20 on just about every large and small bird that a hunter and camper would find in the woods and along the streams.

Today we still use a 20 gauge for pheasant hunting. One can find no fault with its range. But it has been obvious that the 20 doesn't put as many shots into a flying target as our 26 inch 12 gauge gun because the latter throws a heavier load. These are facts that all hunters have to keep in mind when they go hunting and want to try their skill on fast flying birds.

MARQUART WINS DECISION OVER SAMMY ANGOTT

Billy Marquart, hard punching Winnipeg, Man., featherweight, handed Sammy Angott of Louisville, Ky., his first defeat in nineteen starts in an eight round bout at Marigold Gardens last night before 2,223.

The match developed into a slugging match. The two judges, Rube Metz and William Battye, voted for Marquart, 41 to 39, and the referee, Frank [Spike] McAdams, scored for Angott, 41 to 39. Marquart scored an eight count knockdown in the fourth round.

Mike Pereira, midget Houston, Tex., 150 pounder, who didn't fare so well against Chester Rudy last week, held Rudy to a six round draw in the semi-windup.

Guldahl Wins Western Open Title Playoff

round. A gallery of nearly 1,000, remarkable for a Monday morning playoff, tramped after the twosome. The pair shared in 50 per cent of the gate. Guldahl took first money of $500, while Smith collected $300.

The champion played his best golf of the tournament this morning. He had had only a nodding acquaintance with the fairways throughout the regular 72 holes of the show, but this morning established a highly friendly relationship with one and all of them. In contrast to this, Smith, who had played the steadiest golf in the field for the scheduled four rounds, could connect with only five fairways today.

Smith's Game Collapses.

Smith's game collapsed almost completely on the first nine which saw him reach the turn with a shocking 41, five over par and five above Guldahl's routine 36, which included one birdie, one bogey, and seven pars. Coming home, Smith rallied briefly to a point where his public began to suspect he might catch the champion by reason of birdies on the 10th, where he dropped a seven footer, and the 12th, where a 40 foot chip shot rolled home. Guldahl promptly replied with birdies at the 13th and 14th.

Par—Out	443	445	345—36
Par—In	434	544	534—36—72
Guldahl—Out	453	435	345—36

Smith—Out	464	445	464—41

BOTTOMLEY SAYS HE WAS ILL AND HASN'T QUIT JOB

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Jim Bottomley, manager of the St. Louis Browns, will confer with Billy De Witt, the club's general manager, tomorrow, but if it's about his reported dismissal no one knows less about it than Sunny Jim.

Recovering from an illness which forced him to leave the club last Saturday, Bottomley said tonight his meeting with De Witt, as far as he knows, is for the purpose of talking over new players.

"I've received no word about any dismissal," he said at the hotel where he arrived tonight after leaving his sick bed in Washington.

"I haven't been with the club since Saturday, because I've been ill with a 99 degree temperature. It struck me in Washington, and Mr. Griffith's doctor [Clark Griffith, Washington club owner] advised me to stay in bed.

"The Browns left for Boston without me, and I came up today to meet the club when it arrives here tomorrow for the Yankee series."

Jim still wants the open job as manager of the Cincinnati Reds. That's why he applied for it. But he insisted he had heard nothing of the rumor that he was being fired because he applied for the Reds' job without first advising officials of the Browns.

It is reported that Gabby Street, who has been in charge of the Browns during Bottomley's absence, will be named manager tomorrow or Wednesday.

EYSTON EXPECTS TO DRIVE 400 MILES PER HOUR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TIPTON, England, Sept. 20.—Capt. George Eyston, British sportsman and automobile driver, today was firm in the belief that he can attain a speed of 400 miles per hour in the car which has just been completed for him. Capt. Eyston soon will make an attempt for a new record over a course laid out on the salt beds of Utah in the United States.

SEVEN SEAS FIRST TO ARRIVE, BUT CONRAD MAY WIN

Newport, R. I., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The square rigger Seven Seas tonight rode at anchor in Newport harbor, first to arrive in a two vessel race from Bermuda, but the Joseph Conrad, though unreported, still had a chance to win. The Conrad, with a 24 hour time allowance, can triumph by reaching Newport before 8:45 a. m. [E. S. T.] tomorrow.

The Seven Seas crossed the finish line at Brenton reef lightship this morning. The Seven Seas' arrival assured her one victory. Formally received was the cup offered by the Bermuda governor-general to the square rigger which reached Newport first.

Although the Conrad remained unreported and apparently unsighted by other vessels tonight, no alarm was felt here for her safety.

The Seven Seas' crew reported an extremely rough passage in marked contrast to the earlier trip from Newport to Bermuda.

MAREK-THOMAS TITLE BOUT WILL OPEN STADIUM

Original Request for Date Turned Down by Board.

Max Marek will defend his Illinois heavyweight championship in a return bout with Harry Thomas in the autumnal inaugural at Chicago stadium next month, it was indicated yesterday. The match is to be promoted jointly by Mique Malloy and the Stadium.

Arthur Wirtz, official at the west side arena, made written application for Oct. 8 on which to hold the contest, but Vice Chairman George Getz and Commissioner James Fitzpatrick of the state boxing commission were not disposed to grant the date because Billy Cepak has an option to conduct a program at White City at that time.

The commissioners asserted that the Stadium's request would be sanctioned if Cepak waived his rights. Eddie Purvis, spokesman for Cepak, explained that this could not be done due to a lease the promoter holds to present cards at White City every week for the next year.

Later, when apprised of these circumstances, Wirtz changed his request to Oct. 6, but Pat Kenneally, representative of Marek, is holding out for Oct. 7. Either of the new dates is satisfactory to the athletic body.

There are 17 shows remaining on the outdoor schedule in Chicago before the indoor campaign is formally launched next month. Three of these cards will be between professional boxers and 14 will involve amateur talent.

Chief interest of fans at the moment will divide between bouts at Marigold Gardens on the north side and White City in the south section.

The semi-final open air show at Marigold will be held next Monday when Co-Promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun offer three matches at eight rounds. These contests will bring together Frankie Sagilio, Cicero welterweight, and Johnny Barbara, South Bend, Ind.; Pete Lello, Gary lightweight, and Harvey Woods, Minneapolis, and Al Mauriquez, Sioux City, Ia., featherweight, and Lloyd Pine, Akron, O.

Sagilio, Barbara, and Lello are Golden Glove products.

Al Manfredo, Fresno, Cal., 147 pound challenger, and Milt Aron, former Dubuque, Ia., sectional Golden Gloves king, have been signed to meet in a return bout Oct. 4 in what is to be the climax of the outdoor semester at Marigold.

The indoor opener on Oct. 11 will be headed by a bout between George Salvadore, Houston, Tex., 147 pounder, who whipped Gordon Wallace in his last start, and Harold Brown, west side conqueror of Tony Petroskey Sept. 13.

White City swings into action again on Friday night with a ten round headliner between Holman Williams, Detroit colored welterweight star, and Gillito Ramirez of Mexico.

Other programs this week involve amateur boxers at the Savoy Athletic club tonight, White City and 124th Field Artillery armory tomorrow, Twin Orchard Country club Thursday, and Madison Athletic club, Medinah Club of Chicago, and Northwest stadium

MUSSO OF BEARS TO LOSE TONSILS; MOLESWORTH OUT

George Musso, veteran line man and captain of the Chicago Bears, returned yesterday from Green Bay to undergo a tonsillectomy. He was accompanied by Keith Molesworth, who suffered a bruised side in Sunday's 14 to 2 victory over the Packers. Both players will be ready for the Bears' next league game on Oct. 4, when they play the Pirates at Pittsburgh.

The Bears, under the direction of Assistant Coaches Red Grange and Luke Johnsos, meet an all-star team in Duluth, Minn., tonight. They will return tomorrow night to prepare for a game against the Brandt Florals, heavyweight champions of Chicago, at Mills stadium on Friday night. The Brandt eleven has lost only one game in four years.

Famous Tennis Ace finds Williams "Twin-Action" Shaving Cream wilts whiskers faster...gives smooth, skin-line shave

EVEN if honed to the fineness of a surgeon's scalpel—your razor blade will jerk and pull, unless your whiskers are thoroughly softened. This often causes sore spots and skin irritation unless you use a "twin-action" cream like Williams.

World-famous athletes—men known for their tough whiskers—like Lou Gehrig, Barney Ross, Lawson Little—and thousands of us ordinary mortals are using Williams for quick relief from irritation, as well as for better shaves.

FIRST, Williams rich, thick lather soaks through the oily film around each tough whisker, leaving it wilted to the very base.

SECOND, it soaks and softens the outer skin on your face—so the thin, sharp edge of your razor blade shaves closer and cleaner.

The J. B. Williams Company have been making fine shaving preparations for nearly 100 years. Get a tube of Williams "Twin-Action" Shaving Cream today, and see for yourself what a smooth, skin-line shave you'll get every time.

GOMEZ FIRST IN LEAGUE TO WIN 20; BEATS TIGERS

Fans Nine as He Hurls Yanks to 5-0 Victory.

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Lefty Gomez became the American league's first twenty game pitching winner of the year today, with a four hit shut out against the Tigers.

His fine hurling, coupled with timely hitting by Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, who hit his forty-fourth homer of the year, and Bill Dickey gave the Yankees a 5 to 0 victory over Detroit in the final of their season's series.

It was Gomez' fourth straight victory and second straight shut out. He fanned nine during the game to boost his season total to 184. In his last thirty-six innings he has yielded only eighteen hits and fanned thirty batters, and, with today's game, ran his shut out streak to twenty-four consecutive scoreless innings.

BROWNS, RED SOX SPLIT.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Red Sox wound up their season's series today with the St. Louis Browns by splitting a double header before 1,500 after losing the opener, 8 to 6. The Red Sox came back to take the second game, 7 to 5, for their 15th victory of the year over St. Louis against seven defeats.

Two Red Sox rookies enabled Boston to emerge with a split. Jose Gonzales, former University of Southern California athlete, started his first major league game in the second contest, and although he yielded 14 hits, he went the route. He won when rookie Bobby Doerr parked a home run over the left center screen with one on in the sixth. Gonzales now has one victory and one defeat.

MILWAUKEE AND COLUMBUS BEGIN FINAL PLAYOFFS

Columbus, O., Sept. 20.—(AP)—A jubilant flock of Red Birds swooped down on their home roost tonight, ready to battle the Milwaukee Brewers for the right to represent the American Association in the little world series.

The Columbus baseball team, just returned from Minneapolis, where it trounced the Millers, was confident the final Shaughnessy playoff series, which opens here tomorrow night, would end with the Red Birds on top, just as the 1937 pennant race did.

Milwaukee has been no pushover for Columbus this season. The Brewers won 10 of their 22 meetings with the Red Birds. Columbus won nine and lost two to Milwaukee here, but dropped eight and won only three in the Milwaukee park.

Baker, Tigers' Acting Pilot, Past Danger of Pneumonia

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Physicians attending Del Baker said tonight they believed danger of pneumonia had been averted, but that the acting manager of the Detroit Tigers was still "quite ill." Baker has been suffering from a heavy cold for five days. Despite his illness, however, he has turned out daily for the Tigers' games. Too ill to leave his bed this morning, he summoned physicians, who found he had a temperature of 103.

Bruns Throws Singh in 18:43 with Body Slams

Frankie Talaber threw Al Perry, 28:01.
Jack Conley and Tug Wilson drew, 30.
Abie Kapland downed Dennis Lentz, 13:06.
Angelo Martini and Charley Peterson drew, 30.

SOX REST AMONG FLORAL WREATHS FOR MACK SERIES

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The White Sox, although free from any baseball endeavor, passed a very busy day today in preparation for the opening of a three game series tomorrow with Connie Mack's seventh place Athletics.

Those who lacked presence of mind enough to get out by themselves were compelled to do considerable dodging in the lobby of the hotel where a florists' convention also is quartered. Only those with some football experience were able to negotiate the length of the premises.

Dykes Is a Little Mad.

Hundreds of floral exhibits graced the corridors to overwhelm the dubious odor resulting from the Sox's recent efforts to remain in third place, but at a late hour nobody connected with the convention had presented Manager James Dykes with any posies as a reward for achievement.

Mr. Dykes himself was very emphatic on that point after the Sox had kicked away the first game of a double-header in Washington on Sunday and today was still chewing great hunks off the end of his cigar in a demonstration of wrath. He wanted it understood he did not care to be the only member of the club who longed for that portion of the world series purse which goes to a third place club.

Kelley—or Charlie McCarthy.

Nevertheless, he will do a little experimenting tomorrow when he sends Bill Cox, recently of St. Paul, against the Athletics to protect the four game advantage over the Indians. Cox, a right hander who pitches overhand, will be making his first major league start.

Harry Kelley probably will pitch for the Athletics unless Connie Mack should decide on some more laboratory work such as he did on Sunday when he pitched Chubby Dean.

MAYOR CALLS ON CITY TO UNITE IN CUB CAUSE

With the revived Cubs striving to overtake the Giants in the National league pennant race, Mayor Kelly yesterday called on all Chicagoans to form a united moral front in support of the north side ball club.

"Considering how badly this great team has been crippled by injuries," the mayor said, "Charlie Grimm and his boys certainly have done a wonderful job and have an excellent chance to bring home the pennant.

"Any sectional feeling between the followers of the two local clubs should be forgotten and replaced by a genuine civic feeling that the Cubs will win if they know that the whole city is pulling for them."

the ball and hung on. All he had to do was to step on the base to double Herman. Hartnett then drew a pass and Collins flied to Cooney.

Lee, who restricted the Dodgers to three batters in the first inning, disposed of two men in the second before being frisked for the first hit. It was a double to left by Lavagetto, after which Lee walked Brack. English popped to Jurges for the third out.

Another scoring opportunity beckoned to the Cubs in the third, but they surrendered with three on the bases and nobody across the plate. Hack doubled and Herman walked with one out. Demaree's tap to English forced Herman at second. Hartnett walked for the second time, loading the bases. The chance blew up when Collins rolled to Bucher.

A Pass Starts a March.

Three hits and a pass were involved in a pair of runs which put the Cubs in front in the fourth. The pass went to Cavarretta to start the inning. Galan flied to Rosen, but Jurges peeled off a triple to right center, Cavarretta scoring. Lee whistled a single through short to move Jurges across the plate. Hack hung up his third hit by doubling to right, Lee stopping at third. The hit necessary to get these two home wasn't forthcoming. Herman rolled to Bucher and Demaree to English.

The Brooklyn sixth was featured by the second hit off Lee. Cooney singled to left after two were gone, and Bucher followed with a tall fly to Demaree. The feature of the Cubs' portion of the same inning was a trio of runs and the removal of Frankhouse. Galan led off with a single, Jurges sacrificed, and Lee was thrown out. Hack walked and English made a wild toss on Herman's grounder, Galan scoring. Demaree walked and Hartnett singled through short, Hack and Herman scoring. Lindsey came in and retired Collins for the third out.

The Boys Are Stopped.

The Cubs had two pitchers to pick on in the seventh and eighth but the picking was limited. Lindsey, who threw in the seventh after relieving Frankhouse in the sixth, fanned Galan and Jurges for two of three successive outs. When Henshaw appeared in the eighth he fanned Lee. Hack then singled to left for his fourth hit, but Herman flied to Brack and Demaree forced Hack.

Lee's decline in the ninth got under way on Rosen's single to center. Cooney got a similar hit and Bucher walked, filling the bases. Hassett popped to Herman. Phelps, who had been quiet all afternoon, bounced a single past Collins, sending Rosen and Cooney across the counter. Cisar ran for the leisurely Phelps. Lee slipped a pass to Lavagetto, thereby terminating his day's chores.

Bryant came to the rescue and fanned Brack but the trouble broke out again immediately. Haas batted for Brown, who had succeeded English at short, and dropped his double close to the line in right, Bucker and Cisar scoring and Lavagetto halting at third. Stripp batted for Henshaw and worked his way into a pass, reloading the bags.

This was where Bryant vanished but not until he had pitched two wide ones to Rosen. Logan took over the job and created a jittery feeling by getting himself into a 3 and 1 mixup. But Rosen swung at the next pitch and Herman smothered it for the final out.

CUBS HOLD 11 TO 8 EDGE OVER GIANTS IN SEASON'S PLAY

The Cubs hold an 11 to 8 advantage over the Giants in the season series as they go into today's contest, the opener of a three game set, with the National league leaders. Six of these victories have been scored at Wrigley field, where the Giants have won only two games this season.

It was at Wrigley field on July 30-31 and Aug. 1 that the Cubs put what they thought was the clincher on the pennant when they took three straight from the New Yorkers, then their closest pursuers, to run their lead to six games. Since then New York has made up the deficit and comes into Chicago for the final series of the year between the two clubs with a 2½ game edge.

May 9—New York, 4; Chicago, 1.
May 10—Chicago, 4; New York 3.
May 11—New York, 10; Chicago 1.
May 21—Chicago, 8; New York 5.
May 22—New York, 3; Chicago 2.
June 2—Chicago, 2; New York, 1.
June 4—Chicago, 6; New York 5.
June 4—New York, 4; Chicago 2.
June 22—Chicago, 5; New York, 0.
June 23—New York, 8; Chicago, 4.
June 24—Chicago, 10; New York, 5.
July 23—Chicago, 11; New York, 3.
July 24—Chicago, 10; New York, 5.
July 25—New York, 5; Chicago 0.
July 30—Chicago, 5; New York, 3.
July 31—Chicago, 7; New York, 1.
Aug. 1—Chicago, 5; New York, 4.
Aug. 25—New York, 8; Chicago, 7.
Aug. 25—New York, 4; Chicago, 2.

Bassler Out as Manager at Seattle; Club for Sale

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 20.—(AP)—President William H. Klepper dismissed Johnny Bassler as manager of the Seattle Pacific Coast League Baseball club today for "insubordination." "We're ready to sell the club just as soon as some one offers us a fair price," Keppler added.

National Open Polo Final Is Set for Tomorrow

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The final match for the national open polo championship, scheduled for yesterday at the International field, Westbury, Long Island, today was set for Wednesday afternoon. Old Westbury and Greentree are the finalists.

MARTY INJURED; GALAN RETURNS TO CUB LINEUP

Hartnett Is Given Trophy and $200.

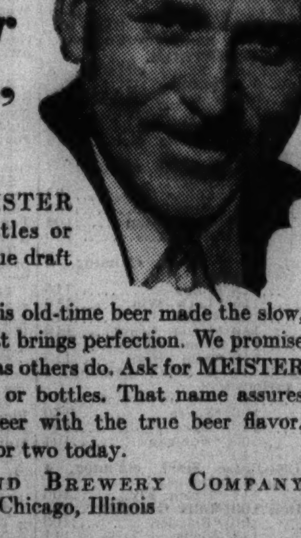
Before the game Gabby Hartnett was presented with the A. J. Pixley trophy and $200 in cash. The award was made on the basis of a fan vote to name Chicago's most valuable player for the year.

Harry Grabiner, vice-president of the White Sox; President Bill Benswanger of the Pirates, and Vice President John O. Seys of the Cubs met yesterday to arrange dates for the three teams during next Spring's training junkets to California.

After looking at Freddie Frankhouse's pitching for a couple of innings, the Cubs complained that the fellow was throwing spit balls. The umpires took occasional peeks at the ball, but claimed they could detect nothing of an unethical nature.

Rams Meet Eagles in Pro League Game Tonight

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The Cleveland Rams will meet the Philadelphia Eagles here tomorrow night in a National Professional Football league game postponed from last Thursday because of rain.



For a Smooth Non-Biting Beer

by RICHARD SEIBOLD, Meister Bräu Brewmaster

—thus we get the true draft beer flavor

WITHOUT "GASSY BITE"

THIS is to men and women who love old-time beer made the old-time way.

We have made for 46 years a beer called MEISTER BRÄU. We make it now the same as then. Although we could save time and money with "new" methods.

We could save time by adding sugar or syrups. But that may make a sweet beer.

We could save money by using a cheaper grade of hops. But that makes a raw beer. It tastes bitter.

Then we could save both time and money by boiling extra long. That saves cleaning the malt and hops.

We cut the boiling time in half because we insist our malt and hops are cleaned like a food for your table. It takes many extra hours. But keeps the zest, flavor, and sparkle in the brew. The life and foam in MEISTER BRÄU are created in the beer itself. Like in draft beer.

Hence MEISTER BRÄU in bottles or cans has the true draft beer flavor.

Please try this old-time beer made the slow, careful way that brings perfection. We promise you'll prefer it as others do. Ask for MEISTER BRÄU in cans or bottles. That name assures you the real beer with the true beer flavor. Drink a bottle or two today.

CONRAD MANN QUITS SHUFFLIN' TO RUN AND WIN

Beats Royal Reigh by Two Lengths at Hawthorne.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Conrad Mann, the 6 to 5 favorite, gave his backers all sorts of heart flutters during the running of the Ravenswood purse at Hawthorne yesterday afternoon, but he finally got his lumbering legs to moving in time to get up to win by two lengths.

Going down the back stretch Conrad Mann had one horse beaten. He was more than eight lengths back of the leader. About all he was doing was shuffle along. Those who backed him at the short odds could feel the miseries coming on them from every direction.

But on the turn Conrad Mann, which races for Mrs. Dave Horton, lost his shufflin' attitude. Those big feet of his began to move in a straight line. They also moved frequently.

Royal Reigh Is Second.

Losing ground while racing on the outside, he had charged into the lead by the time the field was straightened out for the run down the stretch.

The result never was in doubt from then until the finish. Royal Reigh offered a mild challenge, but it came too late. It was in time, however, to get him second money. Frontier was far back of the two leaders, but never made a dangerous bid after Conrad Mann settled the issue at the head of the stretch.

Conrad Mann ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:47 1-5. In the betting he paid $4.40 for a $2 ticket.

Sharing honors with the Ravenswood was the Regent purse, which was also over the mile and a sixteenth course.

For a time the long shot Crout au Pot appeared to be the winner. This happened half way down the homestretch when the 5 year old mare drove up on the outside to conquer the early pacemaker Kairack.

Crout au Pot's feet were nimble, but her heart was weak. She surrendered to the favorite, Yes Polly. She didn't have enough left to withstand this challenge. Yes Polly got up in the last three jumps to win by a head. Mindreader finished third. The others were badly beaten.

Former Coughlin Horse.

Yes Polly, a daughter of Crusader-Miss Burke, was developed by and for a time raced for Ald. John Coughlin. She's one of the numerous former Coughlin horses that have acquired the winning habit since the ailing 1st ward leader started to dispose of his turf holdings.

The real hero of the exciting afternoon of racing, in which there were a half dozen finishes so close that the camera had to decide them, was Jocky George South. He rolled home on three winners during the running of the first four races.

He began his afternoon of toil by riding the two horses—Inviting and Just Buck—to the victories that completed a $99 daily double.

South came from behind in each instance. Inviting beat Fair So and Fair Flag. Just Buck finished in front of Hoosier's Pride and Exponent.

The jocky was not picking his spots. Inviting, to be sure, was the favorite, but Just Buck was at 20 to 1 in the betting when he registered his triumph.

South was out of the money in the third race, but in the fourth scored easily with Prince Pest the second choice in the wagering.

There's a possibility of a clash between the South American mare Sahri II. and Thomas D. Taggart's fleet mare Marica on the closing day of the Hawthorne season. Both are training at Hawthorne.

It developed yesterday that Sahri II. did not suffer a hemorrhage in the sprint handicap on Saturday. Instead she was hit on the edge of her left nostril with a flying clod. This caused the South American mare to bleed from the nose, veterinarians declared.

Jocky Bobby Dotter was back in the saddle at Hawthorne yesterday after an enforced five day vacation ordered by the stewards for rough riding.

Jocky P. Ryan was suspended for five days for cutting across the field at the clubhouse turn in the eighth race yesterday. He was up on Mrs. R. Cooper's Hammel.

A new jocky arrival at Hawthorne yesterday was Albert Badiou, who came in from Winnipeg track in Canada.

INVITING, always clear as he raced wide throughout, was under vigorous riding from the start and, holding on well, outstayed FAIR SO. Latter showed the most speed from the start, rallied when shaken up soon after reaching the stretch but weakened in the last eighth and could not hold the winner. FAIR FLAG, taken back slightly as FAIR SO came over soon after reaching the turn, continued on the inside when clear and held on with good courage.

SECOND RACE—Six and one-half furlongs, out of chute. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

*Field. Time, :23, :47 1-5, 1:13, 1:19 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Just Buck, $44.00 straight, $15.80 place, $7.40 show; Hoosier's Pride, $9.80 place, $5.80 show; Exponent, $4.00 show. Winner trained by F. Swain. Went to post at 2:50. At post 4 minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same.

JUST BUCK, raced wide, raced to the lead with a rush when placed to energetic riding after reaching the final quarter and, holding on fairly well, withstood the bid of HOOSIER'S PRIDE. Latter, unable to keep up early, began to improve his position after reaching the last five-sixteenths; raced wide in the stretch and, closing resolutely, barely failed to get up. EXPONENT, fractious at the post and blocked immediately after the start, was far back until reaching the final quarter, where he came with a rush on extreme outside.

THIRD RACE—Three-quarters of a mile. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 3-5, :47 4-5, 1:14 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Silver Sarah, $14.60 straight, $5.00 place, $3.60 show; King June, $3.60 place, $3.00 show; Wise Princess, $3.00 show. Winner trained by A. Swenke. Went to post at 3:23.

SILVER SARAH, forced back early and slow to respond, came with a rush on the extreme outside in the last three-sixteenths and got up in the closing strides. KING JUNE, a factor from the start and always under strong urging, had to race wide throughout and, holding on well, outfinished WISE PRINCESS in the last stride. Latter rushed to the front on the inside soon after reaching the stretch, failed to hold the advantage, though she held on with good courage to the end.

FOURTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs, out of chute. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :23, :47 1-5, 1:12 4-5, 1:19 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Prince Pest, $6.80 straight, $3.80 place, $2.80 show; Inscona, $3.20 place, $2.60 show; Festoon, $3.40 show. Winner trained by S. Furnival. Start fair from gate.

PRINCE PEST, always clear and steadied in the early stages, began to move up slowly on the turn, took command when urged in the stretch but was shaken up several times in the last eighth. INSCONA, receiving a poor ride and away slowly, was kept on the inside with no chance to get through for a half mile, went out badly when entering the stretch and, rushed to contention, hung in the final eighth.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :24, :48 1-5, 1:13 1-5, 1:39, 1:46 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Yes Polly, $5.40 straight, $3.40 place, $2.60 show; Crout au Pot, $6.40 place, $4.20 show; Mindreader, $4.80 show. Winner trained by C. Holland. Went to post at 4:22½.

YES POLLY, kept on the inside while racing under steady reserve the first five-eighths, responded to urging after going to the outside on the stretch turn and outgamed CROUT AU POT at the end. Latter, strongly restrained early racing into a good lead easily on the stretch turn and held on well but was not good enough.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Allowances. Three year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

CONRAD MANN, away slowly and far back for a half mile, began to move up rapidly on the second turn, continued well through the stretch but ridden out, won with little left. ROYAL REIGH, under a snug hold for five-eighths, raced to the lead gradually and saved ground in the stretch, but could not hold the winner.

SEVENTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs. Claiming. Three year olds and up. Purse $900. Net value to winner, $650; second, $150; third, $75; fourth, $25.

WALLACE CROP PLAN CALLS FOR ACREAGE SLASH

Seek Return of More Land to Grass.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—A plan designed to retire between 15 and 30 million acres of American farm land from cultivation during the 1937-'38 cop year was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace. Acreage planted to major crops would be held to a maximum of 290 million, compared with the 1928-'37 average of 305 million. Wallace said the limit may be set as low as 275 million acres.

Secretary Wallace tested a three foot slice of watermelon on one of his farm study trips.

Must Comply for Benefits.

Only farmers who comply with the department's plan for limiting acreage in major crops will be eligible for federal benefit payments under the existing soil conservation act, he asserted.

H. H. Tolley, chief of the Agriculture Adjustment administration, said the plan also includes provision for special payments to farmers who shift cultivated lands to grass in certain great plains areas. Provision also has been made, he said, for payment of larger benefits to tenants and sharecroppers on southern cotton lands.

Under terms of the conservation plan, limitations for acreage will be assigned to states, counties and individual farmers. Each farmer will be given a "goal" which he will have to keep if he receives his benefit payments.

Major crops included in the plan are corn, cotton, tobacco, potatoes, rice, and peanuts. Other crops also may be included, it was intimated. Announcement of "goals" for states will be made within three weeks, officials said.

Cite Need for More Laws.

Both Wallace and Tolley said Congress must enact new crop control legislation to insure effectiveness of the program.

"In the absense of other legislation, normal weather conditions over several seasons again will result in the accumulation of burdensome surpluses," Wallace commented.

Tolley said any large group of farmers under the present set-up could ruin the goal of the conservation program if it decided it could make more money by planting all the acreage it pleased and spurning government payments.

Wallace pointed out that the 1938 program, if made effective, will go beyond merely limiting production of the six major crops. Through the encouragement given to such soil building crops as grass and clover and curtailment of soil depleting crops, the productive capacity of the land in many sections will be increased, he said.

UTILITIES POWER UNIT GIVEN DELAY ON SECURITY PLAN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission today postponed until Oct. 13 hearings on the plan of Utilities Power and Light Corporation, Ltd., Moncton, New Brunswick, Canada, subsidiary of Utilities Power and Light corporation, to purchase $6,000,000 of securities in the parent and affiliated companies.

The commission also took under advisement a request of Francis Badly, its own attorney, for further delay in the hearing until the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago disposes of an appeal of an order by the District Federal court appointing a trustee for the parent company.

Joseph R. Harmon, counsel for the Chicago company, told the commission in requesting the delay that the Canadian company needs time to amend its application for acquisition of the securities. He said the Canadian company has about $16,000,000 available for investment and that purchase of the $6,000,000 in securities "would improve the financial position of the entire [Utilities Power and Light] system."

Wholesale Beet Prices Soar in Wake of Cattle Upturn

Wholesale beef prices soared to new high levels yesterday, influenced by last week's sharp rise in live cattle costs. Top grade loins sold to retail butchers at $50 per hundred pounds, the highest in many years. This is $2 higher than a week ago, $17 above last January, and $29 above a year ago.

Top beef ribs reacher $39, compared with $19 in 1936. Cheaper cuts of beef advanced, with top rounds selling at $26 and plates at $15, which compared with $18.50 and $9, respectively, a year ago.

Veal Rises $1 to $2.

Veal showed a gain for the day of $1 to $2 and lamb meat was higher. Fresh pork, however, declined $1 to $2, top loins selling at $30, or $3 under last week's high price.

Best corn fed steers and yearlings were scarce at the stock yards and prices were steady to slightly higher. Two carloads of 1,216 pound steers topped at $19.10, equaling the seventeen year peak established last week. Most sales were made between $9.25 and $17.25.

Many plain quality steers brought $7.50 to $9, and some ill bred stock sold as low as $5.50. Unfinished steers were 15 to 25 cents lower than the close of last week. Best fed hefers retained recent gains, but cows were 15 to 25 cents lower.

Plain hefers slumped 25 to 50 cents. Canners and cutters declined 10 to 25 cents, and calves dropped 50 to 75 cents. Country demand for replacement stock continued broad at strong to 25 cent higher rates.

Lambs Dip 25 to 50 Cents.

Lambs lost 25 to 50 cents of last week's upturn. City butchers paid the $11.65 top, while packers bought the bulk of natives at $11.40 or under. Western range stock to shippers topped at $11.60. Old sheep declined 25 cents, selling downward from $5.

Best grade light hogs improved after a steady to 10 cent lower opening, and closed firm at last week's final quotations. Heavy butchers and sows finished 10 to 25 cents higher.

Prime 371 pound butchers reached $12, and 334 pound stock sold as high as $12.15. Sows weighing 300 to 500 pounds bulked at $10.90 to $11.25. The day's top at $12.60 was paid for 195 to 234 pound averages.

NO RELIEF NEAR.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Federal agricultural economists reported today prices of better grades of cattle are likely to continue at relatively high levels during the remainder of the year and may drop materially only when new supplies of the green fed stock become available next winter or spring.

They also said little or no seasonal decline in prices of lower grades of slaughter stock was expected in the next few months because of the anticipated strong demand for stockers and feeders.

Large Crops Downstate Aid Trade Outlook

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hoopeston, Ill., Sept. 20. — The best fall business outlook in many years is expected by merchants and business men in this community. A bumper corn crop, a heavy sweet corn pack, and a big soy bean harvest are the basis of the excellent trade prospects.

More sweet corn is canned here than in any other community in the United States. The two large canning companies, the Hoopeston Canning company and the Illinois Canning company, are near the end of their forty day packing season. Their combined pack this year will total about 900,000 cases.

Grown Under Contract.

Canners here no longer grow their own corn as in former years. Instead it is grown by farmers under contract. Land owned by the canning companies is rented out. The companies paid $14 a ton to farmers this year for sweet corn. It was necessary to offer this price last spring to induce farmers to plant sweet corn rather than the ordinary variety of field corn because of the high price then prevailing for the latter. In 1936 farmers got $10 a ton for sweet corn.

With the sweet corn pack over, farmers are now preparing to harvest the field corn from which excellent returns are assured. Yields as high as 75 bushels an acre are promised in the best fields. Any return of 50 bushels or more in this area is considered good. The corn is said to be of superior quality. Ears are large and firmly packed.

Farmers will not get the prices for corn that they got for last year's crop. Their income on this year's larger yield, however, should equal and perhaps exceed last year's return in many cases. Moreover, farmers are experiencing the satisfaction that comes with a nearly perfect crop—the kind that occurs once or perhaps twice in a decade.

Soy beans are an important source of cash income to farmers in this area. They have been growing beans since they first became a marketable crop and have had good results with them. This year's harvest will be larger than the 1936 return, and the price is regarded satisfactory. The acreage sown to soy beans has been increasing steadily for many years.

Business is already feeling the stimulus of the good crops. Merchants believe that trade throughout the fall will be better than it has been for several years and that the holiday trade will top anything that has been seen in ten years.

Best Crop in Years.

"We don't have a year like this very often," one resident remarked. "We know we have the corn crop and the only thing that could upset us would be a market decline. Even at the present prices for new corn [approximately 50 cents] the farmers will have a good year. It is not a big price now as it once seemed, but it is not too bad. We are not really worried about the price, either, because we think that the government will provide corn loans at approximately the present price level should the market weaken."

STEEL INDUSTRY CUTS INGOT OPERATING SCHEDULE THIS WEEK

Steel ingot production this week in the United States is scheduled at 76.1 per cent of theoretical plant capacity, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated yesterday. This is a decline of 4.3 points or 5.3 per cent from last week.

Operations in the Chicago district are scheduled at 76.7 per cent, off 3.9 points from last week, compared with 84.3 per cent in the week preceding Labor day.

A month ago the national operating rate was 83.8 per cent of capacity. In the corresponding week of last year the indicated rate was 74.4 per cent, an increase of 1.9 points or 2.6 per cent over the preceding week. In the same week of 1935 the rate was 48.9 per cent, a gain of .6 point or 1.2 per cent over the week before.

U. S. AND BRITISH TREASURY TALK HELD IN SECRET

Report Trade and Money Discussed.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Sir Frederick Phillips, undersecretary of the British exchequer, began today a series of conferences on financial and economic relations between the United States and Great Britain. The conferences may be followed by talks with representatives of other nations adhering to the tripartite agreement for the stabilization of international currency.

Morgenthau declined to say whether the conversations today dealt with the French franc, silver, or gold. He referred to the conferences as purely informal. It is understood Sir Frederick has no authority to make any commitment for his government. Morgenthau said he doubted any announcement would be made about the topics discussed while Sir Frederick is here. He characterized as correct a suggestion that "nothing concrete" was contemplated at this time.

May Discuss Silver Program.

Concerning silver, which it is presumed will be taken up before the conversations close, Morgenthau said there is a period of 3½ months remaining for consideration of future policy in regard to renewal of the international silver agreement and the payment of a subsidy on domestic mined silver before the problem has to be faced on Dec. 31. He added he had not discussed the silver purchase act or future policy as to domestic mined silver with any one.

The conferences between Morgenthau and Sir Frederick are regarded as important, particularly as they will be followed by talks between Secretary of State Hull, other state department officials, and Sir Frederick.

Morgenthau said he doubted the question of wartime debts of European nations would be discussed.

No Plan Charted.

It appears that the purpose of the conversations is to obtain a roundup of the latest developments making for international economic and financial disturbance, and that if anything "concrete" is to come of the conversations it would be dependent upon conclusions to be reached rather than a program now charted.

Sir Frederick was accompanied to the treasury by F. A. L. Mallet, counsellor, and E. N. R. Trentham, financial attaché to the British embassy here.

Representing this government, besides Morgenthau, were Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Wayne C. Taylor, who later may go abroad to confer with officials of foreign countries which are members of the tripartite agreement, and William W. Butterworth Jr., second secretary of the American embassy in London.

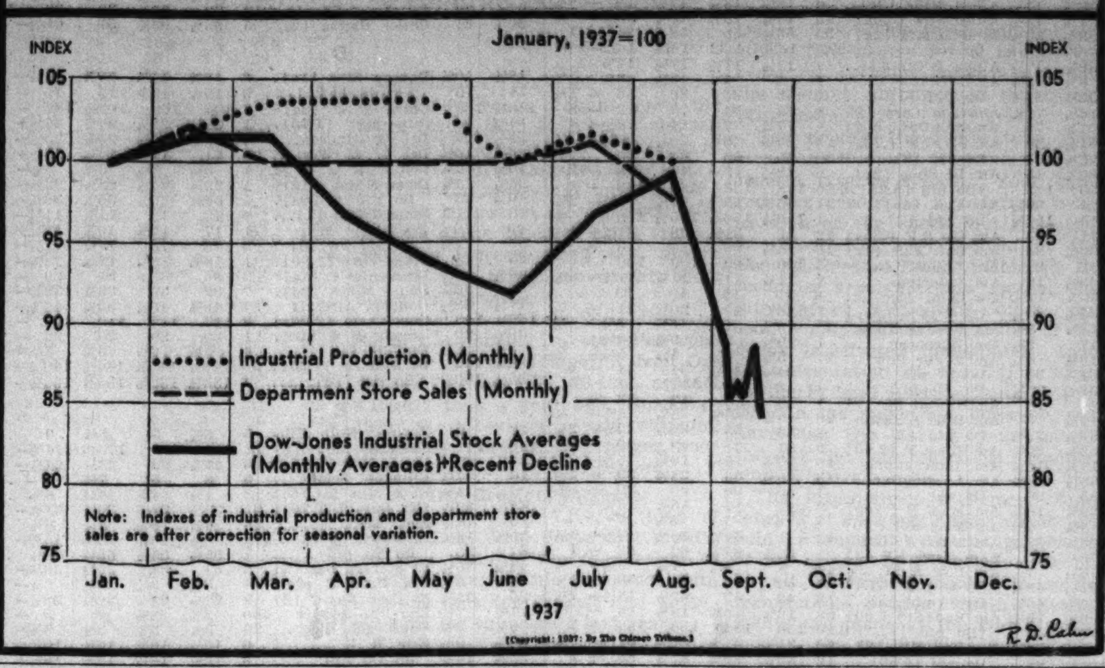
Await Australian Election.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Anglo-American negotiations for a trade treaty will be resumed next month as a followup of Sir Frederick Phillip's visit to Washington, D. C., informed sources said today.

The Australian election is said to be the real cause of the delay in picking up the talks started last year. The general election is close at hand in the far off dominion and the British cannot do much bargaining with the United States until they know just where they stand with the dominions.

Business Fluctuation and Stock Prices Since the First of the Year



[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

EARNINGS OF MOVIE INDUSTRY EXPECTED TO HOLD AT HIGH LEVEL

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The final quarter of the year and early part of 1938 are expected to result in good profits for the moving picture industry, analysts said today. This outlook is based on two factors: Higher box office prices and well-sustained public purchasing power.

The boost in box office prices in August brought the average for the nation around 10 per cent above the level of a year ago.

Significant, observers said, is the fact attendance kept its stride in spite of higher box office prices.

That the industry will likely weather without difficulty any further irregularity in business is indicated by the fact that purchasing power in farm areas is well ahead of 1930-'31 and by the prospect that foreign business will hold up well. Business abroad accounts for 30 to 40 per cent of the domestic industry's gross income.

National Debt Declines; Now Only $37,009,530,692

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The national debt, which has followed an upward trend most of this fiscal year, dropped $100,493,522 on Sept. 17 to $37,009,530,692. The decline was due to retirement of about $100,000,000 of maturing discount bills.

COUNCIL TO GET PLAN ENABLING CITY TO INVEST

City Controler Robert B. Upham said yesterday that an ordinance is being drafted for presentation to the city council tomorrow which will enable the city to invest funds in United States government obligations, bonds of the state of Illinois and bonds and tax anticipation warants of the city of Chicago.

Such authority to invest funds is granted municipalities by state law, but the law requires enabling legislation by the city council before action can be taken by a city.

Action to authorize investment in bonds follows discontinuance last month of interest payments by banks on demand deposits made with them by the city.

Power Companies Ask Court to Halt 2 PWA Loans

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Two power companies sought injunctions today in Federal District court to prevent the Public Works administration from making loans and grants for a municipal electric plant in Columbus, Neb., and a similar plant in Bessemer, Mich. The Northwestern Public Service company brought suit to enjoin a PWA loan of $220,000 and a grant of $180,000 for a municipal plant at Columbus. The corporation declared it had an investment there of $1,185,734.

WHAT WILL STOCKS DO? JUST ASK AN EXPERT, MAYBE FLIP A COIN

Did you foresee a month ago the drastic slump in stock prices that was to occur in September? If not don't be unduly alarmed about your own inability to prognosticate. Here are the remarks made by the experts last month, according to the August, 1937, digest of opinion by United Business Service, a Boston statistical agency:

Alexander Hamilton Institute: "There is no present indication of any major reversal in the primary upward trend."

Babson: "The bull market is by no means over; higher prices are indicated for the months ahead."

Poor's: "The upward trend will continue; many issues should show sharp gains from present levels."

American Institute for Economic Research: "All current evidence leads to the conclusion that the basic market movement is still bullish."

Harland Allen: "Present signs point to the resumption of the major bull market over the coming months."

STOCKS SLUMP, THEN RECOVER PART OF LOSSES

New Break Routed in Later Rally.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 20.—Following two breaks, one shortly after the opening and the other at midday, the stock market rallied strongly today and at the close had retrieved 1 to 3 points of its early losses. Several issues even moved into the plus column, although the majority remained under Saturday's final levels. At the low for the day losses ranged from 1 to 9 points. A total of 220 issues reached new low marks for the last 21 months or longer.

Trading was fairly active on the declines, but decreased on the rally. Transactions totaled 1,550,350 shares, compared with 814,050 last Friday. The late upturn was paced by rail shares, which responded to short covering and bargain hunting.

All Groups Lower at Start.

Practically all classes of stocks were sharply lower at the opening, particularly those which enjoy international popularity. The selling was attributed chiefly to the severe decline on the London Stock exchange. U. S. Steel common opened 2⅜ points lower on a block of 3,000 shares. General Electric started 1 point lower, Goodyear 1⅛ points off, and Bethlehem and Baltimore and Ohio were each more than 1 point lower.

Chrysler was driven more than 4 points lower to a new 1937 bottom, but subsequent support enabled that issue to stage one of the best recoveries of the day and to close with a fractional gain.

The recovery in rail stocks brought the average of that division to the preceding closing level. Atchison, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, Northern Pacific, and Southern Railway were prominent, closing fractions to more than a point higher.

Copper Shares Weak.

Coppers were conspicuously weak on rumors the domestic price of the red metal would drop following a decline in the export price to 13 cents a pound. American Smelting, off 3, Kennecott, off 2, Phelps, off 2½, and Howe Sound, off 3, were weak spots in the group. Anaconda dropped 1⅝ points. These losses,

Stocks, Bonds

New York Bonds.

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—After a week's upturn federal loans turned lower today, with losses ranging up to 17-32 point. Corporations and foreign dollar issues lost fractions to around 4½ points on sizable turnover.

Domestic corporates slumped fractions to around 2 points. Sagging tendencies prevailed in some of the higher priced issues. Rail and convertible liens were principally under pressure. Utility bonds also ran into fairly heavy offerings.

Lower among the domestic corporates were Western Union 5s at 75, off 2; Columbia Gas & Electric 5s at 99½, off 2⅝; Studebaker 6s at 92⅛, off 1⅞; Armour 4s at 96⅝, off 1⅜; St. Paul 5s at 17, off 1; Missouri Pacific 5s at 31½, off 1 and Erie 5s at 63¾, off 1.

Leading the foreign issues to lower ground were Abitibi Power & Paper 5s, off 4¼ to 80¼. Japan 6½s dropped 2¾ to 83 and Rome 6½s were off 1½ to 70. German 5½s and 7s dipped fractions to 24⅝ and 29½ respectively.

Turnover for all bonds totaled $9,178,700 par value, compared with $6,148,850 on Friday.

Chicago Stocks.

Heavy selling drove many shares into new low ground for the year on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Some improvement was registered in the afternoon, but net losses in leading issues ranged from minor fractions to more than 2 points a share.

Cudahy preferred broke on ommission of the regular dividend. It closed at 95⅛, or 10⅜ below the final price of 105½ on Sept. 17 when the previous sale was made. The common, although listed on the Chicago board, has not been traded this year.

The reaction in the general list was one of the broadest since prices started to move lower in mid-August. Of the 129 issues traded, only 11 advanced, compared with 81 declines, and 37 were unchanged. THE TRIBUNE average of 20 stocks closed at 15.34, off .42.

Bank Stocks.

First National bank stock declined $10 a share yesterday. Continental Illinois slipped $3, and Chicago Title and Trust and Personal Loan and Savings stocks each lost $1.

Commodities

Metal prices in the United States and Europe slumped again yesterday on speculative selling by traders and general reluctance of consumers to make commitments pending clarification of the political and industrial situation throughout the world.

Copper futures in New York tumbled 0.42 to 0.55 cent a pound in an outburst of selling attributed to fears that the general break in metals would bring a reduction of the American domestic copper price below the present 14 cent level. September contracts closed at 11.80 cents a pound and October at 11.82 cents.

Export copper sales were reported as low as 12.95 cents a pound, the lowest price in many weeks. Final sales were made at about 13 cents a pound, compared with a closing price of 13.30 cents Saturday. Copper in London was quoted as low as an American equivalent of 12.94 cents a pound bid and 12.50 asked at one stage of trading.

Lead futures declined 0.20 cent a pound and nominal quotations for zinc and tin were sharply lower.

November butter closed at 34⅜ cents a pound, down ⅛ cent, on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Cash butter was unchanged. Cash eggs climbed ½ to 1 cent a dozen to the best levels since mid-January on announcement that combined Chicago and New York arrivals were 4,560 cases less than a year ago. Egg futures, however, closed unchanged.

U. S. TO SELL 25 MORE OBSOLETE CARGO VESSELS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The maritime commission offered 25 steel cargo vessels for sale today on which bids will be opened Oct. 20. Eighteen of the vessels are tied up at Staten Island, N. Y., and seven are at Fort Eustis, Va. Built during the world war, they are part of the government's laid-up fleet.

The commission prescribed conditions under which bids will be received. The first, taking into account possible foreign bids, provides that vessels shall not be operated except on one outward voyage and shall be dismantled within 18 months after purchase. The commission said scrap iron, scrap steel, coal, lumber or grain could be carried on the voyage.

IMPORTS OF CORN OVER 78 MILLION BUSHELS IN YEAR

Imports of Argentine, South African, and European corn into the United States from Nov. 1, 1936, the beginning of the current crop year, to July 31, 1937, aggregated 78,594,000 bushels, the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce reported yesterday. During the like period in 1935-'36 imports were 10,706,000 bushels. This season's imports established a new all-time record. Cash corn handlers yesterday expressed the belief that the imports during August, September and October would bring the season's total to more than 90,000,000 bushels.

While imports of many agricultural products into the United States during July were somewhat smaller than during the corresponding period in 1936, the aggregate imports during ing July were somewhat smaller than the Jan. 1-July 31 period were well ahead of the corresponding months in 1936: Comparative figures follow:

ASSOCIATED GAS COUNSEL CITED BY POWER BUREAU

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The federal power commission, interpreting a statement by C. Edward Paxson, counsel for subsidiaries of the Associated Gas and Electric company, as "an attempt to impugn the integrity of the commission," cited him today to show cause why he should not be barred from practice before it. Clyde L. Seavey, vice chairman of the commission, notified Paxson he has until Sept. 24 to explain why he should not be barred.

The commission said that Paxson, in a statement issued in New York concerning the withdrawal of seven officers and directors of the Associated Gas and Electric system, had been quoted as saying:

"These men resigned from the positions which they held because it was felt that the very considerable expense involved, legal and otherwise, as well as the loss of time of the individuals in attending the hearings which the federal power commission had called, were not justified, when there was reason to believe that the decision of the commission would be adverse, regardless of the merits of the matter."

Through Examiner Frank A. Hampton, the commission allowed the seven officers and directors of Associated Gas to withdraw their applications to hold interlocking positions in interstate public utility companies.

Treasury Sells Bill Issue at Rate of 0.441 Per Cent

Secretary Morgenthau announced yesterday the treasury sold $50,015,000 of 273 day treasury bills, dated Sept. 22 and maturing June 22, 1938, at an average price of 99.666, equivalent to a yield of 0.441 per cent annually on a bank discount basis.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Hybrid Corn Accepted

September 20, 1937.

HYBRID strains of corn have become generally accepted in northern Illinois. Farmers are using hybrids to produce ears and material for filling silos or to be cut and shocked for use as roughage.

On the Tribune farms hybrids are now being used almost exclusively; only a small acreage of the open pollinated varieties was planted this year. The managers of these farms, like other farmers in the corn belt, are today studying the hybrid strains that are best adapted to this section and that meet the farms' needs. They are making a study of the hybrids grown on neighboring farms as well as the strains raised in their own fields. By exchanging information on the different hybrids raised, farmers in the Wheaton community hope eventually to find the best strains to grow on their own farms.

The Wheaton farm manager joined a hundred or more other Du Page county farmers who made a preliminary inspection of thirty-seven different hybrid strains of corn on M. F. Lies' farm 2½ miles south of Wheaton on the Naperville road last Friday. All the hybrids growing in six different plots along with open pollinated varieties gave the farmers an opportunity to make comparisons. They had a chance to see what the corn looks like in the ripening stage before the plants are killed by frost.

Tests to Be Made.

Later when the corn is ready to pick various tests will be made to guide farmers in determining the best varieties. The ears will be weighed to find out the exact yield per acre. Tests will be made to determine the moisture content of the kernels, the maturing date of the different strains, the percentage of standing stalks at gathering time, and the yield per acre of silage material.

In conducting tours of farmers over the plots where each hybrid strain or variety was labled, H. S. Wright, Du Page county farm adviser, pointed out some hybrids that apparently mature too late before frost in the Wheaton community. Many strains, however, already are far enough along to escape damage from frost.

Planted on Same Day.

Mr. Lies planted all of the corn in the test plots on May 23, which is normal planting time in this section. When the corn is all harvested he will again give farmers a chance to tour the plots and review the final results.

The test is being made on the Lies farm with the coöperation of the Du Page county farm bureau and the state agricultural experiment station.

Mr. Wright says there should be plenty of hybrid seed corn available for planting next spring. He expects seed corn of both hybrids and open pollinated varieties to be lower in price than it was last spring.

PRICE OF CORN FOR SEPTEMBER DELIVERY DROPS

Declines 2½ Cents; Other Options Are Higher.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$1.05⅞	$1.03⅝	$1.13⅝
Corn	.63⅞	.62¾	.94¾
Oats	.30⅞	.30⅜	.94¾
Rye	.79⅞	.78¾	.81⅛
Soy beans	.95	.79⅝	.....

Speculative interest in September corn was much smaller yesterday than late last week and as a result it closed with a loss from last Saturday. An early break of 5½ cents early carried the price down to 99¼ cents a bushel, but a rally raised it to $1.05⅞. The grain declined later and it closed at $1.02½, a net loss of 2½ cents a bushel for the day. Other corn contracts were higher.

Fluctuations in September corn were rapid at times, and the execution of buying and selling orders for 10,000 bushels frequently resulted in the price changing ½ cent a bushel. Deliveries of 210,000 bushels of cash corn on September contracts failed to have much effect on the market.

Much to the surprise of the trade there was a decrease of only 126,000 bushels in the open interest in September corn as the result of Saturday's trading when the close was 8 cents a bushel lower. Uncompleted contracts when trading started yesterday aggregated 10,942,000 bushels.

Country Sells Cash Corn.

The country continued yesterday to sell cash corn freely, purchases aggregating 105,000 bushels, including 87,000 bushels of old grain. Receipts of 207 cars constituted the largest single day's arrival in some time. They included a car of new Texas No. 2 yellow which had been shipped on Sept. 15. St. Louis received 10 or 12 cars of new corn yesterday, including a car of No. 1 yellow from Missouri. Kansas City September corn closed 4 cents lower yesterday, the permissible limit, at 94 cents, or 8¼ cents under Chicago.

Heavy buying of December and May corn by houses with eastern connections developed yesterday. This caused a rally of more than 2 cents a bushel in the December price. The buying was generally regarded as short covering. Closing trades were at net gains of 1 to 1⅛ cents a bushel.

Wheat Closes Higher.

Wheat futures declined around 1 cent a bushel early in sympathy with Liverpool and on reports of beneficial rains in Argentina, only to rally sharply later on short covering and commission house buying.

Closing trades were ¼ to 2⅛ cents a bushel higher, the latter on September, which was only a small fraction of a cent under the December option at the close. Export demand was limited and only 250,000 bushels of Canadian grain were said to have been sold abroad.

Trade in oats and rye was light, but both rallied in sympathy with other grains. Soy beans declined about 1 cent a bushel.

COTTON

Cotton futures declined about onetenth cent a pound yesterday to new low levels since 1933, as the result of persistent selling attributed to hedging sales against the movement of the new crop. All deliveries except July dropped below the 9 cent a pound level despite buying attributed to trade interests.

Spot cotton closed .10 to .15 cent lower, with New Orleans at 8.70 cents; New York, 8.95 cents; Houston, 8.50 cents, and Galveston at 8.45 cents.

ORE MOVEMENT ON LAKES TOPS FURNACE NEEDS

Slackening in Shipments Expected Next Month.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Ore is now being brought down the lakes faster than it is being shipped forward to furnaces and a decrease in the movement is expected after Oct. 1.

While the movement up to Sept. 1 was the largest on record, stock piles on lake docks failed to show any appreciable increase until last month due to the brisk movement from docks to furnaces.

The balance at Lake Erie docks on Sept. 1, according to statistics compiled by the Lake Superior Iron Ore association, was 4,481,726 tons, against 4,150,072 tons a year ago. Stocks in 1929, the previous record shipping year, were 2,000,000 tons larger, however, than those of this season.

Ore Receipts Increase.

Vessels dumped 7,196,384 tons of ore on Lake Erie docks last month, bringing receipts for the season to 30,838,113 tons. This compares with 5,120,459 tons for August and 17,527,029 tons for the season last year.

Bituminous coal shipments declined in the week ended Sept. 13, but the movement is still more than 2,000,000 tons ahead of last year. Docks loaded 1,068,374 tons into the holds of freighters, against 1,212,786 tons in the same week last season. Shipments for the season up to Sept. 13 aggregated 30,747,913 tons, compared with 28,311,473 tons last year.

Coal shippers have reported an increased demand from upper lake ports, however, and weekly movements are not expected to drop below the million ton mark before the middle of next month or even later in the season.

Flow of Grain Continues.

The flow of grain, particularly wheat, into upper lake elevators continued in the week ended Sept. 11 and an increase of approximately 5,000,000 bushels was recorded in stocks at Fort William and Port Arthur.

Receipts at the two Canadian ports totaled 8,201,871 bushels and shipments were only 3,117,678 bushels. A listless buying movement and scarcity of tonnage to move cargoes are keeping the grain movement lethargic.

Everyday Economics

Check Book Money.

Most people think of goods being exchanged for money. This is true only to a limited extent. Approximately 90 per cent of the nation's business is transacted by checks drawn by individuals, corporations, or governmental bodies. This system of credit has speeded immeasurably the facility with which trade can be transacted.

Let us say you live in Madison, Wis. You receive a check for some goods you have sold a merchant in Dallas, Tex. This check will not circulate like money for it is only an order on a Dallas bank to pay you the amount contained in the check. What happens?

You deposit the check with your own bank which is a member of the federal reserve system. Your bank receives credit on a deferred basis as soon as the check and its letter of transmittal are received at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. By means of a private wire system, the interdistrict settlement fund, and bookkeeping entries, settlement of the check is effected immediately upon its presentation at the Dallas bank by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. In the meantime, however, you have had the use of your money through the deferred credit extended your Wisconsin bank.

The interdistrict settlement fund consists of gold certificates which are held on deposit with the governors of the system in Washington, D. C., by all 12 reserve banks, to settle transactions between them. Settlements are made at the end of each day by wire and bookkeeping entries.

STOCKS SLUMP, THEN RECOVER PART OF LOSSES

New Break Is Routed in Later Rally.

Utilities moved in a narrow range, with gains and losses evenly divided. Consolidated Edison worked higher and other leaders held unchanged to minor fractions lower. Electric Power and Light was actively traded.

The poor showing by steel shares was attributed by some brokers to the fact that short covering was fairly well completed. U. S. Steel retrieved part of its early loss to close 1½ points lower on the day. Other steels followed suit, Bethlehem dropping 1, Republic 1⅛, and Youngstown 1⅜.

In the farm equipments Deere staged a conspicuous recovery. Early offerings resulted in a 6 point drop, but buying later wiped away 5 points of that loss. Case behaved in similar fashion, losing 1⅝ on the day after being 7 points lower at one time. Oliver Farm Equipment worked back to its previous price, while International Harvester added a major fraction to Saturday's closing quotation.

Most Changes Small.

Among the rubbers, mail order stocks, aviation and oil issues, a gain here and there broke the monotony of losses, although many in these groups improved after making new low marks for the year. Most of the changes were fractional, however.

Chemicals worked sharply lower Allied, and Monsanto Chemical each off 6 points, led the group into lower territory.

Several preferred and individual issues failed to improve after registering sharp declines. Outstanding among them were Certain-teed preferred, off 12, General Cigar preferred, off 7, Hercules Powder, off 5, Republic Steel preferred, off 6, and Coca-Cola, off 5.

London Stocks Decline.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Stocks suffered another sinking spell on the London exchange today in selling attributed to the continued weakness in Wall street and uneasiness over the international situation. Industrial shares closed in new low ground for the year.

EXTRA DIVIDEND OF 50c VOTED BY LERNER STORES

Two Firms Fail to Take Action.

An extra dividend of 50 cents and the usual quarterly disbursement of the same amount were declared yesterday on common stock by directors of Lerner Stores corporation.

Ludwig, Baumann & Co. approved a dividend of $3.50 to apply on accumulations on its 7 per cent cumulative convertible first preferred stock. A payment of $1.75 on arrears was made Aug. 14.

Omit Common Payment.

K. Taylor Distilling company, Louisville, Ky., took no action on quarterly dividends on its common stock. The last payment was 7½ cents on July 1.

Directors of Brooklyn Manhattan Transit corporation also failed to vote the common dividend due at this time. On July 15 the company paid 50 cents, and on April 15 and Jan. 15 disbursements of $1 each were made.

Directors of the W. A. Sheaffer Pen company declared a dividend of $1 on the common stock. The previous payment was $1.25 in February.

"Sales Increased Considerably"

A question frequently asked is: "Does Credit Insurance restrict sales?" Quite the reverse. Secure from the menace of credit losses, you sell with greater vigor, greater confidence, greater success.

Credit Insurance brings guidance, not dictatorship, into your business. A policyholder (name on request) writes: "With the aid of your credit insurance policy, we have been enabled to increase our sales considerably."

American Credit Insurance

provides protection for your receivables more fully and economically than can otherwise be secured. It guarantees that your capital will not be lost in insolvent accounts or frozen in delinquent accounts. Your profits are assured the day you ship.

You can insure one debtor, groups of debtors, all debtors. Policies are liberal -- written to cover today's conditions. They include protection on "77-B." For full information, telephone or write this office.

Parker Wolverine Votes an Increase.

Stockholders of the Parker Wolverine company yesterday voted to increase authorized common stock from 120,000 to 200,000 shares and to issue 2 per cent convertible debentures for part payment of dividends on the shares as a means of conserving working capital. Company officials said that practically all earnings will be paid out either in cash or in debentures to avoid payment of the federal tax on undistributed profits. The company was formed in 1934 to acquire the enameling, plating, metal finishing and metal treatment business of Parker Rust-Proof company.

Stockholders of McCord Radiator and Manufacturing company will be asked at a special meeting Oct. 25 to approve the issuance of special stock in payment of accrued dividends on class A stock. Accruals on Dec. 31 totaled $19.50 a share.

Plan to Issue More Stock.

New Britain Machine company, Hartford, Conn., announced its directors have voted to issue 15,000 additional shares of authorized but unissued common stock before the end of the year. The stock will be offered to present stockholders in the ratio of one new share for each six held at $25 a share. Proceeds will be used for expansion.

A special meeting of stockholders of Chain Belt company has been called for Oct. 11 to vote on a plan to split the present no par capital stock three shares for one.

Burlington Brewing company, Chicago, yesterday filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange commission covering $200,000 of $100 par 5 per cent preferred stock to be sold to pay existing debts and to increase working capital.

Seek Funds for Investment.

Fundamental Investors filed a registration statement with the SEC covering 600,000 shares of $2 par capital stock, of which 416,109 shares will be sold to raise $8,938,021 for investment. The remaining 183,981 shares will be issued in exchange for present 25 cent par capital stock.

Holders of Republic of Uruguay dollar bonds will be offered new readjustment bonds carrying a generally higher rate of interest than the 3½ per cent currently being paid, Cesar Charlone, minister of finance of the republic, announced yesterday. The offer involves four issues aggregating $52,947,500 principal amount.

Receicers of the Wabash railroad announced that payment will be made of 80 per cent of the face amount of the coupon series No. 72 due Oct. 1, on the Wabash Railway company, Omaha division, first mortgage 3½ per cent bonds.

Railroads Report Gains in Week's Freight Trafic

Railroad freight trafic reports issued yesterday for last week showed substantial gains over the preceding week's loadings. Gains over last year varied from 1 to 12 per cent.

Government Bond Yields.

Investors' Guide: I shall appreciate very much information about United States government loans. I cannot understand why the 4s of 1954 at 111 yield only 2.34 per cent when the 2¾s of 1951 at 100 yield 2.75. Can you explain why a bond of 4 per cent brings less interest than one of 2¾ per cent when the difference in price is only $11?—A. N.

Answer: Explanation of the methods used in figuring interest yield on government bonds should answer your question. Yield on bonds is figured on the basis of yield to maturity, not on current yield in relation to interest rate and price. If a bond is selling above par, yield is figured, roughly, by deducting the amount of the premium paid from the amount of interest to be received before maturity and dividing the resulting total by the number of years to maturity. This is done because only the par amount of the bond is paid at maturity.

If a bond is selling for less than par the procedure is reversed. The gain from purchase price to par to be paid at maturity is as much a yield as the interest, and is added to the interest in figuring yield.

In the case of governments selling above par—as the 4s due in 1954 but callable beginning in 1944—yield is figured on the basis of the period remaining before the callable date. Thus, at a price of 110 these bonds yield about 2.34 per cent to maturity [call date] instead of 3.6 per cent which is the figure arrived at on a current basis—not considering the premium paid.

In the case of governments selling at less than par, yield is figured on the basis of the period to maturity.

The 2¾ per cent bonds due in 1954 and callable after 1951 are selling at about par. Hence, current yield and yield to maturity are practically the same because there is almost no discount or premium to be considered.

Lincoln Motor.

Investors' Guide: Does the old Lincoln Motor company stock have any value? I bought some in 1922.—Mrs. J. T.

Answer: The affairs of this company were wound up in receivership in United States District court for the eastern district of Michigan in 1927. The liquidation of assets did not provide funds sufficient to care for the debts in full and hence no equity remained for the stockholders. The assets of the company were purchased by the Ford Motor company at the receiver's sale.

LEGAL NOTICES.

IN THE COURT OF CHANCERY OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE, IN AND FOR NEW CASTLE COUNTY. In the matter of the RECEIVERSHIP OF PEABODY AND COMPANY.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that by virtue of an Order of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, in and for New Castle County, dated the 9th day of September, A. D. 1937, Harold B. Howard, Receiver of Peabody and Company, will expose to public auction and vendue on Friday, the 8th day of October, A. D. 1937, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at the County Court House in the City of Wilmington, New Castle County and State of Delaware, all of the assets of Peabody and Company consisting of certain bonds, stocks, other securities, accounts receivable and notes, and a general description of the assets to be sold may be obtained from Harold B. Howard, Receiver of Peabody and Company, Delaware Trust Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

TERMS OF SALE.

Said assets will be exposed to sale in one lot or in such parcels as the Receiver shall determine. The highest and best bidder for said property, or any part thereof, shall immediately deposit with the said Receiver in cash ten per centum [10%] of the amount of his bid. Should the amount of deposit by such bidder be insufficient the property struck off to such bidder shall immediately again be exposed to sale. The balance of the purchase price of said property bid shall be paid by the successful bidder or bidders thereof to the Receiver in cash on or before the date of the return hereof, and in the event that any person or persons shall fail to pay the balance of the amount of the bid, the ten per centum [10%] of said bid deposited with said Receiver shall be retained by said Receiver as liquidated damages and shall not be returned to such bidder and shall be held by the Receiver to defray the cost of a further sale of such property.

The Receiver shall make return of his proceedings under the order of sale at the Court Room of the Court of Chancery in the County Court House, Wilmington, Delaware, on the 13th day of October, A. D. 1937 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Exceptions to the sale or to the proceedings of the Receiver under the order of sale shall be filed in the office of the Register in Chancery in and for New Castle County, on or before the day fixed for the return of said sale, and exceptions so filed will be heard by the Court at the time of the return thereof.

HAROLD B. HOWARD, Receiver of Peabody and Company, Wilmington, Delaware, September 15, 1937.

NOTICE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that pursuant to the Power of Sale contained in that certain collateral note dated May 8, 1931, made by ADOLPH D. WEINER in the amount of Four Thousand [$4,000] Dollars due June 5, 1931, with interest thereon at the rate of six [6%] per cent per annum, the undersigned on the 24th day of September, A. D. 1937, at 10 [10:00] a. m. Central Standard Time, at the office of the Receiver of KAUFMAN STATE BANK, located at 7 South Dearborn street, in the City of Chicago, County of Cook and State of Illinois, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash, by reason of your default, all the collateral described in said collateral note, to-wit:

3 shares Central Republic Company stock.
4 shares American Canadian Props.

12 shares R. Hoe & Company "A" stock.
$850 Sutter Basin Corporation 6% Income bond.
10 shares Sutter Basin Corporation common stock.

The right is reserved to postpone the sale from time to time without further notice than announcement at the time and place appointed for the sale.

CHARLES H. ALBERS, Receiver for KAUFMAN STATE BANK, reserves all rights against ADOLPH D. WEINER on the note dated May 8, 1931, and the right to become the purchaser at said sale. Dated at Chicago, Illinois, this 17th day of September, A. D. 1937.
